Chinese Senior Migrants and the Globalization of Retirement Nicole DeJong Newendorp,2020-09-08 The 21st century has seen growing numbers of seniors turning to migration in response to newfound challenges to traditional forms of retirement and old age support such as increased longevity demographically aging populations and global neoliberal trends reducing state welfare Chinese born migrants to the U S serve as an exemplary case of this trend with 30 percent of all migrants since 1990 being at least 60 years old This book tells their story arguing that they demonstrate the significance of age as a mediating factor that is fundamentally important for considering how migration is experienced The subjects of this study are situated at the crossroads of Chinese immigrant and Chinese American experiences embodying many of the ambiguities and paradoxes that complicate common understandings of each group These are older individuals who have waited their whole lives to migrate to the U S to rejoin family but often experience unanticipated family conflict when they arrive They are retirees living at the social and economic margins of American society who nonetheless find significant opportunities to achieve meaningful retired lifestyles They are members of a diaspora spanning vast regional and ideological differences yet their wellbeing hinges on everyday interactions with others in this diverse community Their stories highlight the many possibilities for mutual engagement that connect Chinese and American ways of being and belonging in the world

Embedded Generations Liu Jieyu, 2025-11-25 An interconnected nuanced and nonlinear view of Chinese family life since 1949 With Embedded Generations Liu Jieyu offers a comprehensive examination of Chinese family life since the Chinese Communist Revolution of 1949 Grounding her account in the analysis of 260 life history narratives and rich ethnographic data Liu traces the changing ways families have navigated such experiential milestones as childhood courtship and marriage sex and intimacy and aging over the past seven decades Using generation the urban rural divide and gender as her analytical lenses she provides an alternative narrative of Chinese family life countering the dominant Eurocentric accounts of modernization and family change Liu proposes the concept of embedded generations to capture the ongoing relational and socioeconomic shaping of family life taking account of variation within and across generations and of both intergenerational transmission and individual adaptations to changing conditions of everyday life Resisting the notion that social and family changes are linear historical progressions Liu reveals a family portrait of complex change continuity and diversity Rather than a straightforward transition from the traditional to the modern and postmodern she argues changes in Chinese family life have entailed the adaptation and re serving of traditional ideas and practices to produce a bricolage of modern and traditional elements Modern Chinese Religion II: 1850 - 2015 (2 vols.) , 2015-10-20 The last of four two volume sets on the key periods of paradigm shift in Chinese religious and cultural history this book examines the transformation of values in China since 1850 in the secular realms of economics science medicine aesthetics media and gender and in each of the major religions Confucianism Buddhism Daoism Christianity as well as in Marxist discourse The nation and science are the values invoked most frequently with the market and democracy a distant second As in previous periods of fundamental change in Chinese history rationalization and secularization have played central roles but interiorization nearly disappears as a driving force Also in continuity with the past the state insists on an exclusive right to define and adjudicate orthodoxy Contributors include Daniel H Bays S bastien Billioud Adam Yuet Chau Na Chen Philip Clart Walter B Davis Arif Dirlik Thomas David DuBois Lizhu Fan David Faure Melissa Wei Tsing Inouye Ji Zhe Xiaofei Kang Eric I Karchmer Andr Lalibert Angela Ki Che Leung Xun Liu Richard Madsen David Ownby Ellen Oxfeld Volker Scheid Grace Yen Shen Michael Szonyi Wang Chien ch uan Xue Yu Mao's Great Famine Frank Dikötter, 2010-09-06 An unprecedented groundbreaking history of China s Great Famine that recasts the era of Mao Zedong and the history of the People s Republic of China Transforming China's Economy In The Eighties Stephen Feuchtwang, 2019-06-04 This is the first of two volumes on the transformation of China since 1978 The second volume concentrates on the government administration of the reforms which have brought changes in economic organization it deals with the urban economy The focus of this volume is on changes in the rural economy provision for basic needs such as nutrition and China's Revolutions and Intergenerational Relations Martin Whyte, 2020-08-06 China's Revolutions and Intergenerational Relations counters the widely accepted notion that traditional family patterns are weakened by forces such as economic development and social revolutions China has experienced wrenching changes on both the economic and the political fronts yet from the evidence presented here the tradition of filial respect and support for aging parents remains alive and well Using collaborative surveys carried out in 1994 in the middle sized industrial city of Baoding and comparative data from urban Taiwan the authors examine issues shaping the relationships between adult Chinese children and their elderly parents The continued vitality of intergenerational support and filial obligations in these samples is not simply an instance of strong Confucian tradition trumping powerful forces of change Instead and somewhat paradoxically the continued strength of filial obligations can be attributed largely to the institutions of Chinese socialism forged in the era of Mao Zedong With socialist institutions now under assault in the People's Republic of China the future of intergenerational relations in the twenty first century is once again uncertain
