Multiculturalism in Higher Education C. Spencer Platt,Adriel A. Hilton,Christopher Newman,Brandi Hinnant-Crawford,2020-03-01 As the educational landscape of America continues to evolve and diversify college faculty and administrators must be cutting edge in their approaches to create a variety of educational experiences with a greater level of multicultural cognizance Unlike in previous generations higher education in the 21st Century is no longer a luxury reserved for the elite and wealthy but is an increasing necessity for access to labor markets Community colleges and universities are working hard to respond to the demands of the labor market by attempting to provide skills for jobs that may not yet exist Colleges and universities should aim to make all of their students feel welcome and a part of the campus being committed to celebrating differences Additionally filling faculty seats with varied races cultures perspectives and identities will aid in providing mentors and role models everyone can relate to These are some of the vital steps toward building a campus community that helps students develop a sense of belonging that allows them to persist and thrive in college The scholarship in this volume illustrates the state of multicultural education on college and university campuses The authors bridge foundational knowledge with contemporary understandings making the work both accessible for novices and beneficial for the authorities on multicultural education This volume provides thoughtful discourse on issues ranging from the racial and ethnic diversity of the student and faculty bodies and important topics like disability issues to different educational contexts such as community colleges HBCUs and HSI institutions

White Privilege and Racism: Perceptions and Actions Carole L. Lund,Scipio A. J. Colin,2010-04-19 White privilege is viewed by many as a birthright and is in essence an existentialist norm that is based upon the power and privilege of pigmentation Because it is the norm for the white race this privilege is virtually invisible but its racist byproducts are not It becomes common for white to believe falsely that their privilege was earned by hard work and intellectual superiority it becomes the center of their worldview The reality is that when they defend their pigmentary privilege what they are really saying is that peoples of color have earned their disadvantage This volume focuses on facilitating our understanding of the conceptual correlation between white privilege and racism and how these intertwined threads are manifested in selected areas of adult and continuing education practice Chapters include White Racist Ideology and the Myth of a Postracial Society The Nature of White Privilege in the Teaching and Training of Adults Racism and White Privilege in Adult Education Graduate Programs Admissions Retention and Curricula Whiteness at Work in Vocational Training in Australia White Privilege in Human Resource Development Immigration Racial Profiling and White Privilege Community Based Challenges and Practices for Adult Educators A Living Spiral of Understanding Community Based Adult Education The Intersections of White Privilege and Racism Moving Forward Together the contributors have assembled a volume to ignite the much needed discussion of linkages between the white racist ideology white privilege and white attitudes and behaviors behind that racism This is the 125th volume of the Jossey Bass higher education quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education Noted for its depth of coverage New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education is an indispensable series that explores issues of common interest to instructors administrators counselors and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings such as colleges and universities extension programs businesses libraries and museums

Becoming Socialized in Student Affairs Administration

Ashley Tull,Joan B. Hirt,Sue Saunders,2023-07-03 Effective socialization of new student affairs professionals is essential both for the individual success of these practitioners and for the work of a college or university that promotes student learning It enables new professionals to manage the important personal and professional transitions they experience throughout their careers engage in continuous professional development and achieve high levels of productivity It also counteracts the high attrition rate among new hires with all the attendant costs to the institution in terms of resources spent on recruiting hiring training supervising and developing staff talent The socialization process for new professionals includes formal and informal elements that influence both success and quality of work life This process is far more complex than a single orientation program organized by a unit or division Rather it is a comprehensive process where both the new professional and organization learn about and from each other in ways that influence working relationships and individual and organizational outcomes Part I of this book defines the concept explains its value and offers a model of socialization Part II examines the institutional context in which the socialization of new professionals occurs and describes how different institutional types influence the socialization process It considers the changing characteristics of college students and how these impact the work of student affairs In addressing the extra institutional and professional contexts Part III considers the role that graduate education plays in preparing new professionals for work in student affairs and offers guidance to faculty and practitioners involved in graduate education about what they can do to introduce graduate students to professional life It addresses the importance of professional orientation activities the roles of supervision and mentorship as well as the impact of peers and institutions on the socialization process It concludes with a discussion of the role and importance of professional associations This book is intended for graduate program faculty for senior student affairs officers concerned about developing and retaining the new staff and for administrators and leaders in student affairs shaping the future of the profession For new professionals themselves it offers insights on the path to professionalization Global Perspectives on the Internationalization of Higher Education Branch, John D.,Durnali, Mehmet,2023-02-24 Transnational higher education was triggered largely by the marketization of higher education which itself manifests in such characteristics as academic rankings institutional branding and an emphasis on managerialism Recent advances in technology and the global COVID 19 pandemic have also driven a virtual internationalization of higher education with universities expanding their digital footprints overseas accelerating their distance education offerings and exploring such innovations as virtual exchange programs Global Perspectives on the Internationalization of Higher Education documents contemporary perspectives on the internationalization of higher education and considers its history throughout the years in order to understand potential future directions Covering key topics such as student recruitment institutional branding and student mobility this premier reference source is ideal for administrators principals researchers academicians practitioners scholars instructors and students

Higher Education ,2023-11-02 COVID wrought havoc on the world s economic systems Higher education did not escape the ravages brought on by the pandemic as institutions of higher education around the world faced major upheavals in their educational delivery systems Some institutions were prepared for the required transition to online learning Most were not Whether prepared or not educators rose to the challenge The innovativeness of educators met the challenges as digital learning replaced the face to face environment In fact some of the distance models proved so engaging that many students no longer desire a return to the face to face model As with all transitions some things were lost while others were gained This book examines practice in the field as institutions struggled to face the worst global pandemic in the last century The book is organized into four sections on Perils and Promises The State of Online Education Goals and Challenges of Online Learning and Innovations in the Age of COVID It presents various perspectives from educators around the world to illustrate the struggles and triumphs of those facing new challenges and implementing new ideas to empower the educational process These discussions shed light on the impact of the pandemic and the future of higher education post COVID Higher education has been forever changed and higher education as it once was may never return While many questions arise the achievements in meeting and overcoming the pandemic illustrate the creativity and innovativeness of educators around the world who inspired future generations of learners to reach new heights of accomplishment even in the face of the pandemic
