Responsive Schools Renewed Communities:

Responsive Schools, Renewed Communities Clifford W. Cobb, 1992 Choice in education is an issue of community empowerment As Clifford W Cobb demonstrates in this persuasive look at school choice the most effective schools are those founded in a community of parents students and teachers working together toward shared goals Cobb maintains that this kind of mutually supportive organization is essential to rescue not only our children s education but also the communities that protect us from the increasing domination of our lives by large bureaucratic institutions We must begin he believes to trust parents to choose the schools that best serve their needs and the needs of their children or to start their own schools if they have to This book makes a convincing case that the best way to achieve meaningful choice is through a system of enrollment vouchers used in conjunction with deregulation of public schools Cobb explains why watered down plans restricting choice to state controlled schools are sure to fail Reform must be complete In the system he proposes vouchers would be distributed to families for all children of school age and could be redeemed at either public or nonpublic schools of those families choice At the same time public schools would be allowed to operate as effectively as nonpublic schools free of the dead hand of bureaucracy This volume presents a wealth of evidence in support of vouchers describing programs in the United States as well as voucher like systems in other countries The author recounts the success of a voucher system for higher education the GI Bill and cites functioning voucher programs for housing and daycare He establishes that the contest surrounding vouchers is incorrectly seen as a struggle over public or private control of education Instead the political dialogue should be concerned with whether democracy is more likely to thrive where there is diversity fostered by choices If we blot out the distinctive features of subgroups within the United States Cobb warns we will destroy an important source of national strength Even if supporting community poses a risk of too much diversity he finds that a risk worth taking Cobb uses factual case studies to show how vouchers can enable poor families to help themselves Even without a voucher plan a surprising number of low income families already make use of nonpublic schools Desperate to get a child out of a debilitating public school environment a family living below the poverty line may forgo free schooling and choose instead a school where tuition must be paid a heroic act he observes entirely unrecognized by those who attack vouchers as elitist and contrary to democratic principles Cobb also describes how vouchers will offer racial and ethnic minorities the option of supporting integrated schools or of establishing separate schools in which to develop their own community leadership If you think of vouchers as subsidies for the rich this book will change your mind The author s deep belief in the potential of choice to build self governing communities together with the practical evidence he assembles in support of vouchers will give readers hope for the future of our schools and our society

Contemporary Perspectives on Families, Communities and Schools for Young Children Olivia Saracho, Bernard Spodek, 2006-03-01 Early childhood education has always been an enterprising one Innovative models that provide connections among the family community and school of early childhood will continue to emerge through the years to acknowledge new educational ideologies new social demands and new knowledge The issues addressed in this volume can provide new directions to prepare early childhood scholars researchers and practitioners to work as a team in these different settings

Resources in Education ,1998 Clearinghouse Review ,1994 Early Start Andrew Karch,2013-04-09 In the United States preschool education is characterized by the dominance of a variegated private sector and patchy uncoordinated oversight of the public sector Tracing the history of the American debate over preschool education Andrew Karch argues that the current state of decentralization and fragmentation is the consequence of a chain of reactions and counterreactions to policy decisions dating from the late 1960s and early 1970s when preschool advocates did not achieve their vision for a comprehensive national program but did manage to foster initiatives at both the state and national levels Over time beneficiaries of these initiatives and officials with jurisdiction over preschool education have become ardent defenders of the status quo Today advocates of greater government involvement must take on a diverse and entrenched set of constituencies resistant to policy change In his close analysis of the politics of preschool education Karch demonstrates how to apply the concepts of policy feedback critical junctures and venue shopping to the study of social policy

After the Crash Mason Gaffney,2009-11-16 This book analyzes in a new way the causes of the current crash by showing how such events derive from real estate bubbles and their interactions with banks and other lenders Analyzes the current crisis of the real estate crash and explains the recurring cycle which led to it Examines why frequent assessments are crucial to making the property tax an effective method of preventing speculative real estate bubbles Combines theoretical analysis with observed cycles of land speculation to demonstrate the impact on the modern economy Nominations of Alan Greenspan, Alice M. Rivlin, and Laurence H. Meyer United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs,1996

Activist and Socially Critical School and Community Renewal John Smyth, Lawrence Angus, Barry Down, Peter McInerney,2019-02-11 Activist and Socially Critical School and Community Renewal comes about at an incredibly important point in history and it offers a genuinely new paradigm This book attempts what few others have tried to bring together knowledge and literature around school reform and community renewal through authentic ethnographic stories of real schools and communities The book describes and analyzes a courageous struggle for a more socially just world around notions of relational solidarity that speak back to ideas that continue to privilege the already advantaged This book provides some desperately needed new storylines as a basis for school and community renewal for the most excluded groups in society It provides a new social imagination for doing school in contexts that stand to benefit from school and community voiced approaches

