Setup What The Air Force Did In Vietnam And Why:

Setup Earl H. Tilford, 1991 American military professionals especially the US Air Force have had a difficult time understanding their role in this nation's defeat in Vietnam. Dr. Tilford provides a critical self-analysis and questions the underlying assumptions of the Air Force's strategy in Southeast Asia. He argues that we must understand what went wrong in Vietnam and why and not manipulate the record and paint failure as victory. He explains what led to the setup which not only resulted in a failure for airpower but also contributed to the fall of South Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia to Communist forces in 1975.

SETUP Earl H. Tilford Jr., 2021-05-03 American military professionals especially the U.S. Air Force have had a difficult time understanding their role in this nation's defeat in Vietnam. Dr. Tilford provides a critical self-analysis and questions the underlying assumptions of the Air Force's strategy in Southeast Asia. He argues that we must understand what went wrong in Vietnam and why and not manipulate the record and paint failure as victory. He explains what led to the setup which not only resulted in a failure for airpower but also contributed to the fall of South Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia to Communist forces in 1975.

Setup: What the Air Force Did in Vietnam and Why, 1991 The United States Air Force of the 1990s faces perhaps the single greatest challenge to its institutional weltanschauung since it became an independent service in 1947. The specter of a hostile expansionist Soviet Union which for the last 45 years has justified the maintenance of a large strategic air force overwhelmingly oriented to the western European theater is fading fast with no similarly immense threat on the immediate horizon to take its place. As a result, the USAF perhaps more than any other US military service faces the prospect of losing the foundation upon which it has based its entire institutional identity and even its very existence. Strategic bombing is not mere doctrine to the USAF; it is its lifeblood and provides its entire raison d'être. Strategic bombing is as central to the identity of the Air Force as the New Testament is to the Catholic church. Without the Gospels, there would be no pope, and without strategic bombing, there would be no Air Force. The theology of strategic bombing has influenced every aspect of the Air Force's development since well before World War II. This system of belief too often has led the keepers of the USAF's institutional memory to dismiss as aberrant, peripheral, and irrelevant anything that fell outside the narrow confines of its strategic concepts. The USAF's uncritical approach to its own past has enabled it to declare strategic bombing decisive where it was not (Europe 1943-45) to claim victory where there was none (Vietnam 1972) and to neglect those air operations that indeed proved indispensable and potentially decisive tactical air campaigns in the European and Pacific theaters during World War II and in Korea during 1950 and 1951.

Crosswinds Earl H. Tilford, Jr., Earl H. Tilford, 2008-12-19 Tilford exposes the generals' tunnel vision. He demolishes the myth that the 1972 Christmas bombing brought Hanoi to its knees. His controversial thesis is that the bombing of the North and the interdiction campaign against the Ho Chi Minh Trail were in no way decisive and that USAF leadership obtusely failed to perceive that North Vietnam, an agricultural nation, was simply not susceptible to strategic bombing. The Air Force Way of War Brian D. Laslie, 2015-06-23 Laslie chronicles how the Air Force worked its way from the catastrophe of Vietnam through the triumph of the Gulf War and beyond Robert M Farley author of Grounded The U S Air Force's poor performance in Operation Linebacker II and other missions during Vietnam was partly due to the fact that they had trained their pilots according to methods devised during World War II and the Korean War when strategic bombers attacking targets were expected to take heavy losses Warfare had changed by the 1960s but the USAF had not adapted Between 1972 and 1991 however the Air Force dramatically changed its doctrines and began to overhaul the way it trained pilots through the introduction of a groundbreaking new training program called Red Flag In The Air Force Way of War Brian D Laslie examines the revolution in pilot instruction that Red Flag brought about after Vietnam The program's new instruction methods were dubbed realistic because they prepared pilots for real life situations better than the simple cockpit simulations of the past and students gained proficiency on primary and secondary missions instead of superficially training for numerous possible scenarios In addition to discussing the program's methods Laslie analyzes the way its graduates actually functioned in combat during the 1980s and 90s in places such as Grenada Panama Libya and Iraq Military historians have traditionally emphasized the primacy of technological developments during this period and have overlooked the vital importance of advances in training but Laslie's unprecedented study of Red Flag addresses this oversight through its examination of the
