The Secret Heart of the Clock Elias Canetti, 2021-12-14 From one of the preeminent intellectual figures of the twentieth century a highly personal testimonial of what Canetti himself chooses to term notations bits and pieces notes aphorisms fragments Taken together they present an awesomely tender guiltily gloomy meditation on death and aging A mosaical portrait of an old body s mind determined to do its exercises and not lose a step and fascinating for that Kirkus Reviews

Interculturality in Fragments Fred Dervin, 2022-10-28 This book continues the author s long term reflections over 20 years of scholarship and experience in intercultural communication education around the fascinating and yet contestable notion of interculturality in education As an unstable and polysemic notion interculturality deserves to be opened up again and again and there is a need to engage with it continuously observing critiquing and problematizing its complexities This book urges researchers students and interculturalists to take the time to think carefully and deeply about interculturality and to find inspiration beyond the dominating Western ideological world of intercultural research and education This book starts from short fragments written by the author for himself over a period of one year In these short statements and notes about interculturality the author reflects creatively on the questions he had in mind at the time of writing and offers some temporary answers which in turn are questioned and revised Over the 1000 fragments that the author wrote he selected about 100 for which he wrote commentaries referring to and reviewing current research and debates on interculturality in the process One of the specificities of the book is to be highly multidisciplinary to help us get used to looking for inspiration in other fields of research and creativity The fragments can be read randomly the reader may open the book at any page and pick any fragment The author suggests reading each individual fragment first and then the accompanying explanatory texts While reading them the reader is also invited to reflect on any potential addition to what the author wrote anything they might disagree with anything they would have wanted to discuss with the author Questions have been added at the end of each chapter for readers to reflect on and to enrich their own criticality and reflexivity The book serves as continuous guidance for engaging with interculturality

The Fragment Camelia Elias, 2004 This monograph is an interdisciplinary study of the concept of fragment in literature and in critical and literary theory It discusses the fragment s performativity and function within a historical perspective stretching from Heraclitus via the German Romantics and European writers of the Modernist period to American postmodern manifestations of the fragment This is the first history of the fragment to appear in English and it is also the first attempt at producing a consistent taxonomy of literary and critical fragments The fragments are categorised according to function not author intention and the study addresses a number of questions What constitutes the fragment when the fragment can only be defined a posteriori Does the fragment begin on its own or is it begun by others writers and critics Does it acquire a name of its own or is it labelled by others All these questions revolve around issues of agency and they are best discussed in terms of performativity which means seeing fragments as acts acts of literature acts of reading acts of writing The book demonstrates how a poetics of the fragment as a performative genre can be created situating the fragment both as literature and as a phenomenon within postmodern criticism against the background of philosophy art history and theology Geary's Guide to the World's Great Aphorists James Geary, 2008-12-08

Both an expert and a collector James Geary has devoted his life to aphorisms and the last few years to organizing indexing and even translating them The result is Geary's Guide featuring aphorists like Voltaire Twain Shakespeare Nietzsche Woody Allen Muhammad Ali Emily Dickinson and Mae West as well as international practitioners appearing in English for the first time But it is more than just a conventional anthology It is also an encyclopedia containing brief biographies of each author in addition to a selection of his or her aphorisms The book is a field guide too with aphorists organized into eight different species such as Comics Critics Icons and Painters Poets The book's two indexes by author and by subject make it easily searchable while its unique organizational structure and Geary's lively biographical entries set it apart from all previous reference works A perfect follow up to Geary's New York Times bestseller The World in a Phrase Geary's Guide is eminently suitable for browsing or for sustained reading A comprehensive guide to our most intimate idiosyncratic literary form the book is an indispensable tool for writers and public speakers as well as essential reading for all language lovers Death and Philosophy J.E Malpas, Robert C. Solomon, 2002-06-01 Death and Philosophy considers these questions with different perspectives varying from the existentialist deriving from Camus Heidegger or Sartre to the English speaking analytic tradition of Bernard Williams or Thomas Nagel to non western approaches such as are exemplified in the Tibetan Book of the Dead and in Daoist thought to perspectives influenced by Lucretius Epicurus and Nietzsche Death and Philosophy will be of great interest to philosophers or those studying religion and theology but its clarity and scope ensures it will be accessible to anyone who has considered what it means to be mortal Bartlett's Familiar Quotations John Bartlett, Geoffrey