Community Indicators Measuring Systems Rhonda Phillips,2017-09-08 Community indicators measuring systems represent a mechanism to improve monitoring and evaluation in planning incorporating citizen involvement and participation They reflect the interplay between social environmental and economic factors affecting a region s or community s well being and as such can be extremely valuable to planners and developers Yet little research has been conducted on their efficacy This book provides a comprehensive review of how community development indicators evolved and examines their interplay with planning and development It questions how we adequately measure concepts associated with indicators systems and whether these systems are sustainable and can best evolve In doing so the book allows a better understanding of the theoretical underpinnings of community indicators measuring systems as well as how best to design and implement them Language, Culture, and Community in Teacher Education Maria Estela Brisk,2013-09-13 Published by Routledge for the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education This volume addresses the pressing reality in teacher education that all teachers need to be prepared to work effectively with linguistically and culturally diverse student populations Every classroom in the country is already or will soon be deeply affected by the changing demographics of America s students Marilyn Cochran Smith s Foreword and Donaldo Macedo s Introductory Essay set the context with respect to teacher education and student demographics followed by a series of chapters presented in three sections knowledge practice and policy The literature on language education has typically been discussed in relation to preparing ESL or bilingual teachers Typically needs of culturally and linguistically diverse students including immigrants refugees language minority populations African Americans and deaf students have been addressed separately This volume emphasizes that these children have both common educational needs and needs that are culturally and linguistically specific It is directed to the preparation of ALL teachers who work with culturally and linguistically diverse students It not only focuses on how teachers need to change but how faculty and curriculum need to be transformed and how to better train teacher education candidates to understand and work efficaciously with the communities in which culturally and linguistically diverse students tend to be predominant The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education AACTE is a national voluntary association of higher education institutions and related organizations Our mission is to promote the learning of all PK 12 students through high quality evidence based preparation and continuing education for all school personnel For more information on our publications visit our website at www.aacte.org The Essential Renewal of America's Schools Carl Glickman,Ian M. Mette,2020 What can educational leaders do to create schools that are purposeful moral and successful This book outlines a practical framework to replace dependence on top down state and federal regulations with locally guided initiatives to address local goals Building on Glickman s classic Renewing America s Schools this resource is for anyone involved with school change in today s complex times Unproductive School Choice Debates John Merrifield,Nathan Gray,2023-05-22 The book explains why we desperately need an Open Education Industry It clearly defines the term and the confusion about what can should be done to improve schooling outcomes and why over 30 years of efforts to improve schooling outcomes has left all 51 US school systems far short of what is needed to engage all schoolchildren in high value instruction Because of past education failures especially poor basic literacy in economic systems many influential academics and activists have asserted the presence of adequate market forces where key elements of high performing markets are absent and have become pre occupied with discussion of and development of devastating inappropriate generalizations about findings from studies of narrowly targeted restriction laden expansions of access to alternatives to traditional public schools The book compares those to transformational school choice expansions and describes key steps towards the inertia that threatens the future of America as a prosperous and free republic The School Community Journal ,2001 Jspr Vol 37-N2 Journal of School Public Relations,2017-09-28 Article 1 Do Bulgarian Schools Effectively Communicate with Their School Communities Milen Filipov Maria Alexieva and Diana Popova Article 2 Embracing family diversity through transformative educational leadership the ethics of care and community uplift in schools Dwan Robinson and Imran Mazid Article 3 Higher Education Public Relations and Branding Critically Interrogating Universities Rankings and AAU Aspirational Pursuits Damion Waymer and Sarah VanSlette Article 4 Collegiate Athletic Rebranding Transforming the Visual Identity of Oregon State University Alexandra Rumpakis Colleen C Bee and Jason W Lee

Compassionate Leadership for School Improvement and Renewal Kara Lasater,Kristina N. LaVenia,2024-01-01 Compassionate Leadership for School Improvement and Renewal aims to equip educational leaders with the knowledge skills and learning experiences necessary to approach their work from an intentional stance of compassion Schools serve as both sites and sources of suffering yet compassionate leadership can facilitate healing for students educators and community members The moment is right to move the field toward a compassion centered approach to leadership In recent years people around the world have experienced unfathomable loss and suffering due to the COVID 19 pandemic persistent inequities and subsequent social justice protests war and violence and catastrophic natural disasters These events created perpetual anxiety stress fear uncertainty loss and grief for millions of people including educators Now perhaps more than ever people need to give and receive compassion The purpose of the volume is to build educational leaders capacity to demonstrate compassion foster collective compassion within their schools and districts establish organizational environments in which compassion is routinely given and received and subsequently transform schools into sites of healing Ultimately through the unique contributions of each chapter this volume offers a path toward school improvement that is both renewing and sustaining

