Henrichs-Tarasenkova, 2015-11-19 Henrichs Tarasenkova argues against a long tradition of scholars about how best to represent Luke s Christology When read against the backdrop of ancient ways of constructing personal identity key texts in the Lukan narrative demonstrate that Luke indirectly characterizes Jesus as the one God of Israel together with YHWH Henrichs Tarasenkova employs a narrative approach that takes into consideration recent studies of narrative and history and enables her to construct characters of YHWH and Jesus within the Lukan narrative She employs Richard Bauckham s concept of divine identity that she evaluates against her study of how one might speak of personal identity in the Greco Roman world She engages in close reading of key texts to demonstrate how Luke speaks of YHWH as God in order to demonstrate that Luke Acts upholds a traditional Jewish view that only the God of Israel is the one living God and to eliminate false expectations for how Luke should speak of Jesus as God This analysis establishes how Luke binds Jesus identity to the divine identity of YHWH and concludes that the Lukan narrative in fact does portray Jesus as God when it shows that Jesus shares YHWH s divine identity Cybersecurity For Dummies Joseph Steinberg, 2019-10-01 Protect your business and family

Manning the Law Ngaire Naffine, 2025-09-18 This is a study of elite English men of English law and the methods they used to retain and justify their power and privilege through controlling the story of the legal person It looks at how these men of legal authority thought of themselves and their institution how they studied and explained law and how they put themselves in the middle of it as the standard human in need of legal regulation and protection and in charge of that regulation and protection and assigned to women an inferior legal role and being The main strategy used to do all this was manipulation of the concept of the legal person From the 1860s to the 1920s the courts declared that women were not persons who could exercise public power to vote to sit in Parliament to gain degrees to be lawyers Up to the end of the 20th century and into the 21st women s personhood remained precarious in the private sphere for rape was excused within a marriage and female reproduction remained under state control as it still does The book examines the active exclusion of women from the means of making legal meaning especially the ability to shape law s central concept and shows the epistemological effects of this sex differential of legal power which are still felt today Leading legal thinkers who helped to masculinise the concept of the person to the detriment of women are still revered Law s continuing male orientation is neither seen nor acknowledged and the legal person is treated falsely as if he had always been and remains anyone

Love and Intimacy in Online Cross-Cultural Relationships Wilasinee

Pananakhonsab, 2016-11-16 This book challenges assumptions about the motivations that drive women from relatively poor developing countries to use intermarriage dating sites to find partners from relatively wealthy developed countries. It is generally assumed that economic deprivation or economic opportunities are the main factors, but this book instead focuses on the work of women's imagination in online cross-cultural relationships, including the role of desire, love, and intimacy. The experiences of Thai women are used to explore how they initiate, develop, and maintain love and intimacy with Western men across distance and time. The book shows that in the absence of opportunities to search and meet partners from geographically distant parts of the world, the technology of the internet offers new ways of searching for and managing relationships and has significant consequences for local experiences and expectations of love and partnering. The book will be of interest to scholars and students with an interest in family and intimate life, gender and sexualities, Asian and Thai studies, globalization, and nationalism, culture and media, sociology, and anthropology.

Lavender James Mansfield, 2011-07-19

After receiving his discharge from a two-year stint in the army during the Korean War, Spencer Corbin moves to southern California, gets a job, and spends his free time going to bars and movies. Not long after he arrives, he begins having a series of related dreams about a beautiful woman called Lavender. He falls in love with her because she is safe. Spencer has no interest in marriage nor a steady girlfriend. One Saturday morning, two beautiful women, Stefanie and Joanna, who are lesbians, move into a bungalow next to his. Stefanie is a free-lance painter. Spencer asks her to paint a portrait of Lavender from his description of her. Soon, Spencer falls in love with Stefanie but regards her as with Lavender, a safe situation because she is in a relationship with Joanna. Ultimately, the relationship between Stefanie and Joanna cools, and Stefanie falls in love with Spencer. However, Spencer never becomes aware of that and does not declare his love for her. Stefanie, who has never ever had any feelings for a man, does not declare her love for Spencer because she does not understand those feelings and because she believes he might eventually dump her as he has done with other women. He has always made it very clear to her that he is not interested in anything resembling a permanent relationship with a woman. The Lavender dreams continue unabated throughout the novel, and after a while, even Stefanie begins having Lavender dreams. No matter who dreams them, the same three people, Lavender, Stefanie, and Spencer, are always in them. Sometimes, Spencer finds it difficult to separate his dreams from the real world in which he lives. Toward the end of the novel, Spencer turns his wasteful life around and thanks in large part to his love for Stefanie, pursues and obtains his Ph.D. in History from USC. He had obtained a Masters degree in History prior to his army service. Then he is hired as a professor at USC. This is the happiest time of his life, and he finally decides to tell Stefanie that he loves her, regardless of how she might take the news. But something intervenes to delay that confession. In the end, do the two worlds, that of the dreams and that of the real existence, merge as one, or is one world shed in deference to the other?
