the development of his literary style examining the way he engages his readers and contextualizing his life and oeuvre in relation to London and to London life Thought provoking this collection of original essays represents the work of an outstanding list of White scholars from around the globe and will no doubt inspire further work on White from a rising generation of scholars of twentieth century literature beyond Australia

Otherness in the Novels of Patrick White Alma Budurlean, 2009 The central argument of the thesis the representation and reception of otherness is followed throughout White's novels with the support of a complex critical instrumentarium made up of postcolonial theory reader response theory cultural critical frameworks alterity theory and narratology Otherness in its manifold representations is a main component of Patrick White's fiction It functions on several levels and this requires a deeper entanglement on the part of the reader The different levels previously referred to are embodied in the various Others who people White's novels ethnic Others as members of the Australian multicultural society and the Aborigines as colonial Others as well as gender Others who also play an important role in White's fictional world Reading Patrick White is an exercise in tolerance endurance and acceptance of alternatives But the efforts of the reader do not remain unrewarded In his endeavour to change what it meant to imagine Australia the writer broke down the barriers of what it meant to imagine otherness

Why Bother with Patrick White, 2001 Website on Patrick White Includes a comprehensive biography excerpts of his works and opinions on his life and writing from those who knew him

Flaws in the Glass Patrick White, 1998 In this remarkable self portrait Patrick White explains how on the very rare occasions when he re reads a passage from one of his books he recognises very little of the self he knows This unknown is the man interviewers and visiting students expect to find but unable to produce him he prefers to remain private or as private as anyone who has been awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature can ever be In this book is the self Patrick White does recognise the one he sees reflected in the glass

The Outback Within Mark Byrne, 2016-09-23 What is it about the Australian outback For nearly two centuries narratives of outback journeys have been suffused with the aura of death Why It is not just that the desert is big dry hot and apparently empty The outback is Australia's mythological crucible and journeys there have become rites of passage It is where settler Australians go to die and perhaps be reborn This book explores the landscape of this evolving national mythology It argues that a more conscious engagement with the process of symbolic death and rebirth is needed for Australians to enter into a deeper understanding of themselves and their relationship to the land and its Indigenous people

Creating Communities Nourit Melcer-Padon, 2018-05-15 How does historical reality interrelate with fiction And how much are readers themselves involved in the workings of fictional literature With innovative interpretations of various well known texts Nourit Melcer Padon introduces the use of literary masks and illustrates literature's engagement of its readers ethical judgement She promotes a new perception of literary theory and of connections between thinkers such as Iser Castoriadis Sartre Jung and Neumann The book offers a unique view on the role of the community in post existentialist modern cultural reality by emphasizing the importance of ritual practices in literature as a cultural manifestation The Cambridge History of Australian Literature Peter Pierce, 2009-09-17 Draws on scholarship from leading figures in the field and spans Australian literary history from colonial origins indigenous and migrant literatures as well as representations of Asia and the Pacific and the role of literary culture in modern Australian society The Cambridge Companion to the Australian Novel Nicholas Birns, Louis Klee, 2023-03-02 This book provides a clear lively and accessible guide to the complex histories and vital present of the Australian novel Backgazing: Reverse Time in Modernist Culture Paul Giles, 2019-02-14 This volume trace ways in which time is represented in reverse forms throughout modernist culture from the beginning of the twentieth century until the decade after World War II Though modernism is often associated with revolutionary or futurist directions this book argues instead that a retrograde dimension is embedded within it By juxtaposing the literature of Europe and North America with that of Australia and New Zealand it suggests how this antipodean context serves to defamiliarize and reconceptualize normative modernist understandings of temporal progression Backgazing thus moves beyond the treatment of a specific geographical periphery as another margin on the expanding field of New Modernist Studies Instead it offers a systematic investigation of the transformative effect of retrograde dimensions on our understanding of canonical modernist texts The title backgazing is taken from Australian poet Robert G FitzGerald s 1938 poem Essay on Memory and it epitomizes how the cultural history of modernism can be restructured according to a radically different discursive map Backgazing intellectually reconfigures US and European modernism within a planetary orbit in which the literature of Australia and the Southern Hemisphere far from being merely an annexed margin can be seen substantively to change the directional compass of modernism more generally By reading canonical modernists such as James Joyce and T S Eliot alongside marginalized writers such as Nancy Cunard and others and relatively neglected authors from Australia and New Zealand this book offers a revisionist cultural history of modernist time one framed by a recognition of how its measurement is modulated across geographical space APAIS 1994: Australian public affairs information service , Suburban Space, the Novel and Australian Modernity Brigid Rooney, 2018-11-15 Suburban Space the Novel and Australian Modernity investigates the interaction between suburbs and suburbia in a century long series of Australian novels It puts the often trenchantly anti suburban rhetoric of fiction in dialogue with its evocative and imaginative rendering of suburban place and time Suburban Space the Novel and Australian Modernity rethinks existing cultural debates about suburbia in Australia and elsewhere by putting novelistic representations of suburbs suburban interiors homes streets forms and lives over time in dialogue with the often negative idea of suburbia in fiction as an amnesic and conformist cultural wasteland Suburban space the novel and Australian modernity shows in other words how Australian novels dramatize the collision between the sensory terrain of the remembered suburb and the cultural critique of suburbia It is through such contradictions that novels create resonant mental maps of place and time Australian novels are a prism through which suburbs as sites of everyday colonization defined by successive waves of urban development are able to be glimpsed sidelong APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information service , Intimate afterlives of empire Astrid Rasch, 2025-09-02 Through close readings of almost twenty autobiographies written after the break up of the British Empire the book examines how individuals engage with the changing narrative landscape brought about by decolonisation It considers the autobiographies less for what they may teach us about the moment remembered and more as windows on the act of remembering This adds a crucial dimension to our understanding of the legacies of colonialism and how the ongoing process of decolonisation is reflected on the level of the individual It argues that autobiographers are at once influenced by and seek to influence the cultural memory of empire and its legacies and the authors own position in both Situated at the intersection of imperial decolonisation history memory studies and life writing studies the book uncovers this intimate afterlife of empire Institutions and Gatekeeping in the Life Course Jutta

Allmendinger, 1902 The Cambridge Companion to Australian Literature Elizabeth Webby, 2000-08-21 An indispensable reference for the study of Australian literature The Routledge Companion to Australian Literature Jessica Gildersleeve, 2020-12-22 In recent years Australian literature has experienced a revival of interest both domestically and internationally The increasing prominence of work by writers like Christos Tsiolkas heightened through television and film adaptation as well as the award of major international prizes to writers like Richard Flanagan and the development of new high profile prizes like the Stella Prize have all reinvigorated interest in Australian literature both at home and abroad This Companion emerges as a part of that reinvigoration considering anew the history and development of Australian literature and its key themes as well as tracing the transition of the field through those critical debates It considers works of Australian literature on their own terms as well as positioning them in their critical and historical context and their ethical and interactive position in the public and private spheres With an emphasis on literature s responsibilities this book claims Australian literary studies as a field uniquely positioned to expose the ways in which literature engages with produces and is produced by its context provoking a critical re evaluation of the concept of the relationship between national literatures cultures and histories and the social function of literary texts
