W. Jones, R. M. Douglas, J. C. Caldwell, R. M. D'Souza, 1998-01-29 From the perspective of human society one of the most significant occurrences of the twentieth century has been the demographic transition the movement from tragic and wastefully high death and birth rates to low rates in many countries Many other countries however are still at only the early or intermediate stages of this process In these countries means need to be found to accelerate the transition This book brings new evidence to bear on aspects of the demographic transition with contributions from leading demographers anthropologists sociologists and historians The book ranges widely over the history and current experience of both developed and developing countries with particular emphasis on Asia and Africa The new field of anthropological demography is strongly represented with contributions challenging much conventional wisdom Climatic Change and Its Impacts Martin Beniston, 2005-12-30 Climatic Change is a rapidly evolving domain that has prompted the publication of numerous scientific works in recent years reflecting both the public and scientific interest in the topic This book focuses upon climate processes variability and change and applies the general principles related to these issues particularly in Switzerland Although a small country Switzerland is characterized by complex topography where climatic processes are often enhanced due to the presence of the Alps In addition there is a remarkable density of observational data in both the natural and social sciences that enable a comprehensive assessment of climate processes their long term trends and their impacts This book draws upon recent scientific work by the author as well as by close colleagues working within scientific networks both in Switzerland and Europe in order to provide the reader with up to date information on climate processes in the course of the 20th and 21st centuries This book is intended for students from the undergraduate level onwards and researchers interested in climate issues specific to the alpine region
