Retooling For The Logistics Revolution:

Retooling for the Logistics Revolution. Designing Marine Corps Inventories to Support the Warfighter, 2000 In 1996 Marine Corps leaders recognizing the need to improve logistics processes and supply support to the Fleet Marine Force FMF implemented the Precision Logistics program One of the key ideas of Precision Logistics is envisioning logistics as a set of integrated processes actions occur in a linked chain with outputs from one source being transformed into inputs that satisfy the next link in the chain Logistics then becomes an unbroken chain of activities linking many actors all aimed at achieving an overarching goal of providing efficient and effective warfighter support to sustain military operations in continuously faster better and cheaper fashion While this concept is expressed in military specific terminology the idea is just as applicable to many civilian manufacturing and repair operations and is often referred to as supply chain management in the current logistics literature

Retooling for the Logistics Revolution Ronald D. Fricker, Marc L. Robbins, 2000 This report presents new inventory management techniques to help the Marine Corps continue to improve logistics and repair processes The authors advocate two modern computational methods bootstrapping the ROP and dollar banding And demonstrate via simulations that these new tools lead to dramatically improved supply system performance for the Marine Corps In particular using actual data from a Marine Expeditionary Force General Account they show significant improvements in all supply system performance metrics they also demonstrate the benefit of reducing order and ship times for the Marines The improvements result not only in more fiscally efficient operation but also in better delivery of retail supply to the ultimate user the Marine warfighter The results are broadly applicable across the Marine Corps the other military services and the civilian business sector

Velocity Management John Dumond, 2001 Velocity management brought a new way of doing business to U S Army logistics with a renewed focus on the Army customer and an approach for process improvement that cuts across time quality and cost The authors reveal the motivations methodology and management structure behind the initiative the process improvements that have led to such quick and impressive results and the steps that have been taken to develop and institutionalize the capabilities needed to achieve and sustain future improvement Lessons learned can be readily adapted for other business models

Retooling HR John W. Boudreau, 2010 HR professionals have made major strides toward becoming strategic partners But they need to do more by generating value through savvy decisions about talent HR leaders typically assume that to make such decisions they must develop sophisticated analytical tools from scratch Even then the resulting tools often fail to engage their peers In Retooling HR John Boudreau shows how HR leaders can break this cycle by adapting powerful analytical tools already used by other functions to the unique challenges of talent management Drawing on his research and examples from companies including Google Disney IBM and Microsoft Boudreau explains six proven business tools leaders already use And he shows how HR can apply these tools to talent management Examples include Using engineering tolerances to find pivot points that job descriptions miss Using inventory and supply chain analytics to ensure a ready supply of the right talent Applying logistics tools to optimize succession planning and leadership development Adapting consumer research tools to find untapped value in total rewards Retooling HR builds on Boudreau's bestselling book Beyond HR which traces HR's evolution as a decision science For HR professionals seeking to sharpen their decision making prowess this provocative new book blazes an innovative new path US Military Innovation since the Cold War Harvey Sapolsky, Benjamin Friedman, Brendan Green, 2009-04-28 This book explains how the US military reacted to the Revolution in Military Affairs RMA and failed to innovate its organization or doctrine to match the technological breakthroughs it brought about Many called for the transformation of the US military in the years after the end of the Cold War seeking the changes in organization and doctrine that would complete the RMA innovation and a commitment to counter insurgency peace keeping and nation building missions This volume describes the origins uses and limits of the RMA technologies examines how each of the five US armed services categorising the Special Operations as a separate service made their adjustments both to the technologies and the use of force and how the role of the civilian officials and the defense industry altered in this process of change and avoidance of change The book examines the internal politics of the services as well as civil military relations to identify the external pressures on the services for significant change in their doctrine and weapons Many have noted the failure of the services to innovate in what can be called the Second Inter war Period the years after the Cold War This book offers explanations for this failure and arguments about the possible range and desirability of military innovation in the post Cold war era This book will be of great interest to students of strategic studies US defence politics military studies and US politics Harvey M Sapolsky is Professor of Public Policy and Organization in the Department of Political Science at MIT and former Director of the Security Studies Program Benjamin H Friedman is a Research Fellow in Defense and Homeland Security Studies at the Cato Institute and a Ph D Candidate in Political Science at MIT Brendan Green is a Ph D Candidate in Political Science at MIT and an affiliate of the Security Studies Program

Haberman of the Uniform Code Council one of the founding fathers of the UPC bar code and Allan Boath of the Gillette Company we developed a plan for a new industry funded research consortium at MIT Haberman wanted to call it the Center For Automatic Identification And Data Capture At the last minute I persuaded him to abbreviate it to the Auto ID Center But my luck with names is hit and miss inspired by the bar code I had the bad idea of calling Auto ID Center's technology UPC2 Brock and Sarma saved the day one of them I cannot remember which proposed a far better alternative EPC for electronic product code The Auto ID Center opened on October 1 1999 P G loaned me to MIT to act as Executive Director and Sunny Siu was the first Research Director
