Fahmy,2012-10-12 This book addresses two important matters of current concern to Middle East scholars firstly the nature of the Egyptian state and society and the interactive process between them and secondly how change which would finally lead to development can be initiated The book argues that the Egyptian case represents a weak authoritarian state which through its coercive and repressive policies towards various societal forces political parties professional associations and organisations and individuals creates a weak society Individual behaviour in urban and rural communities sometimes viewed as signs of the strength of societal forces is seen here as a symptom of a weak and fragmented society The existence of a weak society in turn impedes government objectives and hinders the implementation of developmental policies and programmes further weakening the state This being the case change has to be initiated externally in both the political and economic spheres European Polyphony: Perspectives beyond East-West Confrontation Ole Waever,Pierre Lemaitre,Elzbieta Tromer,1989-10-16 This study deals with the internal socio political changes that the traditional political structures have not been able to incorporate the perspectives of the superpowers and surveys of the debate on European security in each of 11 states The book begins and ends with a theoretical overview The Nation ,1877 Multiparty Politics in America Paul S. Institutionalisation (and De-Institutionalisation) of Right-Wing Protest Parties Robert Harmel,Lars G Svåsand,Hilmar Mjelde,2018-04-02 When it comes to party institutionalisation at least for entrepreneurial right wing protest parties leadership matters That is the primary takeaway from this book Of the hundreds of new parties that have formed since the 1970s many have fallen by the wayside but others have gone on to reach institution hood And some of the latter have then met with decay and de institutionalisation The experiences of the Progress Parties of Denmark and Norway both of which institutionalised and one of which then de institutionalised shed important light on both topics While focusing particularly on those two cases the authors develop conceptual and theoretical frameworks that are broadly applicable as demonstrated in the final chapter and in an elaborate appendix
