Feminism as Life's Work Mary K. Trigg,2014-06-23 With suffrage secured in 1920 feminists faced the challenge of how to keep their momentum going As the center of the movement shrank a small self appointed vanguard of modern women carried the cause forward in life and work Feminism as Life's Work profiles four of these women the author Inez Haynes Irwin the historian Mary Ritter Beard the activist Doris Stevens and Lorine Pruette a psychologist Their life stories told here in full for the first time embody the changes of the first four decades of the twentieth century and complicate what we know of the period Through these women's intertwined stories Mary Trigg traces the changing nature of the women's movement across turbulent decades rent by world war revolution global depression and the rise of fascism Criticizing the standard division of feminist activism as a series of historical waves Trigg exposes how Irwin Beard Stevens and Pruette helped push the U S feminist movement to victory and continued to propel it forward from the 1920s to the 1960s decades not included in the wave model At a time widely viewed as the doldrums of feminism the women in this book were in fact taking the cause to new sites the National Women's Party sexuality and relations with men marriage and work and financial independence In their utopian efforts to reshape work sexual relations and marriage modern feminists ran headlong into the harsh realities of male power the sexual double standard the demands of motherhood and gendered social structures In Feminism as Life's Work Irwin Beard Stevens and Pruette emerge as the heirs of the suffrage movement guardians of a long feminist tradition and catalysts of the belief in equality and difference Theirs is a story of courage application and perseverance a story that revisits the bleak and lonely years of the U S women's movement and emerges with a fresh perspective of the history of this pivotal era

The Politics of Irony in American Modernism Matthew Stratton, 2013-11-01 Shortlisted for the 2015 Modernist Studies Association Book Prize This book shows how American literary culture in the first half of the twentieth century saw irony emerge as a term to describe intersections between aesthetic and political practices Against conventional associations of irony with political withdrawal Stratton shows how the term circulated widely in literary and popular culture to describe politically engaged forms of writing It is a critical commonplace to acknowledge the difficulty of defining irony before stipulating a particular definition as a stable point of departure for literary cultural and political analysis This book by contrast is the first to derive definitions of irony inductively showing how writers employed it as a keyword both before and in opposition to the institutionalization of New Criticism It focuses on writers who not only composed ironic texts but talked about irony and satire to situate their work politically Randolph Bourne Benjamin De Casseres Ellen Glasgow John Dos Passos Ralph Ellison and many others

Women Making Modernism Erica Gene Delsandro, 2020-01-06 Challenging the tendency of scholars to view women writers of the modernist era as isolated artists who competed with one another for critical and cultural acceptance Women Making Modernism reveals the robust networks women created and maintained that served as platforms and support for women's literary careers This volume shows how women's writing communities interconnected to generate a current of energy innovation and ambition that was central to the modernist movement

Baggett, 2023-10-15 Making No Compromise is the first book length account of the lives and editorial careers of Margaret Anderson and Jane Heap the women who founded the avant garde journal the Little Review in Chicago in 1914 Born in the nineteenth century Midwest Anderson and Heap grew up to be iconoclastic rebels living openly as lesbians and advocating causes from anarchy to feminism and free love Their lives and work shattered cultural social and sexual norms As their paths crisscrossed Chicago New York Paris and Europe two World Wars and a parade of the most celebrated artists of their time they transformed themselves and their journal into major forces for shifting perspectives on literature and art Imagism Dada surrealism and Machine Age aesthetics were among the radical trends the Little Review promoted and introduced to US audiences Anderson and Heap published the early work of the men of 1914 Ezra Pound James Joyce William Butler Yeats and T S Eliot and promoted women writers such as Djuna Barnes May Sinclair Dorothy Richardson Mina Loy Mary Butts and the inimitable Baroness Elsa von Freytag Loringhoven In the mid 1920s Anderson and Heap became adherents of George I Gurdjieff a Russian mystic and in 1929 ceased publication of the Little Review Holly A Baggett examines the roles of radical politics sexuality modernism and spirituality and suggests that Anderson and Heap s interest in esoteric questions was evident from the early days of the Little Review Making No Compromise tells the story of two women who played an important role in shaping modernism      Dressed for Freedom Einav Rabinovitch-Fox, 2021-11-16 Often condemned as a form of oppression fashion could and did allow women to express modern gender identities and promote feminist ideas Einav Rabinovitch Fox examines how clothes empowered women and particularly women barred from positions of influence due to race or class Moving from 1890s shirtwaists through the miniskirts and unisex styles of the 1970s Rabinovitch Fox shows how the rise of mass media culture made fashion a vehicle for women to assert claims over their bodies femininity and social roles She also highlights how trends in women's sartorial practices expressed ideas of independence and equality As women employed new clothing styles they expanded feminist activism beyond formal organizations and movements and reclaimed fashion as a realm of pleasure power and feminist consciousness A fascinating account of clothing as an everyday feminist practice
