2 Corinthians: A Social Identity Commentary Philip Esler, 2021-09-23 Philip F Esler provides a comprehensive coverage of the issues in 2 Corinthians from the perspective of social identity with a focus on Paul's leadership Esler enlists social identity theory in critical dialogue with existing scholarship to show how Paul sought to persuade the Corinthian Christ followers to adopt certain views on four critical issues that had arisen in his relationship with them with his discourse demonstrably reflecting the ancient Mediterranean culture they shared Two introductory chapters set out those four issues summarise the events reflected in 1 and 2 Corinthians make an initial case for the integrity of the letter against partition theories explain and defend the use of social identity theory in biblical interpretation and describe the social identity approach to leadership In the commentary Esler explores how Paul re-establishes his leadership role by reconnecting with the Corinthians urges their participation in the collection for Jerusalem and defends his position against recently arrived opponents all the while reinforcing his addressees social identity as Christ followers Prominent features of the commentary fostered by its social identity perspective include its cumulative case for the letter's unity for Paul's opponents being similar to those in Galatia and for the interweaving of social and theological dimensions in the text

The Fear of God in 2 Corinthians 7:1 Euichang Kim, 2019-02-21 Euichang Kim focuses upon the phrase the fear of God drawn from 2 Corinthians exhortation to reconcile with God As opposed to these words appearing from no particular source Kim points to the wider contexts of Old Testament passages quoted by Paul and demonstrates that

God's eschatological promises in particular his coming judgment his promise to redeem his people and the prospect of a new covenant are intertwined with this motif of fear Beginning with an analysis of the meaning of fear in both the Old Testament and the New Kim proceeds to the context of fear within 2 Corinthians Scripture the writings of Second Temple Judaism and the very eschatology of Paul suggesting that it stems from an awareness of God's judgment to come and serves to motivate righteous behavior Kim finally argues that in the context of 2 Corinthians the fear of God functions as the proper response to God's saving acts in Christ and provides motivation for believers to pursue a holy life in anticipation of the eschatological judgment to come

Jesus' Blood and Righteousness Brian Vickers,2010-10-26 The question of whether Paul teaches that Christ s righteousness is imputed to the believer has been debated for roughly four hundred years Some of the questions that arise are What is the connection between Adam and the rest of the human race How did Christ fulfill the role of the second or new Adam How can the ungodly stand before a righteous God In Jesus Blood and Righteousness Brian Vickers investigates the key Pauline texts linked historically to the topic of imputation Though Vickers spends a good deal of time on the particulars of each text he keeps one eye on the broader biblical horizon like any doctrine imputation must be investigated exegetically and synthetically This book and its conclusion that the imputation of Christ s righteousness is a legitimate and necessary synthesis of Paul s teaching is a valuable contribution to the ongoing debate on imputation Biblical Theology of prayer in the New Testament Francois P. Viljoen,Albert J. Coetsee,2023-08-31 This publication deals with a biblical theology of prayer based on the New Testament It forms the second of a two volume publication on a biblical theology of prayer dealing with the concept of prayer in the Old and New Testament respectively This New Testament volume begins with an introduction on prayer and worship in early Jewish tradition followed by eleven chapters dealing with New Testament corpora It concludes with a final chapter synthesising the findings of the respective investigations of the Old and New Testament corpora to provide a summative theological perspective of the development of the concept of prayer through scripture Prayer forms a major and continuous theme throughout the biblical text Prayer was an integral part of the religious existence of God s people in both the Old and New Testament It underwent its greatest developments during after and as a result of the Exile and was deepened and transformed in the New Testament In both the Old and the New Testament God is the sole addressee of his people s prayer This conviction continued into the New Testament but was broadened with Trinitarian elements of worship adoration and intercession A biblical theological investigation is chosen as methodology Since all the biblical books form part of one canonical text the assumption is that the various theologies about prayer being displayed in these books can be synthesised into a developing meta theology about prayer As the Old and New Testament form part of the canonical text the results about prayer in the Old Testament can be brought into play with the results about prayer in the New Testament This eventually leads toward an overarching biblical theology of prayer Grasping God's Word, Fourth Edition J.
