Patterns in Contrast Jarle Ebeling, Signe Oksefjell Ebeling, 2013-09-17 Combining the fields of phraseology and contrastive analysis this book describes how patterns defined as recurrent word combinations with semantic unity behave cross linguistically As the contrastive approach adopted in the book relies on translations and a bidirectional corpus model the first part offers an in depth discussion of contrastive linguistics with special emphasis on using translations as tertium comparationis and a parallel corpus as the main source of material Central to the contrastive analysis is the use of corpus linguistic methods in the identification of patterns while a deeper understanding of the phraseological nature of the patterns is closely related to the concept of extended units of meaning The second part of the book presents five case studies using an easy to follow step by step method to illustrate the phraseological contrastive approach at work The studies show that patterns weave an intricate web of meanings across languages and demonstrate the potential of exploring patterns in contrast

The End of Deuteronomy in the Epistles of Paul Guy Prentiss Waters, 2006 Originally presented as the author's thesis doctoral Duke University 2002 Diffractional Reading Kai Merten, 2021-05-27 Putting the New Materialist figure of diffraction to use in a set of readings in which cultural texts are materially read against their contents and their themes against their readers or against other texts this volume proposes a critical intervention into the practice of reading itself In this book reading and reading methodology are probed for their materiality and re considered as being inevitably suspended between or diffracted with both matter and discourse The history of literary and cultural reading including poststructuralism and critical theory is revisited in a new light and opened up for a future in which the world and reading are no longer regarded as conveniently separate spheres but recognized as deeply entangled and intertwined Diffractional Reading ultimately represents a new reading of reading itself firstly by critiquing the distanced perspective of critical paradigms such as translation and intertextuality in which texts encountered processed or otherwise subdued secondly showing how all literary and cultural readings represent different agential cuts in the world text reader constellation which is always both discursive and material and thirdly the volume materializes dynamizes and politicizes the activity of reading by drawing attention to reading's intervention in and co creation of the world in which we live Concurrent Programming in Java Douglas Lea, 2000 Software Programming Languages Doom Patterns Maia Gil'Adí, 2024-11-01 In Doom Patterns Maia Gil Ad takes up speculative fiction as a site for theorizing Latinx identity across national and ethnic borders and shows the vital role of historical trauma in its formation Her analysis moves beyond reparative modes of reading to consider how literary representations of violence destruction and pain also elicit pleasurable affective and aesthetic experiences Gil Ad theorizes the paradox of pleasurable violence through the notion of doom patterns narrative devices that include thematic repetition nonlinear narration character fragmentation and unresolved plots Doom patterns return the reader to instances of historical violence and destruction revealing them as excessive and otherworldly processes that require the tropes of speculative fiction Examining novels by established Latinx authors such as Junot Díaz and Cristina García as well as multiethnic writers such as Colson Whitehead and Jessi Foster Gil Ad challenges definitions of what constitutes Latinx literature and notions of the speculative by dismantling generic boundaries and entrenched definitions of race ethnicity and nationhood In so doing she allows for a more capacious consideration of the speculative realism history and the role of violence in literature The Descent from the Mountain Martin Ravndal Hauge, 2001-01-01 This close reading of Exodus 19

40 focuses on the repetition of the encounter on the mountain This double encounter is expressed in a narrative structure of preparatory episodes climaxed by the theophany The tension of the narrative is linked to the people as the unlikely heroes of encounter and solved by the divine descent from the divine mountain to the man made tent The new situation of permanent encounter is foregrounded by the juxtaposed stories of pre and post Sinai journey and the theme of the substitution of Moses underlines a radical reinterpretation of traditional concepts inviting the reader to embark on a process of identification
