New Urban Configurations R. Cavallo, S.

Komossa, N. Marzot, 2014-04-25 Urban areas have been caught up in a turbulent process of transformation over the past 50 years and changes have been rapid with issues such as mobility nature water management energy use and public space featuring prominently _x000D_ In each Olympic year since 1988 the Faculty of Architecture at Delft University of Technology has held an international conference focusing on the connection between research and design exploring the field of tension between science technology and art _x000D_ This book presents the proceedings of the latest in this series of conferences New Urban Configurations held in Delft the Netherlands in October 2012 in collaboration with the European Association for Architectural Education EAAE and the International Seminar on Urban Form ISUF This edition of the conference discussed the role and critical potential of the architectural project in the transformation process of cities and territories that leads to new urban configurations _x000D_ The publication contains all 140 accepted papers and a selection of the keynote lectures presented at the conference The papers have been grouped into five main themes innovation in building typology infrastructure and the city complex urban projects green spaces and delta urbanism Four of these major topics are further divided into several subtopics _x000D_ This book will be of interest to everyone involved in designing building thinking about as well as managing the urban landscape and territory Mega Urban Projects in China Yanpeng Jiang, 2022-11-14 This book is the first systematic account of mega urban projects in China covering their construction operation and planning It is a detailed examination of the planning and construction of Hongqiao and its impact on local residents In short the aim of this book is to examine the process of planning and development of the Hongqiao transportation and commercial zone to explore its relationship to urban development and spatial restructuring in Shanghai and in doing so to comment on and critique the nature of urban change in contemporary China which is characterized as property and infrastructure driven Mega urban projects are arguably the quintessential symbol of entrepreneurial urbanism and it is no coincidence that they have become a familiar part of the urban scene throughout the world not least in East Asia They can be seen as both a consequence of and a response to the deindustrialization of leading cities first in North America and Europe and then in East Asia as economies transitioned to globalized neoliberalism This book provides a comprehensive overview of the main features of the land based urban growth coalition formed in Hongqiao by introducing the detailed picture of the Hongqiao project and it outlines the recent example of the competitive rush to urban projects in China's largest cities that has led to the proliferation of new financial districts in Beijing and Guangzhou

Bourdieu and Chinese Education Guanglun Michael Mu, Karen Dooley, Allan Luke, 2018-10-26 This book uses Bourdieu's sociological approach for research as a jumping off point for framing our understandings and analyses of China and Chinese education Three major themes inequality competition and change are explored across several theoretical and contextual bases Bringing together top scholars in the field the volume examines empirical studies that analyse social mobility through education for students affected by the social divides of class culture and rural urban locations teacher identity and the field of schooling in the current Chinese environment and going forward and the university as an institution for the production of knowledge about education in the globalising academy Offering insights into the historical and cultural context for China's educational landscape the contributions of this book revisit Bourdieusian concepts from a new empirical vantage point and bring together key studies that illuminate new pathways for the study of Chinese sociology of education

China's Emerging Cities Fulong Wu, 2007-11-13 With urbanism becoming the key driver of socio economic change in China this book provides much needed up to date material and covers key topics on Chinese urban development

Confronting the Challenges of Urbanization in China Zai Liang, Steven F. Messner, Youqin Huang, Cheng Chen, 2016-08-05 Since the late 1970s China has experienced an unprecedented pace of urbanization In 1978 only 17.8% of the population resided in urban areas but by 2013 the level of urbanization had reached 53.8% During the same period China also enjoyed spectacular economic growth China had become the second largest economy in the world by 2012 just behind the United States Despite China's highly acclaimed achievements in urbanization and its economic miracle urban China confronts a set of significant challenges This book provides theoretically informed and empirically rich analyses of some of the key challenges facing China's urbanization The first part deals with new patterns of urbanization focusing on comprehensive measures and environmental dimensions of urbanization The second part of the book focuses on several aspects related to migrants in cities migrant entrepreneurship return migration and local people's attitudes toward migrants The final section examines two key issues important for migrants urban local residents and policy makers that have become quite contentious in China today housing and urban health care This collection presents original cutting edge research on some of the most pressing challenges confronting contemporary urban China conducted by researchers from multiple social science disciplines It will appeal to scholars and advanced students of urban studies and China studies as well as those in sociology anthropology geography and political science

