Secret Sanction:

Secret Sanction Brian Haig, 2001 Sean Drummond is the Army's most brilliant lawyer and he has been chosen to head the investigation of a military scandal which has caused a global outcry. The world media blames a U.S. Special Forces team assigned to a central European region of committing a cold-blooded massacre but Drummond uncovers a conspiracy of frightening proportions.

Secret Sanction Brian Haig, 2001 It was the worst military scandal since My Lai: an elite US army special forces team positioned behind enemy lines had violated standing orders and butchered a patrol of 25 Serbian soldiers in cold blood. There were no survivors; half of them were shot in the back of the head and their leader had been decapitated. There was no explanation and no obvious motive but the repercussions were already global. Now Major Sean Drummond has to go to Kosovo and find out just what happened and somehow clear up after this horrific crime. But with CIA obstruction, Army hostility, the murder of a top journalist and a possible traitor in his own crew, Drummond quickly finds himself over his head and under serious fire.

Abuse of Dominant Position and Globalization & Protection and Disclosure of Trade Secrets and Know-How Pranvera Këllezi, Bruce Kilpatrick, Pierre Kobel, 2017-05-05 This publication provides an unparalleled comparative analysis of two hot topics in the field of antitrust and unfair competition law with regard to a number of key countries. The first part of the book examines the prohibition of abuse of a dominant position and globalization in relation to two broad questions: first, whether there is consistency between the approaches of different jurisdictions to the notion of abuse; and second, whether there are too many restrictions on legal rights and business opportunities resulting from the prohibition of abuse of dominance. The international report drafted by Professor Pinar Akman reveals that there are as many similarities as differences between the approaches of the twenty-one jurisdictions studied and presented in this book. This is an invitation to read the excellent international report as well as the reports on specific jurisdictions in order to grasp the variety of arguments and approaches of this antitrust area which may on the surface appear alike. The second part gathers contributions on the question of protection and disclosure of trade secrets and know-how from various jurisdictions. The need for adequate protection of trade secrets has increased due to digitalization and the ease with which large volumes of misappropriated information can be reproduced. The comprehensive international report prepared by Henrik Bengtsson brings together these reflections by comparing various national positions The book also discusses the resolutions passed by the General Assembly of the International League of Competition Law LIDC following a debate on each of these topics and includes proposed solutions and recommendations U.S. Economic Sanctions Against Chile United States. A History of England Charles Oman,1903 A History of England Charles Oman,2018-01-19 IN the dim dawn of history our island was a land of wood and marsh broken here and there by patches of open ground and pierced by occasional track ways which threaded the forest and circled round the edges of the impassable fen The inhabited districts of the country were not the fertile river bottoms where population grew thick in after days these were in primitive times nothing but sedgy water meadows or matted thickets Men dwelt rather on the thinly wooded upland where if the soil was poor it was at any rate free from the tangled undergrowth that covered the valleys It was on the chalk ridges of Kent or Wilts or the moorland hills of Yorkshire or Cornwall rather than on the brink of the Thames or Severn that the British tribes clustered thick Down by the rivers there were but small settlements of hunters and fishers perched on some knoll that rose above the brake and the rushes The London Quarterly Review William Lonsdale Watkinson,William Theophilus Davison,1904

The German Lieutenant August Strindberg,1915 It was fourteen days after Sedan in the middle of September 1870 A former clerk in the Prussian Geological Survey later a lieutenant in the reserve named Von Bleichroden sat in his shirt sleeves before a writing table in the Caf du Cercle the best inn of the little town Marlotte He had thrown his military coat with its stiff collar over the back of a chair and there it hung limp and collapsed like a corpse with its empty arms seeming to clutch at the legs of the chair to keep itself from falling headlong Round the body of the coat one saw the mark of the sword belt and the left coat tail was rubbed quite smooth by the sheath The back of the coat was as dusty as a high road and the lieutenant geologist might have studied the tertiary deposits of the district on the edges of his much worn trousers When the orderlies came into the room with their dirty boots he could tell by the traces they left on the floor whether they had been walking over Eocene or Pleiocene formations He was really more a geologist than a soldier but for the present he was a letter writer He had pushed his spectacles up to his forehead sat with his pen at rest and looked out of the window
