The Guide to the Perplexed Moses Maimonides, 2024-05-28 A landmark new translation of the most significant text in medieval Jewish thought Written in Arabic and completed around 1190 the Guide to the Perplexed is among the most powerful and influential living texts in Jewish philosophy a masterwork navigating the straits between religion and science logic and revelation The author Rabbi Moses ben Maimon commonly known as Maimonides or as Rambam was a Sephardi Jewish philosopher jurist and physician He wrote his Guide in the form of a letter to a disciple But the perplexity it aimed to cure might strike anyone who sought to square logic mathematics and the sciences with biblical and rabbinic traditions In this new translation by philosopher Lenn E Goodman and historian Phillip I Lieberman Maimonides warm conversational voice and clear explanatory language come through as never before in English Maimonides knew well the challenges facing serious inquirers at the confluence of the two great streams of thought and learning that Arabic writers labeled aql and naql reason and tradition The aim of the Guide he wrote is to probe the mysteries of physics and metaphysics But mysteries to Maimonides were not conundrums to be celebrated for their obscurity They were problems to be solved Maimonides methods and insights resonate throughout the work of later Jewish thinkers rationalists and mystics and in the work of philosophers like Thomas Aquinas Spinoza Leibniz and Newton The Guide continues to inspire inquiry discovery and vigorous debate among philosophers theologians and lay readers today Goodman and Lieberman s extensive and detailed commentary provides readers with historical context and philosophical enlightenment giving generous access to the nuances complexities and profundities of what is widely agreed to be the most significant textual monument of medieval Jewish thought a work that still offers a key to those who hope to harmonize religious commitments and scientific understanding The Christian God Richard Swinburne, 1994 In this pivotal volume of a tetralogy Oxford University s Richard Swinburne builds a rigorous metaphysical system for describing the world which he applies to assessing the validity of the Christian tenets of the Trinity and the Incarnation An important work in the philosophy of religion Efficient Predictive Algorithms for Image Compression Luís Filipe Rosário Lucas, Eduardo Antônio Barros da Silva, Sérgio Manuel Maciel de Faria, Nuno Miguel Morais Rodrigues, Carla Liberal Pagliari, 2017-02-09 This book discusses efficient prediction techniques for the current state of the art High Efficiency Video Coding HEVC standard focusing on the compression of a wide range of video signals such as 3D video Light Fields and natural images The authors begin with a review of the state of the art predictive coding methods and compression technologies for both 2D and 3D multimedia contents which provides a good starting point for new researchers in the field of image and video compression New prediction techniques that go beyond the standardized compression technologies are then presented and discussed In the context of 3D video the authors describe a new predictive algorithm for the compression of depth maps which combines intra directional prediction with flexible block partitioning and linear residue fitting New approaches are described for the compression of Light Field and still images which enforce sparsity constraints on linear models The Locally Linear Embedding based prediction method is investigated for compression of Light Field images based on the HEVC technology A new linear prediction method using sparse constraints is also described enabling improved coding performance of the HEVC standard particularly for images with complex textures based on repeated structures Finally the authors present a new generalized intra prediction framework for the HEVC standard which unifies the directional prediction methods used in the current video compression standards with linear prediction methods using sparse constraints Experimental results for the compression of natural images are provided demonstrating the advantage of the unified prediction framework over the traditional directional prediction modes used in HEVC standard

 Philosophy Jyl Gentzler,1998 Method in Ancient Philosophy brings together fifteen new specially written essays by leading scholars on a broad subject of central importance It is characteristic of human beings that they direct their activities by reasoning Methods of reasoning even toward the same ends vary Self conscious reflection on the methods of reasoning marks the beginning of philosophy in the West examination of how the ancient Greeks reasoned and how they thought about methods of reasoning helps us to see how they came to hold the views they did and how we have come to think as we do For the views of the ancients have had a considerable influence upon our own assumptions about the demarcations between different kinds of enquiry and the sorts of methods that are appropriate for them The aims of the volume are thus both exegetical and philosophical Most of the essays focus on Socrates Plato or Aristotle but earlier and later ancient philosophy is brought into the picture by essays on Eleatic and Epicurean thought Cooperative Control and Optimization Robert important or are they merely a matter of how we use words What is the proper methodology for their resolution These questions have received a heightened degree of attention lately with new varieties of ontological deflationism and pluralism challenging the kind of realism that has become orthodoxy in contemporary analytic metaphysics This volume concerns the status and ambitions of metaphysics as a discipline It brings together many of the central figures in the debate with their concrete examples effectively conveys the properties of the ordinary least squares OLS estimator and the nature of heteroskedasticity and autocorrelation Coverage includes omitted variables binary response models basic time series and simultaneous equations The authors teach students how to construct their own real world data sets drawn from the internet which they can analyze with Excel R or with other econometric software The accompanying web site with text support can be found at www.wabash.edu/econometrics The Liberation of Life Charles Birch, John B. Cobb, 1985-01-10 This book is about the liberation of the concept of life from the bondage fashioned by the interpreters of life ever since biology began and about the liberation of the life of humans and non humans alike from the bondage of social structures and behaviour which now threatens the fullness of life's possibilities if not survival itself It falls into a tradition of writings about human problems from a perspective informed by biology It rejects the mechanistic model of life dominant in the Western world and develops an alternative ecological model which is applicable to the life of the cell and the life of the human community For the first time it brings together in one work the insights of modern biology with those of a modern holistic philosophy and a liberal theology in a way which challenges conventional approaches to science agriculture sociology politics economics development and liberation movements

Virtual and Augmented Architecture (VAA'01) Bob Fisher, Kenneth Dawson-Howe, Carol O'Sullivan, 2001-06-18 This book focuses on the use of computer vision and graphics in architecture It arose from a convergence of several hot topics 1 visualization of built environments for engineering historical and other purposes 2 virtual reconstruction of architecture from visual data of existing structures whether via photogrammetric or range sensing techniques and 3 augmentation of video data of architecture with useful information The focus here is on architecture and how to present it enhance its abilities make it easier to understand and make it accessible to a larger public Collective interest in this topic led to the International Symposium on Virtual and Augmented Architecture whose papers are contained in this book As editors we were very pleased about how well the different papers chosen gave a nice focus to the topic and conference It is clear that there are many different research approaches still active in this area this makes it an exciting time We hope that this book captures that excitement and succeeds in bringing it to you

Early Scholastic Christology 1050-1250 Richard Cross, 2024-09-16 This book traces developments in Christology and specifically the metaphysics of the union of divine and human natures in one person from 1050 the age of Anselm of Canterbury to 1250 the age of Albert the Great During the first part of the period the key issue is the conflict between Augustine's homo assumptus assumed man Christology defended by the Victorines and that of Boethius's Chalcedonian Christology defended by Gilbert of Poitiers sometimes known as the subsistence theory By 1180 the latter of these was almost universally accepted A third view apparently accepted by Peter Lombard among others according to which it is not true that Christ as man is something the non aliquid Christology was condemned in 1177 The second part of the book traces the way in which theologians attempted to develop the presentation of Conciliar Christology by working out inchoate solutions to some of the metaphysical questions that the issue raises what is the nature of the hypostatic union between the two natures or the human nature and the divine person is it something created or something uncreated And given that the human nature is a particular substance what prevents it from being a person Theologians used insights from both of the rejected theories the homo assumptus Christology and the non aliquid Christology in attempting to answer these issues The early thirteenth century saw both the founding of the universities of Paris and Oxford and the founding of the Franciscan and Dominican orders The book explores the impact of these religious identities on the formation of Christological teaching