Locating Right to the City in the Global South Tony Samara, Shenjing He, Guo Chen, 2013-01-04 Despite the fact that virtually all urban growth is occurring and will continue to occur in the cities of the Global South the conceptual tools used to study cities are distilled disproportionately from research on the highly developed cities of the Global North With urban inequality widely recognized as central to many of the most pressing challenges facing the world there is a need for a deeper understanding of cities of the South on their own terms Locating Right to the City in the Global South marks an innovative and far reaching effort to document and make sense of urban transformations across a range of cities as well as the conflicts and struggles for social justice these are generating The volume contains empirically rich theoretically informed case studies focused on the social spatial and political dimensions of urban inequality in the Global South Drawing from scholars with extensive fieldwork experience this volume covers sixteen cities in fourteen countries across a belt stretching from Latin America to Africa and the Middle East and into Asia Central to what binds these cities are deeply rooted complex and dynamic processes of social and spatial division that are being actively reproduced These cities are not so much fracturing as they are being divided by governance practices informed by local histories and political contestation and refracted through or infused by market based approaches to urban development Through a close examination of these practices and resistance to them this volume provides perspectives on neoliberalism and right to the city that advance our understanding of urbanism in the Global South In mapping the relationships between space politics and populations the volume draws attention to variations shaped by local circumstances while simultaneously elaborating a distinctive transnational Southern urbanism It provides indepth research on a range of practical and policy oriented issues from housing and slum redevelopment to building democratic cities that include participation by lower income and other marginal groups It will be of interest to students and practitioners alike studying Urban Studies Globalization and Development

Locating Right to the City in the Global South Tony Roshan Samara, Shenjing He, Guo Chen, 2013 Drawing from scholars with extensive fieldwork experience this volume covers sixteen cities in fourteen countries across a belt stretching from Latin America to Africa and the Middle East and into Asia Central to what binds these cities are deeply rooted complex and dynamic processes of social and spatial division that are being actively reproduced These cities are not so much fracturing as they are being divided by governance practices informed by local histories and political contestation and refracted through or infused by market based approaches to urban development Through a close examination of these practices and resistance to them this volume provides perspectives on neoliberalism and right to the city that advance our understanding of urbanism in the Global South Recentring Asia Jacob Edmond, Henry Johnson, Jacqueline Leckie, 2011-07-27 These essays argue that recentring Asia necessitates a revision not only of notions of Asia but also of the centre itself On the one hand recentring Asia asserts the centrality of overlooked Asian histories encounters and identities to world history culture and geopolitics On the other hand recentring provides a way to address and rethink the concept of the centre a term critical to Asian Studies area studies and more broadly to the study of globalization postcolonialism diaspora modernism and modernity Drawing on new approaches in these fields Recentring Asia asks the reader to rethink the centre not as a single site towards which all is oriented but as a zone of encounter exchange and contestation Geopolitics and Strategic Management in the Global Economy Presenza, Angelo, Sheehan, Lorn R., 2017-06-19 As the world continues to evolve globalization remains a key topic area among scholars and practitioners across disciplines and industries It is essential for managers to stay informed and look out for potential threats that can negatively affect global operations Geopolitics and Strategic Management in the Global Economy is a pivotal reference publication featuring the latest scholarly research on an international view of the challenges and opportunities organizations face in the global marketplace Including coverage on a broad range of topics such as firm competitiveness project management and social capital this book is ideally designed for academicians researchers students and managers seeking current research on best ways to handle international management issues Engaging Comparative

Urbanism Julie Ren, 2020-12-09 Julie Ren investigates the motivations and practices of making art spaces in Beijing and Berlin to engage with comparative urbanism as a framework for doing research beyond its significance as a critical intervention Across vastly different contexts where universal theories of modernity or development seem increasingly misplaced she innovatively explores the ways that art spaces employ creative capital to sustain themselves in a competitive urban landscape She shows how these art spaces are embedded within a politics of aspiration and demonstrates that aspiration is an important lens through which to understand the nature of and possibilities for urban change Female

