Responding To Fashion The Clothing Of The O'Reilly Family:

Responding to Fashion Virginia A. S. Careless, Royal British Columbia Museum, 1993 The project is based on the collection of O'Reilly clothing at the Royal British Columbia Museum This document begins by discussing the places where the author did her research and the types of sources that she consulted It discusses the author's findings concerning the condition and accessibility of the information on the topic It also looks at the used to which the findings have already been put and other potential outlets that exist for them

Ring Around the Maple Cynthia R. Comacchio, Neil Sutherland, 2024-10-29 Ring Around the Maple is about the condition of children in Canada from roughly 1850 to 2000 a time during which the modern increasingly disrupted traditional ways Authors Cynthia R Comacchio and Neil Sutherland trace the lives of children over this long century with a view to synthesizing the rich interdisciplinary often multi disciplinary literature that has emerged since the 1970s Integrated into this synthesis is the authors new research into many often seemingly disparate archival and published primary sources Emphasizing how the child and childhood are sociohistoric constructs and employing age analytically and relationally they discuss the constants and the variants in their historic dimensions While childhood tangibly modernized during these years it remained a far from universal experience due to identifiers of race gender culture region and intergenerational adaptations that characterize the process of growing up This work highlights children's perspectives through close critical against the grain readings of diaries correspondence memoirs interviews oral histories and autobiographies many buried in obscure archives It is the only extant historical discussion of Canadian children that interweaves the experiences of First Nations Métis and Inuit children with those of children from a number of settler groups Ring Around the Maple makes use of photographs catalogues advertisements government publications musical recordings radio shows television shows material goods documentary and feature films and other such visual and aural testimony Much of this evidence has not to date been used as historical testimony to uncover the lives of ordinary children This book is generously illustrated with photographs and ephemera carefully selected to reflect children's lives conditions interests and obligations It will be of special interest to historians and social scientists interested in children and the culture of childhood but will also appeal to readers who enjoy the little stories that together make up our collective history especially when those are told by the children who lived them

Windows and Words Susan-Ann Cooper, Aïda Hudson, 2003 Windows and Words is a collection of seventeen essays that confirms and celebrates the artistry of Canadian Children's Literature There are essays that survey a wealth of English language fiction from the internationally acclaimed work of Lucy Maud Montgomery the aboriginal adolescent novel to the increasingly multi cultural character of children's books Others examine book illustration visual literacy and the creative partnership seen in the picture book and its art design With contributions by two Governor General's Award winning authors Janet Lunn and Tim Wynne Jones and a final commentary by Elizabeth Waterson the heart of this collection offers a unique perspective on the artistry of writing for children and claims a rightful

Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian women's history. Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive.

Clue to a Culture Virginia A. S. Careless, Royal British Columbia Museum, 1993 This project originated from a notebook of recipes discovered in the Document Files of the Royal B C Museum's History Division in 1984. This document discusses the relevant material found in the different repositories. It presents a detailed examination of the replication of the recipes and offers findings and conclusions. It makes mention of additional work that could be done to complete the study of this topic. Finally it presents various uses to which this research has been put as well as future possibilities.

Canada and the Idea of North Sherrill E Grace, 2002-04-15 Canada and the Idea of North examines the ways in which Canadians have defined themselves as a northern people in their literature, art, music, drama, history, geography, politics, and popular culture. From the Franklin Mystery to the comic book superheroine Nelvana, Glenn Gould's documentaries, the paintings of Lawren Harris, and Molson beer ads, the idea of the north has been central to the Canadian imagination. Sherrill Grace argues that Canadians have always used ideas of Canada as North to promote a distinct national identity and national unity. In a penultimate chapter The North Writes Back, Grace presents newly emerging northern voices and shows how they view the long tradition of representing the North by southern activists, artists, and scholars. With the recent creation of Nunavut, increasing concern about northern ecosystems and social challenges, and renewed attention to Canada's role as a circumpolar nation, Canada and the Idea of North shows that nordicity still plays an urgent and central role in Canada at the start of the twenty-first century.

Who's Who of Canadian Women, 1999-2000 Gillian Holmes, 1999-06-01 Who's Who of Canadian Women is a guide to the most powerful and innovative women in Canada. Celebrating the talents and achievement of over 3,700 women, Who's Who of Canadian Women includes women from all over Canada in all fields including agriculture, academia, law, business, politics, journalism, religion, sports, and entertainment. Each biography includes such information as personal data, education, career history, current employment, affiliations, interests, and honours. A special comment section reveals personal thoughts, goals, and achievements of the profiled individual. Entries are indexed by employment or affiliation for easy reference. Published every two years, Who's Who of Canadian Women selects its biographees on merit alone. This collection is an essential resource for all those interested in the achievements of Canadian women.
