Retreat Of Reason A Dilemma In The Philosophy Of Life:

The Retreat of Reason Ingmar Persson, 2005-11-03 One of the main original aims of philosophy was to give us guidance about how to live our lives The ancient Greeks typically assumed that a life led in accordance with reason a rational life would also be the happiest or most fulfilling Ingmar Persson's book resumes this project which has been largely neglected in contemporary philosophy But his conclusions are very different by exploring the irrationality of our attitudes to time our identity and our responsibility Persson shows that the aim of living rationally conflicts not only with the aim of leading the most fulfilling life but also with the moral aim of promoting the maximization and just distribution of fulfilment for all Persson also argues that neither the aim of living rationally nor any of the fulfilment aims can be rejected as less rational than any other We thus face a dilemma of either having to enter a retreat of reason insulated from everyday attitudes or making reason retreat from its aspiration to be the sole controller of our attitudes The Retreat of Reason explores three areas in which there is a conflict between the rational life and a life dedicated to maximization of fulfilment Persson contends that living rationally requires us to give up first our temporal biases secondly our bias towards ourselves and thirdly our responsibility to the extent that it involves the notion of desert and desert entailing notions But giving up these attitudes is so overwhelmingly hard that the effort to do so not only makes our own lives less fulfilling but also obstructs our efficient pursuit of the moral aim of promoting a maximum of justly distributed fulfilment Ingmar Persson brings back to philosophy the ambition of offering a broad vision of the human condition The Retreat of Reason challenges and disturbs some of our most fundamental ideas about ourselves Routledge Philosophy GuideBook to Mill on Utilitarianism Roger Crisp, 2002-09-11 Mill was one of the most important British philosophers of the nineteenth century his Utilitarianism is a pivotal work in ethical thought This book written specifically for students coming to Mill and perhaps philosophy for the first time will be an ideal guide Mill on Utilitarianism introduces and assesses Mill's life and the background of Utilitarianism the ideas and text of Utilitarianism the continuing importance of Mill's work to philosophy This is the first book dedicated to Utilitarianism itself Concisely written and engaging it is perfect reading for those studying Mill or moral philosophy Autonomy, Rationality, and Contemporary Bioethics Jonathan Pugh, 2020 What should we do when autonomy and rationality seem to be in conflict in medical decision making as when there seems no good reason for a patient's wishes Jonathan Pugh offers a new framework for thinking about the concept of autonomy grounded in an understanding of the different roles that rational beliefs and rational desires have to play The Blackwell Guide to Ethical Theory Hugh LaFollette, Ingmar Persson, 2013-04-16 Building on the strengths of the highly successful first edition the extensively updated Blackwell Guide to Ethical Theory presents a complete state of the art survey written by an international team of leading moral philosophers A new edition of this successful and highly regarded Guide now reorganized and updated with the addition of significant new material Includes 21 essays written by an international team of leading philosophers Extensive substantive essays develop the main arguments of all the leading viewpoints in ethical theory Essays new to this edition cover evolution and ethics capability ethics virtues and consequences and the implausibility of virtue ethics Armstrong's Materialist Theory of Mind Peter R. Anstey, David Braddon-Mitchell, 2022 Armstrong's Materialist Theory of Mind is one of a handful of texts that began the physicalist revolution in the philosophy of mind In this collection distinguished philosophers examine what we still owe to it how to expand it as well as looking back on how it came about Revisiting Kant's Universal Law and Humanity Formulas Sven Nyholm, 2015-07-24 This book offers new readings of Kant's universal law and humanity formulations of the categorical imperative It shows how on these readings the formulas do indeed turn out being alternative statements of the same basic moral law and in the process responds to many of the standard objections raised against Kant's theory Its first chapter briefly explores the ways in which Kant draws on his philosophical predecessors such as Plato and especially Plato's Republic and Jean Jacques Rousseau The second chapter offers a new reading of the relation between the universal law and humanity formulas by relating both of these to a third formula of Kant's viz the law of nature formula and also to Kant's ideas about laws in general and human nature in particular The third chapter considers and rejects some influential recent attempts to understand Kant's argument for the humanity formula and offers an alternative reconstruction instead Chapter four considers what it is to flourish as a human being in line with Kant's basic formulas of morality and argues that the standard readings of the humanity formula cannot properly account for its relation to Kant's views about the highest human good Preference and Information Dan Egonsson, 2016-12-05 Is it important to our quality of life that the preferences we satisfy are rational and well informed Standard preferentialist theories allege that a person's preferences and their satisfaction are the correct measure of well being In preference sensitive theories preferences are important but do not count for everything This raises the question of whether we ought to make demands on these preferences In this book Egonsson presents a critical analysis of the Full Information Account of the Good which claims that only the satisfaction of rational and fully informed preferences has value for a person The problems he deals with include how is an information requirement to be formulated and shaped Is it possible to design a requirement that is both neutral to the agent's epistemic situation and reasonable Is the requirement reasonable Does it make sense to claim that some are better off if we satisfy the preferences they would have had in some merely hypothetical circumstances This is an important new book on preference rationality which will be of great interest to academics and students of ethics quality of life and rationality Religion, Intolerance, and Conflict Steve Clarke, Russell Powell, Julian Savulescu, 2013-05-30 The relationship between religion intolerance and conflict is the subject of intense discussion particularly in the context of the ongoing threat of terrorism This book contains papers written by scholars in anthropology psychology philosophy and theology exploring the scientific and conceptual dimensions of religion and human conflict Egalitarianism Nils Holtug, Kasper Lippert-Rasmussen, 2006-11-30 Egalitarianism the view that equality matters attracts a great deal of attention amongst contemporary political theorists And yet it has turned out to be surprisingly difficult to provide a fully satisfactory egalitarian theory The cutting edge articles in Egalitarianism move the debate forward They are written by some of the leading political philosophers in the field Recent issues in the debate over equality are given careful consideration the distinction between telic and deontic egalitarianism prioritarianism and the so called levelling down objection to egalitarianism whether egalitarian justice should have whole lives or some subset thereof as its temporal focus the implications of Scanlon s contractualist account of the value of choice for egalitarian justice and the question of whether non human animals fall within the scope of egalitarianism and if so what the implications are Numerous classic issues receive a new treatment too how egalitarianism can be justified and how if at all this value should be combined with other values such as desert liberty and sufficiency how to define the worst off for the purposes of Rawls difference principle Elizabeth Anderson s feminist account of equality of relations how equality applies to risky choices and in particular whether it is justifiable to restrict the freedom of suppliers who wish to release goods that confer different levels of risk on consumers depending on their ability to pay Finally the implications of egalitarianism and prioritarianism for health care are scrutinized The contributors to the volume are Richard Arneson Linda Barclay Thomas Christiano Nils Holtug Susan Hurley Kasper Lippert Rasmussen Dennis McKerlie Ingmar Persson Bertil Tungodden Peter Vallentyne Andrew Williams and Jonathan Wolff

Oxford Studies in Metaethics Russ Shafer-Landau, 2011 Oxford Studies in Metaethics is the only publication devoted exclusively to original philosophical work in the foundations of ethics It provides an annual selection of much of the best new scholarship being done in the field Its broad purview includes work being done at the intersections of ethical theory with metaphysics epistemology philosophy of language and philosophy of mind The essays included in the series provide an excellent basis for understanding recent developments in the field those who would like to acquaint themselves with the current state of play in metaethics would do well to start here
