Marxism And Totality The Adventures Of A Concept From Lukacs To Habermas:

Marxism and Totality Martin Jay, 1984 Totality has been an abiding concern from the first generation of Western Marxists most notably Lukacs, Korsch, Gramsci and Bloch through the second exemplified by the Frankfurt School, Lefebvre, Goldmann, Sartre, Merleau-Ponty and Della Volpe up to the most recent typified by Althusser, Colletti and Habermas. Yet no consensus has been reached concerning the term's multiple meanings: expressive, decentered, longitudinal, latitudinal, normative or its implications for other theoretical and practical matters. By closely following the adventures of this troublesome but central concept, Marxism and Totality offers an unconventional account of the history of Western Marxism.

Marxism and Totality Martin Jay, 1984-01-01 Marxism and Totality Martin Jay, 1984-01-01 The Routledge Companion to Marxisms in Art History Tijen Tunalı, Brian Winkenweder, 2025-03-31 This companion is an essential contribution to the study of historical materialism in general and the social history of art in particular. Each chapter in the collection focuses on a key figure, concept or historical epoch. Increasingly, scholars adopt an array of Marxist methods intertwined with a host of other theoretical practices, particularly the historiography of key issues regarding hegemony, ideology and identity. Ideological issues of connoisseurship, patronage and analyses of the artwork as a form of labor and leisure are essential to the practice of Marxisms in art history. This collection spotlights a plurality of Marxian theories in which the ideas of such figures as Walter Benjamin, Guy Debord and T. J. Clark are debated and developed through analyses of the socio-historical conditions that impact how art is produced, circulated and received. This ultimately underscores that the historical contextualization of artworks and their markets within a class-based society is crucial for writing socially engaged art history. This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, visual studies, visual sociology, communication studies and the sociology of art.

Toward a Concrete Philosophy Mikko Immanen, 2020-11-15 Toward a Concrete Philosophy explores the reactions of Theodor Adorno, Max Horkheimer and Herbert Marcuse to Martin Heidegger prior to their dismissal of him once he turned to the Nazi party in 1933. Mikko Immanen provides a fascinating glimpse of the three future giants of twentieth-century social criticism when they were still looking for their philosophical voices. By reconstructing their overlooked debates with Heidegger and Heideggerians, Immanen argues that Adorno, Horkheimer and Marcuse saw Heidegger's 1927 magnum opus Being and Time as a serious effort to make philosophy relevant for life again and as the most provocative challenge to their nascent materialist diagnoses of the discontents of European modernity. Our knowledge of Adorno's Frankfurt discussion with Frankfurt Heideggerians remains anecdotal even though it led to a proto-version of Dialectic of Enlightenment's idea of the entwinement of myth and reason. Similarly, Horkheimer's enthusiasm over Heidegger's legendary post-World War I lectures and criticism of Being and Time have escaped attention almost entirely. And Marcuse's intriguing debate with Heidegger over Hegel and the origin of the problematic of being and time has remained uncharted until now. Reading these debates as fruitful intellectual encounters rather than hostile confrontations, Toward a

Concrete Philosophy offers scholars of critical theory a new thought provoking perspective on the emergence of the Frankfurt School as a rejoinder to Heidegger's philosophical revolution

Shakespeare's Universal Wolf Hugh Grady, 1996 Shakespeare was neither a Royalist defender of order and hierarchy nor a consistently radical champion of social equality but rather simultaneously radical and conservative as a critic of emerging forms of modernity Hugh Grady argues that Shakespeare's social criticism in fact often parallels that of critics of modernity from our own Postmodernist era that the broad analysis of modernity produced by Marx Horkheimer and Adorno Foucault and others can serve as a productive enabling representation and critique of the emerging modernity represented by the image in Troilus and Cressida of an universal wolf of appetite power and will The readings of Troilus and Cressida Othello King Lear and As You Like It in Shakespeare's Universal Wolf demonstrate Shakespeare's keen interest in what twentieth century theory has called reification a term which designates social systems created by human societies but which confronts those societies as operating beyond human control according to an autonomous systems logic in nascent mercantile capitalism in power oriented Machiavellian politics and in the scientific value free rationality which Horkheimer and Adorno call instrumental reason

Democracy in the Making Gary Dorrien, 2019-04-23 An expansive and ambitious intellectual history of democratic socialism from one of the world's leading intellectual historians and social ethicists The fallout from twenty years of neoliberal economic globalism has sparked a surge of interest in the old idea of democratic socialism a democracy in which the people control the economy and government no group dominates any other and every citizen is free equal and included With a focus on the intertwined legacies of Christian socialism and Social Democratic politics in Britain and Germany this book traces the story of democratic socialism from its birth in the nineteenth century through the mid 1960s Examining the tenets on which the movement was founded and how it adapted to different cultural religious and economic contexts from its beginnings through the social and political traumas of the twentieth century Gary Dorrien reminds us that Christian socialism paved the way for all liberation theologies that make the struggles of oppressed peoples the subject of redemption He argues for a decentralized economic democracy and anti imperial internationalism

