Anthropology, Colonial Policy and the Decline of French Empire in Africa Douglas W. Leonard, 2019-12-26 Conceived as both a vehicle to national prestige and as a civilizing mission the second French colonial empire 1830 1962 challenged soldiers scholars and administrators to understand societies radically different from their own The resultant networks of anthropological inquiry however did not have this effect Rather they opened pathways to political and intellectual independence framed in the language of social science and in the process upended the colonial political system and reshaped the nature of human inquiry in France While still unequal French colonial rule in Africa revealed the durability and strength of non European modes of thought In this influential new study historian Douglas W Leonard examines the political and intellectual repercussions of French efforts to understand and to dominate colonial Africa through the use of anthropology From General Louis Faidherbe in the 1840s to politician Jacques Soustelle and sociologist Pierre Bourdieu in the 1950s these French thinkers sowed the seeds of colonial destruction

The Ottoman Scramble for Africa Mostafa Minawi,2016-06-15 The Ottoman Scramble for Africa is the first book to tell the story of the Ottoman Empire s expansionist efforts during the age of high imperialism Following key representatives of the sultan on their travels across Europe Africa and Arabia at the close of the nineteenth century it takes the reader from Istanbul to Berlin from Benghazi to Lake Chad Basin to the Hijaz and then back to Istanbul It turns the spotlight on the Ottoman Empire s expansionist strategies in Africa and its increasingly vulnerable African and Arabian frontiers Drawing on previously untapped Ottoman archival evidence Mostafa Minawi examines how the Ottoman participation in the Conference of Berlin and involvement in an aggressive competition for colonial possessions in Africa were part of a self reimagining of this once powerful global empire In so doing Minawi redefines the parameters of agency in late nineteenth century colonialism to include the Ottoman Empire and turns the typical framework of a European colonizer and a non European colonized on its head Most importantly Minawi offers a radical revision of nineteenth century Middle East history by providing a counternarrative to the Sick Man of Europe trope challenging the idea that the Ottomans were passive observers of the great European powers negotiations over solutions to the so called Eastern Question on empire The broad range of themes captures the vitality and diversity of contemporary scholarship on questions of empire and colonialism encompassing political economic and cultural processes central to the formation and maintenance of empires as well as institutions ideologies and social categories that shaped the lives both of those implementing and those experiencing the force of empire In these pages the reader will find the slave and the criminal the merchant and the maid the scientist and the artist alongside the structures which sustained their lives and their livelihoods Overall the companion emphasises the diversity of imperial experience and process Comprehensive in its scope it draws attention to the particularities of individual empires rather than over generalising as if all empires at all times and in all places behaved in a similar manner It is this contingent and historical specificity that enables us to explore in expansive ways precisely what constituted the modern empire
