the reader when I was born I will go on with my narrative As every schoolboy knows in the latter part of the nineteenth century the civilization of to day or anything like it did not exist although the elements which were to develop it were already in ferment Nothing had however occurred to modify the immemorial division of society into the four classes or nations as they may be more fitly called since the differences between them were far greater than those between any nations nowadays of the rich and the poor the educated and the ignorant I myself was rich and also educated and possessed therefore all the elements of happiness enjoyed by the most fortunate in that age Living in luxury and occupied only with the pursuit of the pleasures and refinements of life I derived the means of my support from the labor of others rendering no sort of service in return My parents and grand parents had lived in the same way and I expected that my descendants if I had any would enjoy a like easy existence
