Masters of Illusion Frank S. Ravitch,2007-04-01 Many legal theorists and judges agree on one major premise in the field of law and religion that religion clause jurisprudence is in a state of disarray and has been for some time In Masters of Illusion Frank S Ravitch provocatively contends that both hard originalism a strict focus on the intent of the Framers and neutrality are illusory in religion clause jurisprudence the former because it cannot live up to its promise for either side in the debate and the latter because it is simply impossible in the religion clause context Yet these two principles have been used in almost every Supreme Court decision addressing religion clause questions Ravitch unpacks the various principles of religion clause interpretation drawing on contemporary debates such as school prayer and displaying the Ten Commandments on courthouses to demonstrate that the neutrality principle does not work in a pluralistic society When defined by large overarching principles of equality and liberty neutrality fails to account for differences between groups and individuals If however the Court drew on a variety of principles instead of a single notion of neutrality to decide whether or not laws facilitated or discouraged religious practices the result could be a more equitable approach to religion clause cases

Choices for The Choiceless: "The Lost Sheep" Nanette Bruneaux, Nanatte Phillips, 2009-09-15 Quiet simply this book is about the trials of life never giving up and continuing to seek real life changing answers Thereby gaining knowledge from every trial of life through educating yourself which is sometimes given freely or learned through missteps In chronological order she shares her life as well as documenting the regiment of care for an aging infirmed parent It includes lots of knowledgeable and interesting reading for literally everyone Finally this book is ultimately a celebration of life and celebration of death when each are within their appropriate time although more often than not we control and choose that appointed time inappropriately solutions that work Texting while driving Binge drinking Unprotected sex There are plenty of reasons for parents to worry about getting a late night call about their teen But most of the advice parents and educators hear about teens is outdated and unscientific and simply doesn't work Acclaimed adolescent psychiatrist and educator Jess Shatkin brings more than two decades worth of research and clinical experience to the subject along with cutting edge findings from brain science evolutionary psychology game theory and other disciplines plus a widely curious mind and the perspective of a concerned dad himself Using science and stories fresh analogies clinical anecdotes and research based observations Shatkin explains Why scared straight adult logic and draconian punishment don't work Why the teen brain is born to be wild shaped by evolution to explore and take risks The surprising role of brain development hormones peer pressure screen time and other key factors What parents and teachers can do in everyday interactions teachable moments and specially chosen activities and outings to work with teens need for risk rewards and social acceptance not against it Presents new research as well as insights as a clinician and a father This book is a clear argument to stop putting ourselves in our children's shoes and to try putting ourselves in their minds instead The Washington Post With stories personal and professional neuroscience and cognition psychology and clinical experience Dr Shatkin offers an abundance of understandable engaging and actionable information He explains why and shows how We can reduce risk in the adolescents we love and teach but only if we know to how to do so and then do it Born To Be Wild shows us the way to succeed Psychology Today Winner National Parenting Product Award 2017 Messages from Children ... and What They Can Teach Grown-Ups Kathleen O'Malley DC,2013-04-24 and a little child shall lead them Early one Sunday morning my daughter was cutting and pasting from a magazine as part of her second grade homework assignment She was singing making up the words as she went along She really caught my attention as she sang the words Im doing what I was born to do What a beautiful song I said So what were you born to do She paused for just a brief moment then looked at me with a grin and said To be a kid How do we stop fighting for our survival and get back to thriving How do we return to that sense of knowing that all of our needs will be met How do we restore that inborn trust natural wonder sense of joy and peace How do we step unto our true path and come to know that for which we were made According to Dr Kathleen O'Malley the answers lie in Messages from Children and What They Can Teach Grown ups It is a collection of eighty eight timely and powerful messages for self healing personal growth and leading a more meaningful existence It shows us how to power up our intuitive sense pay attention to what really matters and cultivate our creative energies It serves as a reminder that every person is an expression of divine love and a gift to this world Who Cares What You Think? It's All BS Anyway! James Sibley,2021-02-10 We all create stories to explain what we experience Every shared experience is not necessarily equally shared The stories we create about our experiences are uniquely our own So what follows is a little flavor of what's contained within In the beginning sensations were scattered like seeds Selectively planting thoughts that reflected our needs These thoughts organically blossomed and grew Subtly taking root in our evolving point of view Interest and focused meditation caused us to think Creating ever more imaginative and complex links These mental links eventually formed the foundation For the beliefs that would drive future story creation Fertile minds became active laboratories Quickly transforming thoughts into elaborate stories Thoughts and preferences became the proverbial clay Molding and shaping each story in a very special way Biases became silent contributors to story creation Leading us to share less fact and more interpretation Soon it didn t matter whether stories were true Only that they had personal value to you When later we revisit the stories we created We find some are still fresh and others outdated But no matter what we feel or others might say The reality remains that it s all BS anyway The end 100