O'Brien, 2014-12-02 More than 150 years after its original publication Bartlett's Familiar Quotations has been completely revised and updated for its eighteenth edition Bartlett's showcases a sweeping survey of world history from the times of ancient Egyptians to present day New authors include Warren Buffett the Dalai Lama Bill Gates David Foster Wallace Emily Post Steve Jobs Jimi Hendrix Paul Krugman Hunter S Thompson Jon Stewart Elizabeth Kubler Ross Barack Obama Che Guevara Randy Pausch Desmond Tutu Julia Child Fran Leibowitz Harper Lee Nassim Nicholas Taleb Patti Smith William F Buckley and Robert F Kennedy In the classic Bartlett's tradition the book offers readers and scholars alike a vast stunning representation of those words that have influenced and molded our language and culture Flexing Interculturality Hamza

R'boul,Fred Dervin,2023-09-13 This book continues the two scholars endeavours for opening up more spaces for alternative perspectives analyses and praxis in interculturality The main text features fragments that bear relevance to a wide range of topics including education politics personal experiences social realities hierarchies self critique language and locus of enunciation The book takes a step forward by using fragments as an alternative way of doing research and writing scholarship The premise here is that fragments are human and they reflect our fleeting inconsistent and unsystematic production of knowledge that today s scholarship has presented to be linear structured and aligned The authors draw on fragments to make their points as forcefully as possible by constructing sentences that destabilize themselves and readers to consider other paths and perspectives That is writing otherwise may propel thinking otherwise since the very bases upon which we push our insights to mould through and by are shaken and ultimately transcended The chapters include questions with temporary answers as an attempt to induce readers to think for themselves and to move beyond what this book has to offer This book will be a great read to scholars and students in the field of interculturality education and sociology The authors hope that this book will be seen as a genuine example of de linking from mainstream writing and thinking conventions about interculturality in communication and education without compromising epistemic depth and nuance

Between Care and Justice Elena Pulcini,2024-05-01 Elena Pulcini 1950 2021 an internationally renowned philosopher of care was at the forefront of thinking and creating a new ethical framework to respond efficaciously to problems that affect individuals at a global level This translation of Pulcini s last work addresses perhaps the two fundamental questions for our times namely Why care for others when we are not bound by personal relationships and Why commit to justice even when it does not personally affect us By focusing on passions such as indignation fear compassion resentment and love Pulcini offers an alternative ethical perspective in which justice and care intertwine to supplement and balance each other Together care and justice are proven capable of addressing the challenge of the other distant in space the outsider the marginalized and the migrant and time future generations In the end Pulcini proposes a form of moral education that nurtures and develops desirable moral sentiments for a more just world at the interpersonal social political economic and environmental levels thereby providing an alternative social global model to current individual focused rights based purely rationalist ethical systems

Atmospheres of Breathing Lenart Škof,Petri Berndtson,2018-03-19 As a physiological or biological matter breath is mostly considered to be mechanical and thoughtless By expanding on the insights of many religions and therapeutic practices which emphasize the cultivation of breath the contributors argue that breath should be understood as fundamentally and comprehensively intertwined with human life and experience Various dimensions of the respiratory world are referred to as atmospheres that encircle and connect human existence coexistence and the world Drawing from a number of traditions of breathing including from Indian and East Asian religion and philosophy the book considers breath in relation to ontological hermeneutical phenomenological ethical and aesthetic concerns in philosophy The wide ranging topics include poetry theater environmental issues and health feminism and media studies      Encyclopedia of Modern Jewish Culture

