Transit Markets of the Future Sandra Rosenbloom, Transit Cooperative Research Program, 1998 Examines the effects of current trends e.g. demographic economic social land use and transport policy and trends expected over the next 15 years on current and future transit markets Although many of these trends are not favorable to public transit a number are identified that provide opportunities for maintaining current transit markets and creating new expanded or different transit markets The report identifies 40 transit service concepts that appear to offer the most effective means of adjusting to these societal trends

Five Roads to the Future Paul Starobin, 2009-05-28 Farsighted and fascinating predictions for a new world order Veteran international correspondent Paul Starobin masterfully mixes fresh reportage with rigorous historical analysis to envision a world in which the United States is no longer the dominant superpower Following an insightful study of America's global ascendancy Starobin provides the reasons for America's waning influence and explores five possible paths for the future each of which is already in the making A global chaos that could be dark or happy a multipolar order of nation states a global Chinese imperium an age of global city states or a universal civilization leading to world government Starobin's tone is somber but in the end hopeful the world after America need not be a disaster for America and may even be liberating

The Edgeryders guide to the future Council of Europe, 2013-12-11 This publication is the result of the Edgeryders project an online dialogue platform run by the Council of Europe with a view to promoting discussion with young people on the challenges of their transition to working life Given that the imagination and the experiences of young citizens can only be understood in the context of horizontal relations learning through sharing and joint management in line with the networking approach which restores the significance of individual effort and provides innovative solutions a programme such as Edgeryders can provide a future oriented alternative In turn institutions must show creativity It is no longer a case of managing inertia but above all of creating a balance between what the public authorities can do and what they can facilitate By adopting a spirit of co-operation the authorities can encourage the sharing of responsibilities ideas goods and values while opening up to mutual learning Nevertheless this type of interaction is only possible if two conditions are met Firstly institutions must show a clear desire to ensure unprecedented scope for dialogue with young people by ascribing a high value to the proposals that emerge from the contacts among and with young citizens Secondly young people's interest in public affairs must be maintained in the long term by shoring up the online exchange with concrete evidence of legitimacy This publication is intended to help meet these two conditions

Ten Billion Years to Armageddon. A novel dedicated to the future of mankind. Herman Francis, Joy Angelyn, 2011-05-21 Ten Billion Years to Armageddon is a masterpiece novel a timeless conflict spanning history from the dawn of time to the here and now catching glimpses of man's future on planet earth and beyond Authors Herman and Joya move their characters through a scenario in which the search for Truth and Answers about the universe are the central themes At the same time the main characters are planning to fleece 2 casinos simultaneously Herman finished his manuscript in 1978 he was talking in his original manuscript about the Avatar a Dear John letter and Kingdom of Heaven long before Hollywood tycoons did His novel can be classified as futuristic realism or fictional fantasy He left the partly unfinished manuscript to his daughter Joya to complete So the book became actually a cowritten work between father and daughter Joya taking the development of the heist story mainly into account and the book adaption I proudly present today TBYA the book denied to the public for more than 30 years Jo

Creating New Possibilities for the Future of HBCUs Terrell L. Strayhorn, Michael Steven Williams, Royel M. Johnson, 2024-03-01 Creating New Possibilities for the Future of HBCUs brings together over 20 higher education scholars with more than 150 years of combined professional experience to critically examine the current contributions of and future directions for our nation's 101 historically Black colleges and universities HBCUs The book breaks new ground on Black colleges and offers hope and optimism for charting their future despite shrinking investments in higher education declining enrollments and eroding public confidence in the value of a college degree The book was written to tell the truth to right or re write past wrongs about HBCUs and to shift our collective gaze from the uncertain shaky past of a select few to a far more promising future for all based on insights from contemporary empirical research Each chapter addresses a particular aspect of higher education as it relates to HBCUs documenting the undeniable legacy of Black colleges their current challenges and untold successes blended with findings from recent empirical studies both quantitative and qualitative that clearly create new possibilities for the future of HBCUs This volume was developed to break new ground on often overlooked and understudied terrain in higher education scholarship Organized into three major sections the book includes chapters focusing on HBCUs as institutions and a small but consequential segment of the higher education enterprise Section Two consists of 6 chapters addressing the experiences of HBCU students paying close attention to issues of intersectionality heterogeneity and race ethnicity to name a few A third and final section turns much needed attention to HBCU personnel including campus administrators college presidents and faculty Rich in its coverage of culture facts and past history this new book offers much to those interested in charting new possibilities for the future of HBCUs
