Resistance No 1 Night And Fog:

Memory and Complicity Debarati Sanyal, 2015-03-02 A sophisticated nuanced and beautifully written account of the intersecting legacies of genocide and colonialism in postwar France Michael Rothberg author of Multidirectional Memory Remembering the Holocaust in the Age of Decolonization Since World War II French and Francophone literature and film have repeatedly sought not to singularize the Holocaust as the paradigm of historical trauma but rather to connect its memory with other memories of violence namely that of colonialism These works produced what Debarati Sanyal calls a memory in complicity attuned to the gray zones that implicate different regimes of violence across history as well as those of different subject positions such as victim perpetrator witness and reader spectator Examining a range of works from Albert Camus Primo Levi Alain Resnais and Jean Paul Sartre to Jonathan Littell Assia Djebar Giorgio Agamben and Boualem Sansal Memory and Complicity develops an inquiry into the political force and ethical dangers of such implications contrasting them with contemporary models for thinking about trauma and violence and offering an extended meditation on the role of aesthetic form especially allegory within acts of transhistorical remembrance What are the political benefits and ethical risks of invoking the memory of one history in order to address another What is the role of complicity in making these connections How does complicity rather than affect based discourses of trauma shame and melancholy open a critical engagement with the violence of history What is it about literature and film that have made them such powerful vehicles for this kind of connective memory work As it offers new readings of some of the most celebrated and controversial novelists filmmakers and playwrights from the French speaking world Memory and Complicity addresses these questions in order to reframe the way we think about historical memory and its political uses today Stalinism in Kazakhstan Zhulduzbek Abylkhozhin, Mikhail Akulov, Alexandra Tsay, 2021-03-24 Stalinism in Kazakhstan History Memory and Representation is a multi disciplinary collection of essays from Central Asian authors The volume is devoted to violence and socio economic transformation during the Stalinist repressions in Kazakhstan and explores collective trauma selective memory and representations in contemporary art and literature Godard and Sound Albertine Fox, 2017-12-18 What happens when we listen to a film How can we describe the relationship of sound to vision in cinema and in turn our relationship as spectators with the audio visual Jean Luc Godard understood the importance of the soundtrack in cinema and relied heavily on the impact of carefully constructed sound to produce innovative effects For the first time this book brings together his post 1979 multimedia works and an analysis of their rich soundscapes The book provides detailed critical discussions of feature length films shorts and videos delving into Godard's inventive experiments with the cinematic soundtrack and offering new insights into his latest 3D films By detailing the production contexts and philosophy behind Godard's idiosyncratic sound design it provides an accessible route to understanding his complex use of music speech and environmental sound alongside the distorting effects of speed alteration and auditory excess The book is framed by the concept of acoustic spectatorship a way of cultivating active listening in the viewer It also draws on ideas by leading sound theorists philosophers musicians and poets giving particular emphasis to the pioneering thought of French sound engineer and theorist Pierre Schaeffer Softening the boundaries between film studies sound studies and musicology Godard and Sound re evaluates Godard s work from a sonic perspective and will prove essential reading for those wishing to rebalance the importance of sound for the study of cinema

The Story in Fiction and Film of French Collaboration in the Occupation and Complicity in the Holocaust (1940-1944)

Daniel R. Schwarz,2025-07-09 This book examines fiction and film narratives that show the active collaboration of the Vichy government with the Nazis in the deportation and murder of the Jews of France It also explains how these fiction and film narratives affected the official and dominant historical narrative of the 1940 44 Occupation years More than anything what changed the dominant narrative of the Occupation years are documentaries and creative works which imaginatively selected and arranged the presentation of neglected and suppressed facts By stressing how documentaries novels and imaginative films changed the dominant narrative of 1940 1944 the author is also arguing how cultural production transformed history

