communications faites lors de deux colloques internationaux sur les rapports entre la Grande Bretagne et le continent européen au XVIII^e siècle. Une moitié des communications est de nature littéraire, touchant quelques uns des auteurs britanniques les plus marquants de l'époque examinés dans leurs liens intellectuels avec l'Europe qui les influence ou qui les influencent. L'autre moitié contient des études sur les mœurs observées par les voyageurs sur les représentations et images réiproques. Viennent également au jour les rivalités entre les pays dans le domaine de l'rudition orientaliste ainsi que la situation des habitants du Nord et l'cosse en marge de l'Europe mais souvent enjeu politique pour l'Europe. La gravure satirique enfin a largement sa place avec un article sur les caricatures de Hogarth.

in Eighteenth-Century English Literature Louis A. Landa, 2017-03-14. This volume contains a selection of the major essays written over a period of three decades by a distinguished scholar of eighteenth century English literature. In each essay Professor Landa attempts to show how cultural and intellectual assumptions and presuppositions of the age have been assimilated into the literary works. Originally published in 1980, The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.

Reading 1759 Shaun Regan, 2013. Reading 1759 investigates the literary culture of a remarkable year in British and French history writing and ideas. Familiar to many as the British year of victories during the Seven Years War, 1759 was also an important year in the histories of fiction, philosophy, ethics, and aesthetics. Reading 1759 is the first book to examine together the range of works written and published during this crucial year. Offering broad coverage of the year's work in writing, these essays examine key works by Johnson, Voltaire, Sterne, Adam Smith, Edward Young, Sarah Fielding, and Christopher Smart, along with such group projects as the Encyclopédie and the literary review journals of the mid-eighteenth century. Organized around a cluster of key topics, the volume reflects the concerns most important to writers themselves in 1759. This was a year of the new and the modern as writers addressed current issues of empire and ethical conduct, forged new forms of creative expression, and grappled with the nature of originality itself. Texts written and published in 1759 confronted the history of Western colonialism, the problem of prostitution in a civilized society, and the limitations of linguistic expression. Philosophical issues were also important in 1759, not least the thorny question of causation while in France state censorship challenged the Encyclopédie, the central Enlightenment project. Taking into its purview such texts and intellectual developments, Reading 1759 puts the literary culture of this singular and singularly important year on the scholarly map. In the process the volume also provides a self reflective contribution to the growing body of annualized studies that focus on the literary output of specific years The Lincoln Library of Essential Information ,1924
