Rearranging And Other Stories:

Rearranging David Gifaldi, 1998 A collection of nine stories by the author about young people struggling with personal issues

More Than Guided Reading Cathy Mere, 2005 Is there too much emphasis on guided reading in primary classrooms? It is a question that many educators like kindergarten teacher and literacy coach Cathy Mere are starting to ask. Guided reading provides opportunities to teach students the strategies they need to learn how to read increasingly challenging texts, but Cathy found that she needed to find other ways to help students gain independence. While maintaining guided reading as an important piece of their reading program, teachers need to offer students opportunities during the day to develop as readers: to learn to choose books, to find favorite genres and authors, and to talk about their reading. In More Than Guided Reading, Cathy shares her journey as she moved from focusing on guided reading as the center of her reading program to placing children at the heart of literacy learning, not only providing more time for students to discover their reading lives but also shaping instruction to meet the needs of the diverse learners in her classroom. By changing the structure of the day, Cathy found she was better able to adjust the support she was providing students, allowing time for whole class focus lessons, conferences, and opportunities to share ideas, as well as reading from self-selected texts, using the strategies, skills, and understandings acquired in reader's workshop. The focus lesson is the centerpiece of the workshop. It is often tied to a read-aloud and connected to learning from the previous day, helping to build skills, extend thinking, and develop independence over time. This thoroughly practical text offers numerous sample lessons, questions for conferences, and ideas for revamping guided reading groups. It will help teachers tweak the mix of instructional components in their reading workshops and provoke school-wide conversations about the place of guided reading in a complete literacy curriculum.

Toby's Little Eden and Other Stories John Flannery, 2010 The first story in this collection of short stories, The Ghostwriter, is about a very successful thriller writer who seems to be possessed by the spirit of Charles Dickens. This leads him to battle his inner demons and question his atheistic attitude. The second story is called Something To Do and features an ordinary man who decides to become a writer. His quotidian task is complicated by slightly obsessive thoughts relating to an old flame. The third story, entitled Toby's Little Eden, focuses on a strapping young man who is happily dormant and isolated in his beautiful garden in North London, but the arrival of a new young housekeeper leads him to reluctantly come out of his shell. Found Wanting is about a man who seeks to gently nudge his wife back into prostitution, but is he pushing at an open door? The final story, Carlinton Park G.C., is really a series of comical sketches featuring the groundstaff of a new golf course in North Manchester.

"The Sting of Death" and Other Stories Toshio Shimao, 2020-06-01 Until a recent boom, Shimao Toshio, writer of short fiction, critic, and essayist, was not widely known even in Japan. He has never won the Akutagawa or the Naoki Prize, and none of his works had previously appeared in English translation. He is less well known than other writers, Yasuoka Shotaro, Kojima Nobuo, and Shono Junzo, with whom he has associated, and whose works have been liberally translated into English. Yet there are those who consider him to be one of the best contemporary writers in Japan This volume by no means exhausts the scope of Shimao's fiction There are no stories here for instance about childhood or student life and none of his many travel stories Some of his most famous stories When we Never Left Port for example have not been included But the stories presented here do offer a considerable variety of style from the pristine storybook language of The Farthest Edge of the Islands to the young intellectual's jargon of Everyday Life in a Dream to the visionary hysterical occasionally ritualistic prose of the sick wife stories to the sober difficult almost ponderous narration of This Time That Summer Shimao's approach to his material varies as well Everyday Life in a Dream is the only representative here of a large number of stories usually called surrealistic by the critics stories whose plots progress by the logic of dreams The individual experience of real life are lived through a combination of conscious and unconscious perception These stories are the least approachable and the least charming to the casual reader but they serve among other things to highlight patterns in the more realistic fiction The Farthest Edge of the Islands is a symbolic heightening of reality in another way a romantic fairy tale beginning at the extremity of experience at the farthest edge of the world The other stories are presented as precise close chronicles of reality by a participant in that reality whose attention never waivers and who never allows himself to avert his eyes from a world that he sees as his responsibility and in a sense his fault All but the first story The Farthest Edge of the Islands which is in third person narration are told in the first person by the character who plays Shimao's role in the life that inspired the fiction
