Marriage In Life And Literature:

Marriage in Life and Literature Robert Seidenberg, 1970 Love, Literature and the Quantum Atom Finn Aaserud, John L. Heilbron, 2013-07-18 Niels Bohr ranks with Einstein among the physicists of the 20th century He rose to this status through his invention of the quantum theory of the atom and his leadership in its defense and development He also ranks with Einstein in his humanism and his sense of responsibility to his science and the society that enabled him to create it Our book presents unpublished excerpts from extensive correspondence between Bohr and his immediate family and uses it to describe and analyze the psychological and cultural background to his invention The book also contains a reprinting of the three papers of 1913 the Trilogy in which Bohr worked out the provisional basis of a quantum theory of the atom The Literary Gazette and Journal of the Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, &c ,1855 Little Stories of Married Life Mary Stewart Cutting, 2022-09-04 In Little Stories of Married Life Mary Stewart Cutting presents a tender and insightful exploration of the quotidian experiences and emotional landscapes inhabited by married couples Through a series of vignettes Cutting employs a conversational yet poignant literary style that intricately captures the intimate nuances of partner dynamics the balance of love and conflict and the transformative power of shared existence Set in the early 20th century when societal norms regarding marriage were evolving these stories reflect the complexities and aspirations of domestic life while offering a subtle critique of contemporaneous views on marital roles Mary Stewart Cutting an accomplished author and feminist thinker drew on her own experiences as a wife and mother to craft a narrative that resonates with authenticity and depth Her literary output reflects a deep understanding of both the societal pressures of her time and the emotional realities faced by women within marriage This personal connection informs her characters journeys providing readers with a rich tapestry of relatable scenarios that evoke empathy and reflection Little Stories of Married Life is a must read for those interested in the interpersonal dynamics of marriage as well as readers seeking to explore historical perceptions of gender roles Cutting s work not only entertains but also encourages contemplation of love s complexities making it a timeless addition to the canon of matrimonial literature Select Reviews of Literature ,1811 Wellman's Literary Miscellany ,1871 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance ,1913 The Boston Literary Magazine ,1833 The London Literary Gazette and Journal of Belles Lettres, Arts, Sciences, Etc ,1855 A History of English Dramatic Literature Adolphus William Ward (historien).),1899 Images of Women in Medieval Texts and Literature Pedro Carlos Louzada Fonseca, 2025-04-30 Employing a critical and analytical method this volume takes an innovative approach to existing anthologies of medieval texts proposing a comprehensive methodology for examining and understanding the historical and cultural construction of the image of women in medieval literature Critically and analytically appreciating representative works and authors from the medieval period Images of Women in Medieval Texts and Literature is interested not only in their essayistic examination but also in the intuitive perception of their values This comprehensive approach fosters a deeper understanding of the image of women particularly in the context of the Eve/Ave binomial a dichotomy that shapes the defamation and defense of medieval femininity The chapters present the misogynistic literary tradition as a comprehensive panorama out of which emerged medieval literature praising women Texts by the Fathers of the Church from Tertullian 2nd century to Saint Thomas Aquinas 13th century are followed by those continuing their legacy represented by Giovanni Boccaccio 14th century and Geoffrey Chaucer 14th century Finally from this vast sea of defamation toward the late Middle Ages there emerged works both anonymous and authorial in praise of women such as Dives and Pauper 15th century The Thrush and the Nightingale 13th century and the works of John Gower 14th century Each of these works in their own unique way defends the women who were veiled and hidden away in the Middle Ages

Narrating Marriage in Eighteenth-Century England and France Chris Roulston, 2016-04-22 In the eighteenth century when the definition of marriage was shifting from one based on an hierarchical model to one based on notions of love and mutuality marital life came under a more intense cultural scrutiny This led to paradoxical forms of representation of marriage as simultaneously ideal and unlivable Chris Roulston analyzes how as representations of married life increased they challenged the traditional courtship model offering narratives based on repetition rather than progression Beginning with English and French marital advice literature which appropriated novelistic conventions at the same time that it cautioned readers about the dangers of novel reading she looks at representations of ideal marriages in Pamela II and The New Heloise Moving on from these ideal domestic spaces bourgeois marriage is then problematized by the discourse of empire in Sir George Ellison and Letters of Mistress Henley by troublesome wives in works by Richardson and Samuel de Constant and by abusive husbands in works by Haywood Edgeworth Genlis and Restif de la Bretonne Finally the alternative marriage narrative in which the adultery motif is incorporated into the marriage itself redefines the function of heteronormativity In exploring the theoretical issues that arise during this transitional period for married life and the marriage plot Roulston expands the debates around the evolution of
