Handbook of Global Urban Health Igor Vojnovic,Amber Pearson,Gershim Asiki,Geoff DeVerteuil,Adriana Allen,2019-05-09 Through interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary perspectives and with an emphasis on exploring patterns as well as distinct and unique conditions across the globe this collection examines advanced and cutting edge theoretical and methodological approaches to the study of the health of urban populations Despite the growing interest in global urban health there are limited resources available that provide an extensive and advanced exploration into the health of urban populations in a transnational context This volume offers a high quality and comprehensive examination of global urban health issues by leading urban health scholars from around the world The book brings together a multi disciplinary perspective on urban health with chapter contributions emphasizing disciplines in the social sciences construction sciences and medical sciences The co editors of the collection come from a number of different disciplinary backgrounds that have been at the forefront of urban health research including public health epidemiology geography city planning and urban design The book is intended to be a reference in global urban health for research libraries and faculty collections It will also be appropriate as a text for university class adoption in upper division under graduate courses and above The proposed volume is extensive and offers enough breadth and depth to enable it to be used for courses emphasizing a U S or wider Western perspective as well as courses on urban health emphasizing a global context

Sharing the Land, Sharing a Future Katherine Graham, David Newhouse, 2021-06-11 Sharing the Land Sharing a Future looks to both the past and the future as it examines the foundational work of the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples RCAP and the legacy of its 1996 report It assesses the Commission's influence on subsequent milestones in Indigenous Canada relations and considers our prospects for a constructive future RCAP's five year examination of the relationships of First Nations Metis and Inuit peoples to Canada and to non Indigenous Canadians resulted in a new vision for Canada and provided 440 specific recommendations many of which informed the subsequent work of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission of Canada TRC Considered too radical and difficult to implement RCAP's recommendations were largely ignored but the TRC reiterates that longstanding inequalities and imbalances in Canada's relationship with Indigenous peoples remain and quite literally calls us to action With reflections on RCAP's legacy by its co chairs leaders of national Indigenous organizations and the Minister of Crown Indigenous Relations and leading academics and activists this collection refocuses our attention on the groundbreaking work already performed by RCAP Organized thematically it explores avenues by which we may establish a new relationship build healthy and powerful communities engage citizens and move to action
