Restructuring Personnel Selection Frederick C. Wendel, Ronald Joekel, 1991 The Portfolio Approach to Assessment Emily Grady, 1992 The shortcomings of standardized testing as the predominant form of student assessment in the United States are reviewed and the use and potential benefits of portfolio assessment are explored Children's educational experiences and their future job prospects and standards of living are being decided by test scores Moreover these test scores may be unfair or biased against some students Instead of more tests we need a new attitude toward assessment one that encourages a variety of assessments Portfolio assessment through collections of student works can be an encompassing format for this new philosophy Before considering what a portfolio should contain it is important to establish the purpose of the assessment The experiences of Vermont illustrate the development of a portfolio assessment with consistent standards Examples of guidelines for mathematics and language arts portfolios make it clear that it is possible to establish consistent practices It is also necessary to reflect on the portfolio occasionally using self evaluations and direct questions or profiles Educators also find portfolios useful tools for preservice teachers Portfolio assessment can be the framework for a new curricular structure that integrates assessment into the learning loop SLD Initiating Restructuring at the School Site Robert J. McCarthy, 1991 Restructuring an Urban High School Donn Weinholtz, 1991 This booklet challenges assumptions about the hopelessness of educational reform in urban high schools by presenting the stories of 1 Theodore Sizer's Coalition of Essential Schools and 2 Metro High School in Cedar Rapids Iowa a school that participates in the Coalition Following an introduction the Coalition of Essential Schools program is described including a listing of nine common principles for the Coalition of Essential Schools and data on attendance academic performance discipline and the pursuit of higher education the success of Coalition schools is indicated Another section describes the experiences the students the school climate and the faculty of Metro High School which joined the Coalition in 1985 A section on the school administrators describes what was originally supervision by three lead teachers and the current on site principal who functions much as a lead teacher A section on academics describes a curriculum that has focused on basic skills and practical electives with an increasing emphasis on accelerated academic coursework in recent years Also described are Metro High School's vocademics program which helps students explore career choices and a report of data indicating positive outcomes at this school A concluding section offers reflections on the Metro High School experience and final thoughts Fourteen references are included JB
