Research Guide to Cartographic Resources Eva H. Dodsworth, 2018-09-22 The interdisciplinary uses of traditional cartographic resources and modern GIS tools allow for the analysis and discovery of information across a wide spectrum of fields A Research Guide to Cartographic Resources navigates the numerous American and Canadian cartographic resources available in print and online offering researchers academics and students with information on how to locate and access the large variety of resources new and old Dozens of different cartographic materials are highlighted and summarized along with lists of map libraries and geospatial centers and related professional associations A Research Guide to Cartographic Resources consists of 18 chapters two appendices and a detailed index that includes place names and libraries structured in a manner consistent with most reference guides including cartographic categories such as atlases dictionaries gazetteers handbooks maps plans GIS data and other related material Almost all of the resources listed in this guide are categorized by geography down to the county level making efficient work of the type of material required to meet the information needs of those interested in researching place specific cartographic related resources Additionally this guide will help those interested in not only developing a comprehensive collection in these subject areas but get an understanding of what materials are being collected and housed in specific map libraries geospatial centers and their related websites Of particular value are the sections that offer directories of cartographic and GIS libraries as well as comprehensive lists of geospatial datasets down to the county level This volume combines the traditional and historical collections of cartography with the modern applications of GIS based maps and geospatial datasets A Selective Bibliography on Imagery Reconnaissance and Related

Matters Robert A. McDonald, 1993 Scholars' Guide to Washington, D.C., for Peace and International Security Studies Robert W. Janes, Katherine R. Tromble, 1995 A survey of Washington D C area collections organizations and agencies this Scholars Guide describes scholarly resources for peace studies and international security studies Among other topics coverage includes disarmament environmental issues international law military history and peace theory and research Four hundred twenty one institutions are covered out of more than 750 surveyed in the course of the project Collections include libraries archives art and museum collections map recording photo and film collections and data banks Organizations include research centers information offices university programs government agencies and associations For each directory information is given along with a description of relevant resources and activities in terms of size content and organization of collections programs and products published and unpublished classified and unclassified Scholars Guide to Washington D C for Peace and International Security Studies is the fifteenth in the series of Scholars Guides edited by Zdenek V David librarian at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington D C It was prepared in collaboration with the United States Institute of Peace Anthropological Resources Lee S. Dutton, 2013-05-13 This work provides access to information on the rich and often little known legacy of anthropological scholarship preserved in a diversity of archives libraries and museums Selected anthropological manuscripts papers fieldnotes site reports photographs and sound recordings in more than 150 repositories are described Coverage of resources in North American repositories is extensive while Great Britain France the Netherlands Australia and certain other countries are more selectively represented Entries are arranged by repository location and most contributors draw upon a special knowledge of the resources described Contributors include James R Glenn National Anthropological Archives Elizabeth Edwards and Veronica Lawrence Pitt Rivers Museum University of Oxford Francisco Demetrio S J Museum and Archives Xavier University Philippines and many others The guide covers selected documentation in social and cultural anthropology physical anthropology archaeology and folklore Some major area studies collections such as the Asia Collections Cornell University Libraries and the Melanesian Archive at the University of California San Diego are also represented Web URLs have been cited when available and personal and ethnic name indexes are provided Guide to Historical Research at the National Agriculture Library Susan Chapman, 1994 Annual Report - The Wilson Center Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, 1988 Classics in Cartography Martin Dodge, 2011-06-15 Classics in Cartography provides an intellectually driven reinterpretation of a selection of ten touchstone articles in the development of mapping scholarship over the last four decades The classics are drawn exclusively from the international peer review journal Cartographica and are reprinted in full here They are accompanied by newly commissioned reflective essays by the original article authors and other eminent scholars to provide fresh interpretation of the meaning of the ideas presented and their wider lasting impact on cartographic research The book provides an equal balance of influential articles from the past and current commentaries which highlight their impact and current context Read in combination the original classic articles and these new reflective essays demonstrate how cartography works as a powerful representational form and explores how various different aspects of mapping practice have been conceptualized by an influential set of academic researchers Collates classic articles from four decades of the journal Cartographica Brings key articles up to date with contemporary interpretative essays by the leading scholars in mapping research Themes covered are the epistemological of mapping practice the ontological underpinnings of cartographic representation and the contested societal implications of maps Evaluates the progression of the field of cartographic research and demonstrates how new theoretical ideas originate develop and circulate Provides a signpost for students and new researchers on the key articles in cartography to read and reflect upon Cartographies of Travel and Navigation James R. Akerman, 2010-11-15 Finding one's way with a map is a relatively recent phenomenon In premodern times maps were used if at all mainly for planning journeys in advance not for guiding travelers on the road With the exception of navigational sea charts the use of maps by travelers only became common in the modern era indeed in the last two hundred years maps have become the most ubiquitous and familiar genre of modern cartography Examining the historical relationship between travelers navigation and maps Cartographies of Travel and Navigation considers the cartographic response to the new modalities of modern travel brought about by technological and institutional developments in the twentieth century Highlighting the ways in which the travelers operators and planners of modern transportation systems value maps as both navigation tools and as representatives of a radical new mobility this collection brings the cartography of travel by road sea rail and air to the forefront placing maps at the center of the history of travel and movement Richly and colorfully illustrated Cartographies of Travel and Navigation ably fills the void in historical literature on transportation mapping Scholar's Guide to Washington D.C. for Southwest European Studies Joan Florence Higbee,1989-08-04 1979-1990 Henryk Sawoniak,2012-02-14 No detailed description available for 1979 1990 Annual Report Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars,1993 Mapping It Out Mark Monmonier,2024-05-31 Writers know only too well how long it can take and how awkward it can be to describe spatial relationships with words alone And while a map might not always be worth a thousand words a good one can help writers communicate an argument or explanation clearly succinctly and effectively In his acclaimed How to Lie with Maps Mark Monmonier showed how maps can distort facts In Mapping it Out Expository Cartography for the Humanities and Social Sciences he shows authors and scholars how they can use expository cartography the visual two dimensional organization of information to heighten the impact of their books and articles This concise practical book is an introduction to the fundamental principles of graphic logic and design from the basics of scale to the complex mapping of movement or change Monmonier helps writers and researchers decide when maps are most useful and what formats work best in a wide range of subject areas from literary criticism to sociology He demonstrates for example various techniques for representing changes and patterns different typefaces and how they can either clarify or confuse information and the effectiveness of less traditional map forms such as visibility base maps frame rectangle symbols and complementary scatterplot designs for conveying complex spatial relationships There is also a wealth of practical information on map compilation cartobibliographies copyright and permissions facsimile reproduction and the evaluation of source materials Appendixes discuss the benefits and limitations of electronic graphics and pen and ink drafting and how to work with a cartographic illustrator Clearly written and filled with real world examples Mapping it Out demystifies mapmaking for anyone writing in the humanities and social sciences A useful guide to a subject most people probably take too much for granted It shows how map makers translate abstract data into eye catching cartograms as they are called It combats cartographic illiteracy It fights cartophobia It may even teach you to find your way Christopher Lehmann Haupt The New York Times The New Nature of Maps J. B. Harley,2002-10-03 In these essays the author draws on ideas in art history literature philosophy and the study of visual culture to subvert the traditional positivist model of cartography and replace it with one grounded in an iconological and semiotic theory of the nature of maps Special Reference Briefs ,1983
