Scatology And Civility In The English Canadian Novel:

Scatology and Civility in the English-Canadian Novel Reinhold Kramer, 1997 Except as eighteenth century satiric invective scatology has almost never been the subject of a full length study this despite the insistent references to bodily functions in postwar Canadian literature This eccentric and interdisciplinary study provides a full listing of examples of scatology in a wide range of Canadian novels from the nineteenth century to the present and in so doing develops another kind of thematic approach to Canadian prose Since pollution rites are a culture specific language scatology sets up categories of class race and gender although Kramer argues that material signifiers refer to the world and are never purely rhetorical Scatology as used by Canadian novelists thus raises epistemological problems alternately undermining and naturalizing political ideologies and religious beliefs

The (Un)Certain Future of Empathy in Posthumanism, Cyberculture and Science Fiction Elsa Bouet, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2015 This volume investigates the future of empathy as contemplated by posthumanism cyberculture and science fiction As humanity increasingly networks and communicates online the reconfiguration of human communities through the removal and immediacy of the body challenges traditional notions of humanity and human capacity for empathy The impact of cyberculture and posthumanism on humanity and its capacity for empathy is here assessed through research in literature films neuroscience anthropology and philosophy This volume addresses the centrality of the body to human interactions and assesses how intrinsic it is to the defining of the human The exploration of posthuman narratives which display futuristic bodily modifications also engages with the anxieties and hopes for the future of human empathy Research in dystopian narratives shows that these anxieties are also expressed without the tropes of bodily modifications and that ideological distancing creates the conditions necessary for a lack of empathy towards otherness

Tony Harrison Edith Hall, 2021-01-14 This is the first book length study of the classicism of Tony Harrison one of the most important contemporary poets in England and the world It argues that his unique and politically radical classicism is inextricable from his core notion that poetry should be a public property in which communal problems are shared and crystallised and that the poet has a responsibility to speak in a public voice about collective and political concerns Enriched by Edith Hall's longstanding friendship with Harrison and involvement with his most recent drama inspired by

Euripides Iphigenia in Tauris it also asserts that his greatest innovations in both form and style have been direct results of his intense engagements with individual works of ancient literature and his belief that the ancient Greek poetic imagination was inherently radical Tony Harrison's large body of work for which he has won several major and international prizes and which features on the UK National Curriculum ranges widely across long and short poems plays translations and film poems Having studied Classics at Grammar School and University and having translated ancient poets from Aeschylus to Martial and Palladas Harrison has been immersed in the myths history literary forms and authorial voices of Mediterranean antiquity for his entire working life and his classical interests are reflected in every poetic genre he has essayed from epigrams and sonnets to original stage plays translations of Greek drama and Racine to his experimental and harrowing film poems where he has pioneered the welding of tightly cut video materials to tightly phrased verse forms This volume explores the full breadth of his oeuvre offering an insightful new perspective on a writer who has played an important part in shaping our contemporary literary landscape

Kim,2022-04-05 Exploring why there is so much fecal matter in literary works that matter Cacophonies takes fecal matter and its place in literature seriously Readers and critics have too long overlooked excrement's vital role in the twentieth and twenty first century French canon In a stark challenge to the tendency to view this literature through sanitizing abstractions Annabel L Kim undertakes close readings of key authors to argue for feces as a figure of radical equality both a literary object and a reflection on literature itself without which literary studies is impoverished and sterile Following the fecal through line in works by C line Beckett Genet Sartre Duras and Gary and the contemporary authors Anne Garr ta and Daniel Pennac Kim shows that shit far from vanishing from the canon after the early modern period remains present in the modern and contemporary French literature that follows She argues that all the shit in the canon expresses a call to democratize literature making literature for all just as shit is for or of all She attends to its presence in this prized element of French identity treating it as a continually uttered desire to manifest the universality France aspires to as encapsulated by the slogan Libert galit fraternit but fails to realize In shit there is a concrete universalism that traverses bodies with disregard for embodied differences Cacophonies reminds us that literature and the ideas to be found therein cannot be separated from the corporeal envelopes that create and receive them In so doing it reveals the aesthetic political and ethical potential of shit and its capacity to transform literature and life Are We Postmodern Yet? Reinhold Kramer,2019-11-08 In this book Reinhold Kramer explores a variety of important social changes including the resistance to objective measures of truth the rise of How I Feel ethics the ascendancy of individualism the immersion in cyber simulations the push toward globalization and multilateralism and the decline of political and religious faiths He argues that the displacement since the 1990s of grand narratives by ego based narratives and small narratives has proven inadequate and that selective adherence pluralist adaptation and humanism are more worthy replacements Relying on evolutionary psychology as much as on Charles Taylor Kramer argues that no single answer is possible to the book title's question but that the term postmodernity referring to the era not to postmodernism still usefully describes major currents within the contemporary world British Journal of Canadian Studies ,1997 Caribbean and South Asian Writers in Canada Mary Kandiuk,2007-01-26 This is the first bibliography of both new and established Caribbean and South Asian writers living in Canada The writers included in this volume are responsible for some of the most interesting writing coming out of Canada today While the work of these writers is attracting worldwide attention and acclaim literary criticism relating
