Researching Violence Raymond M. Lee, Elizabeth A. Stanko, 2014-06-11. Violence is a research topic that is fraught with difficulties. A notoriously sensitive subject and one that is presumed to be largely hidden, researchers have long struggled with the question of how to measure its impact and how to explore its incidence. Arising from the ESRC's Violence Research Programme, Researching Violence is a practical guide both to these problems and to the obstacles encountered when negotiating this uneasy terrain. Comprising the reflections of researchers who have worked on diverse projects from violence in the home to racial violence and homicide, this book demonstrates the ingenuity and at times courageous actions of researchers having to think on their feet. It also investigates the ethical and emotional issues arising from working with the victims and perpetrators of violence. This book will be indispensable for students and academics doing research projects on violence.

Social Science Research Ethics for a Globalizing World Keerty Nakray, Margaret Alston, Kerri Whittenbury, 2015-10-14. Research in the humanities and social sciences thrives on critical reflections that unfold with each research project, not only in terms of knowledge created but in whether chosen methodologies served their purpose. Ethics forms the bulwark of any social science research methodology, and it requires continuous engagement and reengagement for the greater advancement of knowledge. Each chapter in this book will draw from the empirical knowledge created through intensive fieldwork and provide an account of ethical questions faced by the contributors, placing them in the context of contemporary debates surrounding the theory and practice of ethics. The chapters have been thematically organized into five sections: Feminist Ethics; Cross Cultural Reflections and Its Implications for Change; Researching Physical and Sexual Violence in Non Academic Settings; A Need for Ethical Protocols; Human Agency, Reciprocity, Participation, and Activism; Meanings for Social Science Research Ethics; Emotions, Conflict, and Dangerous Fields; Issues of Safety and Reflective Research; and Social Science Education Training in Ethics or Ethical Training and Ethical Publicizing. This interdisciplinary volume will interest students and researchers in academic and non academic settings in core disciplines of Anthropology, Sociology, Law, Political Science, International Relations, Geography, or interdisciplinary degrees in Development.