Chinese Bankers in the Asia Pacific Wai-wan Vivien Chan, 2020-09-01 This book explores the simultaneous Asianisation and feminisation of mid level management in the financial services sector in world and global cities in the Asia Pacific Chan draws on 50 in depth interviews with ethnically Chinese female professionals working in middle or upper management positions in Sydney Hong Kong Shanghai and four other cities in Australia and China She analyses the interplay between geographical location gender and career mobility Growing numbers of transnational Chinese live and work in major cities in developed countries In this context a new social economic ecosystem is being created for and by female professionals working in an elite sector of the service industry across the Asia Pacific region Chan examines the nature of this ecosystem through an examination of the lives and work of such women their role in forming multinational networks in financial service firms their collective work situation their daily challenges and their coping strategies in the workplace and at home A compelling comparative study which will be of great interest to scholars and students looking at the role of gender and ethnicity in globalisation Reshaping Economic Geography in East Asia Yukon Huang, Alessandro Magnoli

Bocchi, 2008-10-15 This companion volume to the World Development Report 2009 comprises twenty papers authored by noted Asian scholars These studies highlight how throughout East Asia spatial considerations have influenced Government policies at the national regional and local levels Key themes include how countries have dealt with 1 agglomeration economies urbanization and regional disparities 2 improving connectivity with infrastructure investments and 3 eliminating barriers across and within countries to favor the movement of labor goods and services Achievements vary widely across countries while some succeeded in enhancing competitiveness and improving social outcomes others are experiencing increasing inequalities and failures to spur growth in disadvantaged areas The book highlights many examples of how the new economic geography is reshaping development objectives from initiatives to foster growth via enhanced agglomeration and improved local connectivity to the world economy to special decentralization programs that channel resources to lagging regions This volume will be of great interest to readers working in the areas of economic policy poverty reduction and urban rural development strategies and transport led infrastructure policy Residential Segregation in Comparative

Perspective Kuniko Fujita, 2016-04-08 We know very little about variations in urban class and ethnic segregation among nations and even less about differences among cities in different regions of the world Spatial organization places and neighbourhoods matters significantly in some cities in reproducing class relations and ethno racial hierarchies but may be much less important in others The degree and the impact of segregation depend upon contextual diversity By emphasizing the importance of contextual diversity in the study of urban residential segregation the book questions currently popular urban theories such as global city neoliberal urbanism and gentrification These theories tend to dissociate cities from their national and regional context and thus ignore their history culture politics and institutions The aim of this book is to introduce the significantly different urban experiences in social and spatial segregation patterns and rationales which exist among the world's regions and to demonstrate that urban theory needs to draw systematically upon this wide range of experiences The cities selected Athens Beijing Budapest Copenhagen Hong Kong Madrid Paris S o Paulo Taipei and Tokyo were chosen in order to achieve geographical spread to maximise the diversity of types of socioeconomic regulation This volume is thus able to avoid the interpretative limitations and misconstructions resulting from universalizing the Anglo American experience Remaking Chinese Urban Form Duanfang Lu, 2006-09-27 In this pioneering study of contemporary Chinese urban form Duanfang Lu provides an analysis of how Chinese society constructed itself through the making and remaking of its built environment She shows that as China's quest for modernity created a perpetual scarcity as both a social reality and a national imagination the realization of planning ideals was postponed The work unit the socialist enterprise or institute gradually developed from workplace to social institution which integrated work housing and social services The Chinese city achieved a unique geography made up in large part of self contained work units Remaking Chinese Urban Form provides an important reference for academics and students conducting research on China It will be a key source for courses on Asia in architecture urban planning geography sociology and anthropology at both the graduate and undergraduate level The insightful yet accessible introduction to urban China will also be of interest to architects urban designers and planners as well as general audience who wish to learn about contemporary Chinese society