ENDORSEMENTS As a former school counselor and school administrator my view about compassionate leadership is one grounded in relational practice This may be obvious to some but unfortunately lost on many This thoughtful volume edited by Kara Lasater and Kristina LaVenía explores a desperately needed reformulation of school leadership for our times Compassionate leadership takes enormous courage because it works against much of the institutional ethos that forms and frames the role thinking and behaviors of those ostensibly charged to both manage and lead schools William C Frick University of Oklahoma The education system is in its most challenging period in decades perhaps in the past century The need now is to address student staff and organizational suffering Lasater and LaVenía et al offer antidotes in this volume by providing up to date research theory and insight to cultivate conceptualize and practice compassionate educational leadership For those who teach and lead with their heart this book is essential reading Joseph A Polizzi Sacred Heart University In an increasingly challenging educational landscape leaders find themselves facing teacher shortages student trauma and learning loss Schools could easily become institutions rife with secondary trauma and burned out professionals operating in stark contrast to the unifying motivations that drew each of us into this profession This volume reminds us that among the many skill sets leaders must employ organizational and leader compassion fulfills a fundamental human need and unlocks a means by which schools can transform from professional survival to the joyful work of changing lives for the better

Joshua Ray Greenwood Public Schools The School Choice Wars John Merrifield, 2001-03-07 What does the term school choice mean to you Opponents of parental choice have muddied its definition misleading parents and educators and drawing public debate away from the core issues In a book geared for anyone who wants to better understand this hotly contested topic Merrifield clarifies the proposals in existence today defining the key concepts related to choice Arguing for a competitive education industry he discusses policy and political strategy mistakes while suggesting corrections This informative book covers government regulation issues typical fallacies diversity issues private voucher initiatives and experiments and empirical evidence about competition Voices of Resistance and Renewal Dorothy Aguilera-Black Bear, 2015-10-15 Western education has often employed the bluntest of instruments in colonizing indigenous peoples creating generations caught between Western culture and their own Dedicated to the principle that leadership must come from within the communities to be led Voices of Resistance and Renewal applies recent research on local culture specific learning to the challenges of education and leadership that Native people face Bringing together both Native and non Native scholars who have a wide range of experience in the practice and theory of indigenous education editors Dorothy Aguilera Black Bear and John Tippeconnic III focus on the theoretical foundations of indigenous leadership the application of leadership theory to community contexts and the knowledge necessary to prepare leaders for decolonizing education The contributors draw on examples from tribal colleges indigenous educational leadership programs and the latest research in Canadian First Nation Hawaiian and U S American Indian communities The chapters examine indigenous epistemologies and leadership within local contexts to show how Native leadership can be understood through indigenous lenses Throughout the authors consider political influences and educational frameworks that impede effective leadership including the standards for success the language used to deliver content and the choice of curricula pedagogical methods and assessment tools Voices of Resistance and Renewal provides a variety of philosophical principles that will guide leaders at all levels of education who seek to encourage self determination and revitalization It has important implications for the future of Native leadership education community and culture and for institutions of learning that have not addressed Native populations effectively in the past

The Great School Debate Thomas L. Good, Jennifer S. Braden, 2014-04-08 This book examines reform in American education over the past fifty years and against this backdrop presents a compelling analysis of why contemporary voucher plans and charter schools have yet to fulfill the expectations of their advocates It is the only book to date to attempt a comprehensive synthesis and analysis of the emerging research base on vouchers and charter schools Suitable for courses in school policy school reform school leadership or educational issues it will also be of interest to anyone parents teachers policymakers directly involved with the charter school movement Key features of this timely new book include the following A Historical Perspective The early chapters look at American educational reform over the past fifty years and analyze why these efforts have fallen short of their goals Student Achievement Chapter 3 provides an insightful assessment of American students school achievement from 1970 to the present and in the process counters the widely held myth that overall student achievement has deteriorated Voucher Plans and Charter Schools Chapter 4 looks specifically at choice and vouchers in American education while chapters 5 7 provide a comprehensive and balanced examination of the charter school movement Policy Recommendations The book concludes with explicit policy suggestions that attempt to balance the educational needs of children and youth against the rights of schools to experiment Suggestions for developing broader coalitions to support public education particularly in the inner cities are also offered

Reinventing Human Services Kristine Nelson, Paul Adams, 2011-12-31 Dissatisfaction with a human services system that is unresponsive stigmatizing and ineffective has led to a ferment of experimentation in recent years Reinventing Human Services examines the historical and economic context of current efforts to reinvent human services showing the urgency and the difficulty of the task It draws on successful examples in Britain Canada and the United States to develop a new paradigm for social work practice one that integrates individual family and community levels of practice and reconceptualizes professional community relations The interdisciplinary team of authors includes scholars researchers and practitioners from the disciplines of economics urban planning communications criminal justice psychology marriage and family therapy education and social work
