Pastoral Associations In Chad:

Wiping the Tears of the African Cattle Owners Solomon Haile Mariam, 2010-08-30 This book is a collective work of many professionals who were involved in all aspects of the activities during the implementation of the Pan African Rinderpest Campaign PARC The various country and regional technical reports of all the actors during those days were however compiled by the three officers who were working with AU IBAR at that time Dr Solomon Haile Mariam the chief livestock project officer CLPO of IBAR was the task team leader assisted by Dr Rene Bessin while Dr D Karuiki did most of the information compiling job

Anthropology And Rural Development In West Africa Michael M Horowitz, Thomas M Painter, 2019-03-11 Anthropology and Rural Development in West Africa documents the experiences of anthropologists with development in West Africa during the past ten years It presents case study material to bring out the actual and potential contributions of social science to solving development problems found in Africa and in other parts of the Third World The book is not a manual that seeks to present solutions rather it describes some of the kinds of development situations in which anthropologists participated and examines the kind of tensions under which they operated

Pastoralism and Socio-technological Transformations in Northern Benin Georges Djohy, 2017 Pastoralists throughout Africa face increasing pressures In Benin governmental development policies and programmes in crop farming are changing power relations between herders and farmers to favour the latter How are the Fulani pastoralists responding to these threats to their existence Georges Djohy explores the dynamics in local use of natural resources and in inter ethnic relations resulting from development interventions He combines the approaches of science and technology studies looking at the co construction of society and technology and political ecology looking at the power relations shaping the dynamics of economic environmental and social change so as to throw light on the forces of marginalisation adaptation and innovation at work in northern Benin Having worked there for many years Djohy has been able to uncover gradual processes of socio technological change that are happening behind the scenes of agricultural development involving mechanisation herbicide use tree planting land registration and natural resource conservation He reveals how farmers are using these interventions as weapons in order to gain more rights over larger areas of land in other words to support indigenous land grabbing from herders who had been using the land since decades for grazing He documents how the Fulani are innovating to ensure their survival e g by using new technologies for transport and communication developing new strategies of livestock feeding and herd movement and developing complementary sources of household income The Fulani are organising themselves from local to national level to provide technological and socio cultural services manage conflicts and gain a stronger political voice e g to be able to achieve demarcation of corridors for moving livestock through cultivated areas They even use non functioning mini dairies another example of development intervention to demonstrate their modernity and to open up other opportunities to transform their pastoral systems This book provides insights into normally hidden technical and social dynamics that are
