Long Lankin John Banville, 2013-07-02 A collection of short stories from the early years of the Man Booker Prize winning author's career that explores the passionate emotions fear jealousy desire that course beneath the surface of everyday life From a couple at risk of being torn apart by the allure of wealth to an old man's descent into nature the tales in this collection showcase the talents that launched Banville onto the literary scene Offering a unique insight into the mind of one of the great living masters of English language prose Los Angeles Times these nine haunting sketches stand alone as canny observations on the turbulence of the human condition      The Supreme Fictions of John Banville Joseph McMinn, 1999 This work offers a critical commentary on the range of John Banville's fiction including the plays and views that fiction in the contexts of contemporary critical theory particularly those of postmodernism and feminism It argues that Banville's work is deeply influenced by romantic and modernist mythologies of the creative imagination especially those expressed by Coleridge and Wallace Stevens Banville's interest in systems of knowledge and forms of representation is a major issue in the study and McMinn investigates his use of paintings as metaphors      Visions of Alterity Elke D'hoker, 2021-11-15 Visions of Alterity Representation in the Works of John Banville offers detailed and original readings of the work of the Irish author John Banville one of the foremost figures in contemporary European literature It investigates one of the fundamental concerns of Banville's novels mediating the gap between subject and object or self and world in representation By drawing on the rich history of the problem of representation in literature philosophy and literary theory this study provides a thorough insight into the rich philosophical and intertextual dimension of Banville's fiction In close textual analyses of Banville's most important novels it maps out a thematic development that moves from an interest in the epistemological and aesthetic representation of the world in scientific theories over a concern with the ethical dimension of representations to an exploration of self representation and identity What remains constant throughout these different perspectives is the disruption of representations by brief but haunting glimpses of otherness In tracing these different visions of alterity in Banville's solipsistic literary world this study offers a better understanding of his insistent and thought provoking exploration of what it means to be human      Irish University Review, 2006 A journal of Irish studies      John Banville Ingo Berensmeyer, 2000      Learning Language Through Literature /Peter Falvey, Peter Kennedy, 1997-05-01 This useful sourcebook contains 12 chapters written by experienced classroom practitioners in Hong Kong One theme appears constantly in these chapters that in the English language classroom whether at primary secondary or tertiary levels high interest and positive motivation occur through active learning when literary texts literary techniques and literariness are featured In this book full coverage is given to the use of poetry prose and drama in language learning and teaching at all three levels of the education system The tasks and activities described here have been shown to work with all bands of students This book is ideally suited both for practising teachers and participants in teacher education programmes in Hong

John Banville Joseph McMin,1991 A study of the complete work of John Banville up to and including The Book of Evidence The book emphasises the imaginative strategies and patterns of Banville s fiction which contains many elements of both modernist and post modernist writing and suggests its position in modern literature

The Quest for God in the Novels of John Banville, 1973-2005 Brendan McNamee,2006 John Banville s protagonists long for a sense of completion that neither their own psyches nor the world can satisfy The themes in Banville s work can be seen to form a cultural and psychic bridge between mysticism and postmodernism portraying human consciousness in a bind of forever being trapped in language

John Banville Rüdiger Imhof,1997 Newly enlarged to take into account subsequent statements by John Banville and to cover new novels this book is the definitive work that places the author in the vanguard of post war Irish writers

John Banville offers a close analysis of most of Banville s major novels as well as the Quirke crime novels he has written under the pseudonym Benjamin Black and his dramatic adaptations of Heinrich von Kleist s plays From the beginning Banville s work has been marked both by the presence of a complex embedded discourse about the significance of art and by a concurrent self conscious obsession with its own status as art His novels perpetually reveal an overt fascination with the visual arts in particular and with the aesthetic principle of literature as art This study argues that as a whole Banville s work presents an elaborate and richly textured coded account of his relationship with art and with the self referential fictional world that his novels have conjured It is from this critical context that John Banville s central argument is derived This book asserts that Banville s fiction can be viewed both as an extended interrogation into the meaning and status of art as well as itself being a representative of the type of art that is admired in the pages of the novels As such it also represents an extremely sophisticated enactment of the novel form that goes beyond the self reflexivity of late twentieth century fiction to chart new developments in the literary arts The book s critical process involves several specific reference points Firstly Banville s own theoretical statements about art in interviews essays reviews and journalistic writing over the past 40 years are synthesized into a coherent interpretation of the author s artistic vision which is thereafter used as a conceptual touchstone when considering his major works of fiction This is done in conjunction with investigating specific theoretical perspectives about the relationship between literature and art by critics such as Denis Donoghue and Susan Sontag and by philosophers of art Graham Gordon Etienne Gilson Peter Lamarque and Susanne Langer
