Restructuring The Countryside Environmental Policy In Practice Avebury Studies In Green Research:

Restructuring the Countryside Andrew W. Gilg, 1992 This is a collection of papers presented at a Rural Geography Study Group conference held in January 1991 The book is divided into two sections section one examines the concepts and facts behind restructuring the countryside while section two provides nine case studies Countryside Planning Andrew Gilg, 2002-11 Countryside Planning is an in depth and authoritative introduction to rural issues and addresses key issues such as planning for agriculture and natural environment countryside management forestry and the built environment

Changing Rural Policy in Britain Nigel Curry, Stephen Owen, 1996 Ibss: Political Science: 1992 British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1993 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

Handbook of Rural Studies Paul Cloke, Terry Marsden, Patrick Mooney, 2006-01-26 This is a unique interpretation of rural issues that will become essential reference for students scholars politicians developers and rural activists Imre Kovach President European Society for Rural Sociology Research director Institute for Political Sciences Budapest

Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2006-10-16 This revised fourteenth edition reinforces this title's reputation as the bible of British planning It provides a thorough explanation of planning processes including the institutions involved tools systems policies and changes to land use Dilemma of Swedish

Energy Policy Ragnar Löfstedt, 1993 As a result of a national referendum in 1980 the Swedish government was committed to phasing out the country's twelve nuclear reactors representing 55 percent of the country's electricity production 75 TWh in 1991 This policy decision along with several others has had far reaching effects on the production and consumption of electricity in Sweden as the only alternatives to replace the lost nuclear capacity are wind power biomass and energy conservation Relatively little is known about the potential of additional energy conservation based on household behaviour changes to help replace Sweden's nuclear energy capacity This book addresses that potential Among the major findings is that people who consider themselves antinuclear were no more likely to report that they engage in two types of important energy conservation behaviours than those who considered themselves pro nuclear and also that it will be difficult to reach the theoretical potential of 10 percent energy savings without a major effort by the Government to encourage household energy conservation

Perspectives on the Environment Interdisciplinary Research Network on Environment and Society, 1993 There are many recruits to the environmental research ranks every year Each brings their own perspectives and their own commitment to change academic and practical debates In the face of this diversity of perspectives the disciplinary approaches which have directed research for many years are recombining Perspectives on the Environment broadens the often insular approaches to environmental issues and encourages the development of more robust and comprehensive research strategies to address environmental problems The book is a collection of current interdisciplinary research It is divided into four parts each of which is centred upon a substantive environmental theme rather than a disciplinary or theoretical perspective Town and Country Planning in the UK J. B. Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2002 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the bible of British planning It provides an explanation of the nature of planning the institutions and organisations involved the plans and other tools used by planners planning policies and more Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Recycling and Waste Matthew Gandy, 1993 Rural Planning in Practice Andrew W. Gilg, Mike Kelly, 1997 The research in this text centres on the implementation of settlement policies guiding the erection of agricultural dwellings in the countryside The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1993 Scottish Planning Law & Practice ,1988 Judging Plans and Projects James Parkin, 1993 This study develops an approach to the evaluation of plan and project alternatives The difficult trade offs between technical or social goals and the inevitable environmental impacts are discussed in socio politics terms and a case is put for the early mobilization of citizen groups in the process of assessment Current evaluation methods tend to be either threateningly mathematical or largely intuitive and often ignore the essentially political nature of public choice The methodology developed in this book enables a final decision to be made based on the use of rational judgement aids placed alongside formally structured public interest arguments representing the different social policies of the interested groups This new method informs decision makers by bringing together the strengths of analysis and richness of human values Particular attention is paid to the wide range of judgement aids available to the planning professional and examples of their use are presented in appendices Bibliographic Guide to the Environment ,1992 Progress in Rural Policy and Planning Andrew W. Gilg, 1993 The Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal ,1992 Official organ of the book trade of the United Kingdom Current Geographical Publications University of Wisconsin--Milwaukee. Library, 1993 Current Geographical Publications CGP is a non profit service to the scholarly community initiated in 1938 by the American Geographical Society of New York Beginning in 2006 the format changed to include the tables of contents of current geographical journals The journal titles listed link to web pages or PDF scans of the current issue s contents Environment ,1992
