Survivorship Patricia A. Ganz, 2007-07-28 Cancer survivors have increased in number more than threefold over the last 30 years to the current level of 10 million and growing. Among patients diagnosed today, nearly two thirds are expected to survive 5 or more years. This success may be attributed to the expertise of physicians and nurses from multiple disciplines who precisely execute a complex plan based in clinical research. Yet after a period of orchestrated and frequent interaction with healthcare professionals bolstered by the attention and encouragement of family and friends, the cancer patient may view the end of treatment with anxiety and concern. And what exactly is the plan? Just as healthcare providers are expected to keep up to date with the latest in treatment and prevention, they must now coordinate and provide comprehensive survivor care. This significant text, organized and edited by Patricia A. Ganz and involving the contributions of over 40 distinguished authors, provides a greatly needed resource for survivor care today and tomorrow. The current attention on cancer survivorship represents a convergence of burgeoning survivor numbers, a corpus of data on late treatment effects in children and adults, and increased public and professional awareness. Dr. Ganz and many of the contributors to this comprehensive text pioneered cancer survivorship, and they must justifiably be proud that their advocacy and commitment to survivor care and research have resulted in in-depth reports by the President's Cancer Panel, several Institute of Medicine studies, and this timely text.

Containing many healthy living tips to promote healing of the body as well as healing the mind and soul.

Co-use of medicines in surgery, 2nd edition Songwen Tan, Weiguo Li, Chuanpin Chen, 2025-03-03 Download the ebooks for this Research Topic Volume I A PDF EPUB Volume I B PDF EPUB Co-use of medicines in surgery is important for a successful operation. There are several kinds of drugs used for preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative treatment. For instance, the co-use of sterilization, anti-inflammation, and hemostasis drugs is necessary for most surgical operations. Moreover, the sedative drugs used preoperatively can alleviate patients' concerns. The anti-allergic drugs, i.e. hormone drugs, can prevent allergies caused by some medications used during surgery. The drugs inhibiting glandular secretion can reduce the secretion of sputum, which keeps patients' respiratory tract unobstructed and reduces the risk of aspiration. Before and after surgery, the use of anti-cancer, visceral, and many other medicines play a key role in disease treatment. Current disease treatment is based on medicine and surgery. In many hospitals, however, the drug department is not directly involved in surgical operation. Although the doctors have sufficient knowledge in medicines, it is suggested to pay more attention to the interaction and balance between medicine and surgery. With the development of new drugs, there are growing needs of co-use of medicines for preoperative, intraoperative, and postoperative treatment. Therefore, this Research Topic would attract surgical studies with specificities in using medicines and advanced
