Adults as Learners K. Patricia Cross,1992-04-16 A superb substantive book and one that should cause us to think about the learning society and how we are going to plan for it now and in the future Adult Learning Television and the Exceptional Child Joyce Sprafkin,Kenneth D. Gadow,Robert Abelman,2013-10-23 The question of what types of children are most influenced by or can best benefit from television is a recurrent theme in the scientific literature as well as a frequently raised issue for pediatric associations educators and parent citizen groups concerned about the welfare and advancement of young children To effectively address this question this book focuses on a wide variety of children with highly divergent cognitive abilities social skills and educational capacities that is those labeled as emotionally disturbed learning disabled mentally retarded and intellectually gifted These children not only possess characteristics that place them at the greatest risk with regard to television's negative impact but also in a position to most benefit from the purposeful use of the medium at home and in the classroom Combining literature from the fields of mass communication developmental psychology and special education the authors present a comprehensive analysis of television and its forgotten audience Practical implications and applications in the home and school are also extracted from research findings making this volume a valuable resource for students educators and researchers in the fields of communication and special education and for the parents and teachers of exceptional children Toward A Literate World Edward Palmer,2019-04-17 This book documents the creation and evaluation of the Al Manaahil television series which set out to teach Arabic language and reading skills to Arab children of elementary school age It also discusses the economics of television in education Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1980 Children and the Faces of Television Edward L.
