Rediscovering Ben Hecht Vol 1 Selling The Celluloid Serpent:

Cinematic Fictions David Seed, 2012-01-01 The phrase cinematic fiction has now been generally accepted into critical discourse but is usually applied to post war novels This book asks a simple question given their fascination with the new medium of film did American novelists attempt to apply cinematic methods in their own writings From its very beginnings the cinema has played a special role in defining American culture Covering the period from the 1910s up to the Second World War Cinematic Fictions offers new insights into classics like The Great Gatsby and The Grapes of Wrath discussing major writers critical writings on film and active participation in film making Cinematic Fictions is also careful not to portray cinema as a single or stable entity Some novelists drew on silent film others looked to the Russian theorists for inspiration and yet others turned to continental film makers rather than to Hollywood Film itself was constantly evolving during the first decades of the twentieth century and the writers discussed here engaged in a kind of dialogue with the new medium selectively pursuing strategies of montage limited point of view and scenic composition towards their different ends Contrasting a diverse range of cinematic and literary movements this will be compulsory reading for scholars of American literature and film Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Art & Architecture on 1001 Afternoons in Chicago Ben Hecht, Florice Whyte Kovan, 2002 Ben Hecht newspaper stories of the early 1920s about architecture art and the struggling modernist artists on the Chicago cultural scene Hardcover expanding upon Florice Whyte Kovan's original spiral in chamise artist book to which she added illustrated two page spreads about artists George Grosz Stanislaw Szukalski and Herman Rosse as well as the Chicago no jury artists Expanded endnotes Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Silent Film Necrology Eugene Michael Vazzana, 2001 This greatly expanded over 18 500 entries versus 9 000 in the earlier edition and updated edition includes everyone from John Aasen an 8 foot 9 inch circus star who appeared in silent film comedies to Vladimir Kosma Zworykin who invented the iconoscope and kinescope that together constituted the first all electronic television system This is the most complete necrology available on people from the silent era The entries are arranged alphabetically by professional name and include birth and death dates the place of birth and death real name when it differs from the professional name married name for women birth certificate date when available age at death and bibliographic data of any autobiography or biography When available the cause of death is also provided Following these data there is a reference to any obituary printed in The New York Times Variety or occasionally another publication including the obituary's headline Ben Hecht William MacAdams, 1983
