Industrial Reference Service, 1945 Strategies, Structures, and Processes for Network and Resources Management in Industrial Parks Tiina Salonen, 2010 In the recent years the number of industrial parks has grown rapidly worldwide driven by economic policies and industrial restructuring The high resource consumption and prices as well as stringent environmental policies and laws have pushed the strategic importance of efficient resources management Due to the proximity of companies industrial parks offer potential for the development of interorganizational resource exchanges in terms of energy and waste infrastructure sharing and joint services Utilizing this potential enhances the resource efficiency and added value of companies while often reducing their environmental impacts Efficient management of resources in industrial parks requires an appropriate management concept However the research and literature on the management of industrial parks is very limited As a solution the author introduces the concept for integrated resources management The theoretical status quo of the concept is studied from the perspective of industrial ecology with the conclusion that the approach lacks a strategic management dimension To tackle the problem the author draws upon the strategic management and organizational theories as well as the approaches of network and environmental management The empirical insights into the concept are sought by analyzing applied practices to network and resources management in industrial parks The case studies comprise representative examples of successful industrial restructuring from Germany such as DOW ValuePark R and Chemical Industrial Park Marl and showcases of China s economic policy such as Shanghai Chemical Industry Park and Tianjin Economic and Technological Development Area A reader will find in this book a sound theoretical framework to accommodate further research and practical decision support to manage resource problems characterized by conflicting stakeholder interests Journal of the Society of Chemical Industry Society of Chemical Industry (Great Britain), 1904 Includes list of members 1882 1902 proceedings of the annual meetings and various supplements Servitization in Industry Gunter Lay, 2014-06-13 This book summarizes the interim result of the servitization activities in manufacturing industries While the early literature on servitization tended to stress only its advantages more recently scholars have also started to refer to the challenges associated with servitization This book attempts to give a balanced picture of servitization The book is structured in four parts Part I introduces the topic by presenting the most recent academic discussion about servitization and uses an empirical analysis to show the degree of servitization across Europe The results of this analysis are then compared to the discussion in the literature This comparison highlights the existing discrepancies between the rather euphoric literature and the more skeptical practical experience The second and third parts attempt to explain these discrepancies by taking as a starting point the assumption that servitization recommendations have to consider the heterogeneity of the manufacturing sector and the capabilities of the provider Part II presents articles which analyze the specific characteristics of different sectors with their barriers and potentials and presents frameworks for a successful servitization of the core sectors in European manufacturing industries which include e g aeronautics automotive ICT chemical industries pulp and paper industries and different engineering sectors Part III focuses on companies capabilities which are necessary for successful servitization These include strategic management marketing organization innovation engineering human resources controlling quality and networks All the contributions in parts II and III add up to a detailed picture of servitization for sectors and functions and indicate the practical implications for enterprises in manufacturing industries The fourth part concludes the book with a chapter summarizing the findings and giving an outlook of servitization in manufacturing industries its challenges and future developments Services Available to the Chemical Industry Through the United States Department of Commerce United States.