Trial Films on Trial Austin Sarat,Jessica Silbey,Martha Merrill Umphrey,2019-04-02 A collection of wide ranging critical essays that examine how the judicial system is represented on screen Historically the emergence of the trial film genre coincided with the development of motion pictures In fact one of the very first feature length films Falsely Accused released in 1908 was a courtroom drama Since then this niche genre has produced such critically acclaimed films as Twelve Angry Men To Kill a Mockingbird and Anatomy of a Murder The popularity and success of these films can be attributed to the fundamental similarities of filmic narratives and trial proceedings Both seek to construct a reality through storytelling and representation and in so doing persuade the audience or jury to believe what they see Trial Films on Trial Law Justice and Popular Culture is the first book to focus exclusively on the special significance of trial films for both film and legal studies The contributors to this volume offer a contemporary approach to the trial film genre Despite the fact that the medium of film is one of the most pervasive means by which many citizens receive come to know the justice system these trial films are rarely analyzed and critiqued The chapters cover a variety of topics such as how and why film audiences adopt the role of the jury the narrative and visual conventions employed by directors and the ways mid to late twentieth century trial films offered insights into the events of that period

Concentrationary Imaginaries Griselda Pollock,Max Silverman,2015-11-30 In 1945 French political prisoners returning from the concentration camps of Germany coined the phrase the concentrationary universe to describe the camps as a terrible political experiment in the destruction of the human This book shows how the unacknowledged legacy of a totalitarian mentality has seeped into the deepest recesses of everyday popular culture It asks if the concentrationary now infests our cultural imaginary normalizing what was once considered horrific and exceptional by transforming into entertainment violations of human life Drawing on the political philosophy of Hannah Arendt and the analyses of violence by Agamben Virilio Lacoue Labarthe and Nancy it also offers close readings of films by Cavani and

Haneke that identify and critically expose such an imaginary and hence contest its lingering force

Musical Witness and Holocaust Representation Amy Lynn Wlodarski, 2015-07-09 This is the first musicological study entirely devoted to a comprehensive analysis of musical Holocaust representations in the Western art music tradition Through a series of chronological case studies grounded in primary source analysis Amy Lynn Wlodarski analyses the compositional processes and conceptual frameworks that provide key pieces with their unique representational structures and critical receptions The study examines works composed in a variety of musical languages from Arnold Schoenberg's dodecaphonic A Survivor from Warsaw to Steve Reich's minimalist Different Trains and situates them within interdisciplinary discussions about the aesthetics and ethics of artistic witness At the heart of this book are important questions about how music interacts with language and history memory and trauma and politics and mourning Wlodarski's detailed musical and cultural analyses provide new models for the assessment of the genre illustrating the benefits and consequences of musical Holocaust representation in the second half of the twentieth century

Concentrationary Art Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2019-04-22 Largely forgotten over the years the seminal work of French poet novelist and camp survivor Jean Cayrol has experienced a revival in the French speaking world since his death in 2005 His concept of a concentrationary art the need for an urgent and constant aesthetic resistance to the continuing effects of the concentrationary universe proved to be a major influence for Hannah Arendt and other writers and theorists across a number of disciplines Concentrationary Art presents the first translation into English of Jean Cayrol's key essays on the subject as well as the first book length study of how we might situate and elaborate his concept of a Lazarean aesthetic in cultural theory literature cinema music and contemporary art

Probing the Ethics of Holocaust Culture Claudio Fogu, Wulf Kansteiner, Todd Presner, 2016-10-17 Probing the Ethics of Holocaust Culture is a reappraisal of the controversies that have shaped Holocaust studies since the 1980s Historians artists and writers question if and why the Holocaust should remain the ultimate test case for ethics and a unique reference point for how we understand genocide and crimes against humanity

