Fury,2012 Investigates the lives of common sailors engaged in commerce exploration privateering and piracy and naval actions during Tudor and Stuart periods Wood Harvey Green,2007-11-27 A rich authoritative look at a material that plays an essential role in human culture Wood has been a central part of human life throughout the world for thousands of years In an intoxicating mix of science history and practical information historian and woodworker Harvey Green considers this vital material's place on the planet What makes one wood hard and one soft How did we find it tame it Where does it fit into the histories of technology architecture and industrialization of empire exploration and settlement Spanning the surprising histories of the log cabin and Windsor chair the deep truth about veneer the role of wood in the American Revolution the disappearance of the rain forests the botany behind the baseball bat and much more Wood is a deep and satisfying look at one of our most treasured resources International Encyclopedia of Military History James C. Bradford,2004-12-01 With its impressive breadth of coverage both geographically and chronologically the International Encyclopedia of Military History is the most up to date and inclusive A-Z resource on military history From uniforms and military insignia worn by combatants to the brilliant military leaders and tacticians who commanded them the campaigns and wars to the weapons and equipment used in them this international and multi cultural two volume set is an accessible resource combining the latest scholarship in the field with a world perspective on military history Medieval Warfare: Technology, Military Revolutions, and Strategy Clifford J. Rogers,2024-08-06 This volume explores the topics of military revolutions strategy and tactics both separately and as they relate to each other It makes important contributions to understanding European warfare in the Early High and especially the Late Middle Ages as well the military transition to the Early Modern Period Readers will find detailed analysis of how technological and non technological developments interacted to effect major changes in how wars were fought across the period The evolution and capabilities of the English longbow and of early gunpowder artillery are examined in depth Changes in the tools of war naturally affected plans to employ those tools to achieve political ends military strategy but strategy was never dictated by technology That point is illustrated by examinations of English efforts to conquer Wales the Anglo Burgundian alliance of the late Hundred Years War and the economic factors shaping medieval conquests in general The nine studies in the volume have all been published previously but a new introduction shows how they fit together particularly explaining how they collectively rebut common critiques of Rogers's controversial thesis that European warfare was reshaped by the Infantry and Artillery Revolutions during the era of the Hundred Years War. Two of the chapters have been substantially expanded so that the versions printed here should be the ones consulted and cited in the future by scholars of medieval warfare and military revolutions.

The Hundred Years War (part II) L. J. Andrew Villalon, Donald J. Kagay, 2008. In thirteen articles this volume affirms that the Hundred Years War was a struggle that spilled out of its heartlands of England and France into many European regions. These a different vista of scholarship greatly amply the study of the conflict.

World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker, 2003-06-01. Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967-1997. Classical antiquity, post-Roman Europe, and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century, although covered, receive less systematic attention. Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles. Especially rich in references to the periodical literature, the bibliography is divided into eight parts: 1 general and comparative topics; 2 the ancient world; 3 Eurasia since antiquity; 4 sub-Saharan Africa and Oceania; 5 pre-Columbian America; 6 postcontact America; 7 the contemporary nonwestern world; and 8 philosophical, social, scientific, natural scientific, and other works not primarily historical.
