Paula Rego Paula Rego, 2006 Published to accompany the exhibition held at Marlborough Fine Art Gallery London 11 October 18 November 2006 Making Waves Anniversary Volume Ann Davies, Parvathi Kumaraswami, Claire Williams, 2021-02-10 Gender and women s studies have formed part of the academic landscape for many years but while the field is now established enough to have developed in depth and perspectives there remain many areas of significance yet to be explored most significantly much of the work carried out has remained rooted in the Anglo American context Those working outside this context are increasingly aware of the need to understand women in different cultural contexts in order to determine whether to what extent and how representations of women and cultural contexts are interactive and dynamic concepts The current volume contributes to the growing interest in the field of women and culture in the Hispanic and Lusophone worlds and shows how women writers researchers teachers and students have always made waves to counteract the complacency prejudice and tradition that threatens to ignore or subsume them The volume draws on literary study the starting point for much of the early work on gender in Spain the Lusophone world and Latin America but also goes beyond it to discuss women s interaction not only with literature but also with art and language itself in the Hispanic and Lusophone contexts It acts as a showcase for contemporary scholarship undertaken in Hispanic and Lusophone gender studies developing earlier insights and forging new ones to refine the debate continuing in the subject The contributors include both established scholars with a proven track record and promising newcomers to the field The volume arises from the individual research projects and sustained discussions of Women in Spanish Portuguese and Latin American Studies WiSPs an organisation that exists to promote scholarship by and about women in the field of Iberian Lusophone and Latin American Studies This volume celebrates the first seven years of WiSPs s life and presents some of the research presented under its auspices at annual conferences and study days The Sacred and the Feminine Griselda Pollock, Victoria Turvey-Sauron, 2007-11-28 The notion of a special intimacy between the feminine and the sacred has received significant attention since the publication of Julia Kristeva and Catherine Clement's famous ecumenical conversation of the same name which focussed on the relationship between meaning and the body at whose interface the feminine is positioned Brought to the wider public as the sacred feminine it has also made its mark on popular culture Taking up the debate and moving beyond anthropology or theology writers from varied ethnic geo cultural and religious perspectives here join with secular cultural analysts to explore the sacred and the feminine in art architecture literature art history music philosophy theology critical theory and cultural studies The book addresses key issues in feminist questions of creativity the imaginary and the sacred as otherness exploring the ways in which visual practices have explored this rich contested and highly charged territory

Mother of God Miri Rubin, 2009-04-21 A sweeping ambitious study of the Virgin Mary's emergence and role throughout Western history How did the Virgin Mary about whom very little is said in the Gospels become one of the most powerful and complex religious figures in the world To arrive at the answers to this far reaching question one of our foremost medieval historians Miri Rubin investigates the ideas practices and images that have developed around the figure of Mary from the earliest decades of Christianity to around the year 1600 Drawing on an extraordinarily wide range of sources including music poetry theology art scripture and miracle tales Rubin reveals how Mary became so embedded in our culture that it is impossible to conceive of Western history without her In her rise to global prominence Mary was continually remade and reimagined by wave after wave of devotees Rubin shows how early Christians endowed Mary with a fine ancestry why in early medieval Europe her roles as mother bride and companion came to the fore and how the focus later shifted to her humanity and unparalleled purity She also explores how indigenous people in Central America Africa and Asia remade Mary and so fit her into their own cultures Beautifully written and finely illustrated this book is a triumph of sympathy and intelligence It demonstrates Mary's endless capacity to inspire and her profound presence in Christian cultures and beyond

Writing and Seeing Rui Manuel G. de Carvalho Homem, Maria de Fátima Lambert, 2006 The essays in this volume are informed by a variety of theoretical assumptions and of critical methodologies but they all share an interest in the intersections of word and image in a variety of media This unifying rationale secures the present collection's central position in the current critical context defined as it predominantly is by ways of reading that are based on a relational nexus The intertextual the intermedial the intersemiotic are indeed foregrounded and combined in these essays conceptually as much as in the critical practices favoured by the various contributions Studies of literature in its relation to pictorial genres enjoy a relative prominence in the volume but the range of media and of approaches considered is broad enough to include photography film video television comic strips animated film public art material culture The backgrounds of contributors are likewise diverse culturally academically linguistically The volume combines contributions by prominent scholars and critics with essays by younger scholars from a variety of backgrounds The resulting plurality of perspective is indeed a source of new insights into the relations between writing and seeing and it contributes to making this collection an exciting new contribution to word and image studies N. Paradoxa ,2007 International feminist art journal
