Reality And Shadows:

Shadows of Being Marko Uršič, 2019-01-15 This book is a study of the phenomena of shadows meant in a broader sense as symbolic forms The shadow is a less real surface replica of some more real form From the Platonic point of view empirical objects are shadows of ideas while from the modern natural point of view shadows are seen and conceived primarily as weaker replicas of bodies which give evidence of their material reality In the first three essays here several topics from the Ancient Egypt and Greece to modern arts and sciences are considered while in the fourth essay the contemporary virtual reality cyber technology and the internet as our parallel shadow world are discussed from the philosophical point of view The main and innovative point of this book is the connection between the meaning of shadows in philosophy and art on the one hand and their role in modern science and technology on the other The book will appeal to a wide span of readers from academic circles students and artists to the general reader interested in the humanities especially in philosophy and art

Reality Simulation in Science Fiction Literature, Film and Television Heather Duerre Humann, 2019-08-27 In recent decades science fiction in both print and visual media has produced an outpouring of story lines that feature forms of simulated reality These depictions appear with such frequency that fictional portrayals of simulated worlds have become a popular sci fi trope one that prompts timeless questions about the nature of reality while also tapping into contemporary debates about emerging technologies In combination with tech driven tensions this study shows that our collective sense of living in politically uncertain times also propels the popularity of these story lines Because of the kinds of questions they raise and the cultural anxieties they provoke these fictional representations provide a window into contemporary culture and demonstrate how we are reassessing our own reality

Irrevocable Alphonso Lingis, 2018-11-13 A lyrical and personal philosophical inquiry into the weight of reality the weight of things and the weight of life itself Drawing from philosophy anthropology psychology religion and science Alphonso Lingis seeks to uncover what in our reality escapes our attempts at measuring and categorizing Writing as much from his own experiences as from his longstanding engagement with phenomenology and existentialism Irrevocable studies the world in which shadows reflections halos and reverberations count as much as the carpentry of things Whether describing religious art and ritual suffering war and disease the pleasures of love the wonders of nature archaeological findings surfing volcanoes or jellyfish Lingis writes with equal measures of rigor and abandon about the vicissitudes of our practices and beliefs Knowing that birth the essential encounters in our lives crippling diseases and accidents and even death are all determined by chance how do we recognize and understand such chance After facing tragedies what makes it possible to live on while recognizing our irrevocable losses Lingis's investigations are accompanied by his own vivid photographs from around the world Balancing the local and the global and ranging across vast expanses of culture and time Irrevocable sounds the depths of both our passions and our impassioned bodies and minds

Art & Its Shadow Mario Perniola, 2004-05-01 Art and its Shadow is an extraordinary analysis of the state and meaning of contemporary art and film Ranging across the work of Andy Warhol cyberpunk Wim Wenders Derek Jarman thinking on difference and the possibility of a philosophical cinema Mario Perniola examines the latest and most disturbing tendencies in art Perniola explores how art notably in posthumanism psychotic realism and extreme art continues to survive despite the hype of the art market and the world of mass communication and reproduction He argues that the meaning of art in the modern world no longer lies in aesthetic value above the art work nor in popular taste below the art work but beside the artwork in the shadow created by both the art establishment and the world of mass communications In this shadow is what is left out of account by both market and mass media the difficulty of art a knowledge that can never be fully revealed and a new aesthetic future

The Semiotics of Light and Shadows Piotr Sadowski, 2017-12-28 Lighting and shadows are used within a range of art forms to create aesthetic effects Piotr Sadowski's study of light and shadow in Weimar cinema and contemporaneous visual arts is underpinned by the evolutionary semiotic theories of indexicality and iconicity These theories explain the unique communicative and emotive power of light and shadow when used in contemporary indexical media including the shadow theatre silhouette portraits camera obscura photography and film In particular Sadowski highlights the aesthetic and emotional significance of shadows The cast shadow as an indexical sign maintains a physical connection with its near present referent such as a hidden person stimulating a viewer's imagination and provoking responses including anxiety or curiosity The cinematic shadow plays a stylistic role by enhancing image texture depth of field and tonal contrast of cinematic moments Such enhancements are especially important in monochromatic films and Sadowski interweaves the book with accounts of seminal Weimar cinema moments Sadowski's book is distinctive for combining historical materials and theoretical approaches to develop a deeper understanding of Weimar cinema and other contemporary art forms The Semiotics of Light and Shadows is an ideal resource for both scholars and students working in linguistics semiotics film media and visual arts

Conrad's Shadow Nidesh Lawtoo, 2016-09-01 Western thought has often dismissed shadows as fictional but what if fictions reveal original truths Drawing on an anti Platonic tradition in critical theory Lawtoo adopts ethical anthropological and philosophical lenses to offer new readings of Joseph Conrad's novels and the postcolonial and cinematic works that respond to his oeuvre He argues that Conrad's fascination with doubles urges readers to reflect on the two sides of mimesis one side is dark and pathological and involves the escalation of violence contagious epidemics and catastrophic storms the other side is luminous and therapeutic and promotes communal survival postcolonial reconciliation and plastic adaptations to changing environments Once joined the two sides reveal Conrad as an author whose Janus faced fictions are powerfully relevant to our contemporary world of global violence and environmental crisis