Glenda Abramson,2004-03-01 The Encyclopedia of Modern Jewish Culture is an extensively updated revision of the very successful Companion to Jewish Culture published in 1989 and has now been updated throughout Experts from all over the world contribute entries ranging from 200 to 1000 words broadly covering the humanities arts social sciences sport and popular culture and 5000 word essays contextualize the shorter entries and provide overviews to aspects of culture in the Jewish world Ideal for student and general readers the articles and biographies have been written by scholars and academics musicians artists and writers and the book now contains up to date bibliographies suggestions for further reading comprehensive cross referencing and a full index This is a resource no student of Jewish history will want to go without

Repressed Spaces Paul Carter,2004-11-02 In Repressed Spaces Paul Carter tours the cultural history of agoraphobia the fear of open space Its symptoms were first described in The Anatomy of Melancholy 1621 by Robert Burton the British scholar and writer although it wasn't until 1871 that Carl Otto Westphal coined the term to describe several of his patients who experienced severe anxiety when walking through streets or squares There have been many attempts to explain and treat the condition critics of modernization have linked it to bad city planning psychoanalysts calling it street panic have blamed it on the Oedipus complex psychiatrists have tied it to existential insecurity and describe it as the fear of places or situations that have triggered panic attacks Freud believed that agoraphobia like all phobias was part of an anxiety neurosis and had a sexual origin Taking as his starting point the fact that Freud himself was agoraphobic and analyzing the way people have negotiated open spaces from Greek and Roman times to the present day Paul Carter finds that space fear ultimately results from the inhibition of movement Along the way the author asks why Freud repressed his agoraphobia and examines literature the work of architects and theorists including Le Corbusier Walter Benjamin and R D Laing artists such as Munch Lapique and Giacometti and the German street films of the 1920s He concludes by proposing a new way of regarding open space a new poetics of agoraphobia one that is sensitive to the agoraphobe's point of view and provides lessons for architects and urban planners today      Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier,2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies      The Elsewhere Adam Zachary Newton,2005-08-03 The Elsewhere Or midbar biblical Hebrew for both wilderness and speech A place of possession and dispossession loss and nostalgia But also a place that speaks Ingeniously using a Talmudic interpretive formula about the disposition of boundaries Newton explores narratives of place flight border and beyond The writers of The Elsewhere are a disparate company of twentieth century memoirists and fabulists from the Levant Palestine Israel Egypt and East Central Europe Together their texts cunningly paired so as to speak to one another in mutually revelatory ways narrate the paradox of the near distance

Music Theory, Analysis, and Society Robert P. Morgan, 2017-07-05 Robert P Morgan is one of a small number of music theorists writing in English who treat music theory and in particular Schenkerian theory as part of general intellectual life Morgan's writings are renowned within the field of music scholarship he is the author of the well known Norton volume Twentieth Century Music and of additional books relating to Schenkerian and other theory analysis and society This volume of Morgan's previously published essays encompasses a broad range of issues including historical and social issues and is of importance to anyone concerned with modern Western music His specially written introduction treats his writings as a whole but also provides additional material relating to the articles included in this volume

Music in the Mirror Andreas Giger, Thomas J. Mathiesen, 2002-01-01 In Music in the Mirror thirteen distinguished scholars explore the concept of music music theory and music literature as mirror images of one another whether real or distorted Encompassing the history of music and music theory and literature from the Middle Ages to the present these essays in their reconsideration of the relationships among music theory and literature offer new approaches and articulate compelling visions for future research

The Columbia Dictionary of Quotations Robert Andrews, 1993 Over 11 000 of these 18 000 quotations have never before appeared in a quotation book Chosen not for their familiarity but for their quality and their relevance in the 1990s these provocative quotations cover subjects from adolescence and adoption to yuppies and zoos