Marxism and the City Ira Katznelson, 1992 In this work Katznelson critically analyzes the development of Marxist scholarship on cities in the last quarter century He demonstrates how some of the most important weaknesses in Marxism as a social theory can be remedied by forcing it to seriously engage with cities and spatial concerns and explains the significant shortcomings even of this improved Marxism Katznelson explores how a Marxism that is open to engagement with other social theoretical traditions can help illuminate our understanding of cities and the patterns of class and group formation that have characterized urban life in the West

Walter Benjamin and the Critique of Political Economy Duy Lap Nguyen, 2022-07-14 Exploring the connections between Walter Benjamin's philosophy of history and a Marxian Critique of Political Economy Duy Lap Nguyen analyses Benjamin's early writings and their development into a distinct understanding of historical materialism Benjamin's historically materialist conception of history is shown to be characterised by a focus on the religion of capitalism the mythology of the state and messianic time Revealing these factors Nguyen joins up Benjamin's philosophical critique of the Kantian conception of history alongside the historical trajectory of capitalism he subscribed to Influenced by the theory of fascism outlined by German Marxist theorist Karl Korsch we see how Benjamin's own theory of revolution and redemption in capitalist society developed into a sophisticated critique Essential to Benjamin's materialist critique was a recognition of the fallibility of the Enlightenment notion of progress as well as the need to overturn the political and economic catastrophes which enable capitalism and fascism to thrive In mapping the exact course of Benjamin's critical historical materialism Nguyen fully explicates the unique contribution he made to western Marxism

Georg Lukacs Reconsidered Michael J. Thompson, 2011-02-03 Georg Lukacs stands as a towering figure in the areas of critical theory literary criticism aesthetics ethical theory and the philosophy of Marxism and German Idealism Yet despite his influence throughout the twentieth century his contributions to the humanities and theoretical social sciences are marked by neglect What has been lost is a crucial thinker in the tradition of critical theory but also by extension a crucial set of ideas that can be used to shed new light on the major problems of contemporary society This book reconsiders Lukács' intellectual contributions in the light of recent intellectual developments in political theory aesthetics ethical theory and social and cultural theory An international team of contributors contend that Lukács' ideas and theoretical contributions have much to offer the theoretical paucity of the present Ultimately the book reintegrates Lukács as a central thinker not only in the tradition of critical theory but also as a major theorist and critic of modernity of capitalism and of new trends in political theory cultural criticism and legal theory A

Divided Republic Emile Chabal, 2015-04-02 This book is an original and sophisticated historical interpretation of contemporary French political culture Until now there have been few attempts to understand the political consequences of the profound geopolitical intellectual and economic changes that France has undergone since the 1970s However Emile Chabal's detailed study shows how passionate debates over citizenship immigration colonial memory the reform of the state and the historiography of modern France have galvanised the French elite and created new spaces for discussion and disagreement Many of these debates have coalesced around two political languages republicanism and liberalism both of which structure the historical imagination and the symbolic vocabulary of French political actors The tension between these two political languages has become the central battleground of contemporary French politics It is around these two poles that politicians intellectuals and members of France's vast civil society have tried to negotiate the formidable challenges of ideological uncertainty and a renewed sense of global insecurity The Neo-primitivist Turn Victor Li, 2006-01-01 In recent years the concept of the primitive has been the subject of strong criticism it has been examined unpacked and shown to signify little more than a construction or projection necessary for establishing the modernity of the West The term primitive continues however to appear in contemporary critical and cultural discourse begging the question Why does primitivism keep reappearing even after it has been uncovered as a modern myth In The Neo-primitivist Turn Victor Li argues that this contentious term was never completely banished and that it has in fact reappeared under new theoretical guises An idealized conception of the primitive he contends has come to function as the ultimate sign of alterity Li focuses on the works of theorists like Jean Baudrillard Jean-François Lyotard Marianna Torgovnick Marshall Sahlins and Jürgen Habermas in order to demonstrate that primitivism continues to be a powerful presence even in those works normally regarded as critical of the concept Providing close readings of the ways in which the premodern or primitive is strategically deployed in contemporary critical writings Li's interdisciplinary study is a timely and forceful intervention into current debates on the politics and ethics of otherness the problems of cultural relativism and the vicissitudes of modernity Marxist Humanism and