Cinepoetry Christophe Wall-Romana, 2013-01-28 Cinepoetry analyzes how French poets have remapped poetry through the lens of cinema for more than a century In showing how poets have drawn on mass culture technology and material images to incorporate the idea technique and experience of cinema into writing Wall-Romana documents the long history of cross media concepts and practices often thought to emerge with the digital In showing the cinematic consciousness of Mallarmé and Breton and calling for a reappraisal of the influential poetry theory of the early filmmaker Jean Epstein Cinepoetry reevaluates the bases of literary modernism The book also explores the crucial link between trauma and trans medium experiments in the wake of two world wars and highlights the marginal identity of cinepoets who were often Jewish gay foreign born or on the margins What results is a broad rethinking of the relationship between film and literature The episteme of cinema the book demonstrates reached the very core of its supposedly highbrow rival while at the same time modern poetry cultivated the technocultural savvy that is found today in slams e poetry and poetic digital hybrids Airspaces David Pascoe,2001 This book argues that airspace the transitional area between check in desk and baggage carousel must be regarded as a discrete destination on any map of our age Manhattan Revenge John Cutter,1984 Judging 'Privileged' Jews Adam Brown,2015-05 The Nazis persecution of the Jews during the Holocaust included the creation of prisoner hierarchies that forced victims to cooperate with their persecutors Many in the camps and ghettos came to hold so called privileged positions and their behavior has often been judged as self serving and harmful to fellow inmates Such controversial figures constitute an intrinsically important frequently misunderstood and often taboo aspect of the Holocaust Drawing on Primo Levi s concept of the grey zone this study analyzes the passing of moral judgment on privileged Jews as represented by writers such as Raul Hilberg and in films including Claude Lanzmann s Shoah and Steven Spielberg s Schindler s List Negotiating the problems and potentialities of representing the unrepresentable this book engages with issues that are fundamental to present day attempts to understand the Holocaust and deeply relevant to reflections on human nature Counter-Memorial Aesthetics Veronica Tello,2016-10-20 Restrictive border protection policies directed toward managing the flow of refugees coming into neoliberal democracies and out of failing nation states are a defining feature of contemporary politics In this book Veronica Tello analyses how contemporary artists such as Tania Bruguera Isaac Julien Rosemary Laing Dinh Q L Dierk Schmidt Hito Steyerl Lyndell Brown and Charles Green negotiate their diverse subject positions while addressing and taking part in the production of images associated with refugee experiences and histories Tello argues that their practices which manifest across a range of contexts including Cuba the United States Australia and Europe represent an emergent global paradigm of contemporary art counter memorial aesthetics Counter Memorial Aesthetics Tello argues is characterized by its conjunction of heterogeneous signifiers and voices of many times and places generating an experimental non teleological approach to the construction of contemporary history which also takes into account the complex disorienting spatial affects of globalization Spanning performance art experimental history painting aftermath photography and video installation counter memorial aesthetics bring to the fore Tello argues how contemporary refugee flows and related traumatic events critically challenge and conflict with many existing tired if not also stubborn notions of national identity borders history and memory Building on the writings of such thinkers as Michel Foucault and Jacques Rancière this book offers a useful concept of counter memory for the twenty first century It shows how counter memorial aesthetics is not only central to the nexus of contemporary art and refugee histories but also how it can offer a way of being critically present with many other often interrelated global crises in the contemporary era The Publishers Weekly ,1982 Film and the Holocaust Aaron Kerner,2011-05-05 A sweeping survey of how global filmmakers have treated the subject of the Holocaust Holocaust Literature and Representation Phyllis Lassner,Judith

Tydor Baumel-Schwartz, 2023-02-09 Each scholar working in the field of Holocaust literature and representation has a story to tell Not only the scholarly story of the work they do but their personal story their journey to becoming a specialist in Holocaust studies What academic political cultural and personal experiences led them to choose Holocaust representation as their subject of research and teaching What challenges did they face on their journey What approaches genres media or other forms of Holocaust representation did they choose and why How and where did they find a scholarly home in which to share their work productively Have political social and cultural conditions today affected how they think about their work on Holocaust representation How do they imagine their work moving forward including new challenges responses and audiences These are but a few of the questions that the authors in this volume address showing how a scholar's field of research and resulting writings are not arbitrary and are often informed by their personal history and professional experiences
