Islam, Society, and Politics in Central Asia Pauline Jones, 2017-07-20 During the 1990s there was a general consensus that Central Asia was witnessing an Islamic revival after independence and that this occurrence would follow similar events throughout the Islamic world in the prior two decades which had negative effects on both social and political development Twenty years later we are still struggling to fully understand the transformation of Islam in a region that evolved through a complex and dynamic process involving diversity in belief and practice religious authority and political intervention This volume seeks to shed light on these crucial questions by bringing together an international group of scholars to offer a fresh perspective on Central Asian states and societies The chapters provide analysis through four distinct categories the everyday practice of Islam across local communities state policies toward Islam focusing on attempts to regulate public and private practice through cultural legal and political institutions and how these differ from Soviet policies how religious actors influence communities in the practice of Islam state policies towards the religion and subsequent communal responses to state regulations and how knowledge of and interaction with the larger Islamic world is shaping Central Asia's current Islamic revival and state responses The contributors a multidisciplinary and international group of leading scholars develop fresh insights that both corroborate and contradict findings from previous research while also highlighting the problem of making any generalizations about Islam in individual states or the region As such this volume provides new and impactful analysis for scholars students and policy makers concerned with Central Asia

Central Asia and the Rise of Normative Powers Emilian Kavalski, 2012-10-15 This book offers a unique analytical investigation of the international politics of the EU China and India in the context of their security strategies in Central Asia It shows how the interaction between these three actors is likely to change the frameworks and practices of international relations This is studied through their interactions with central Asia using the framework of normative powers and the concept of regional security governance Briefly a normative power shapes a target state's attitudes and perceptions as it internalizes and adopts the perspectives of the normative power as the norm The work comparatively studies the dynamics that have allowed Beijing Brussels and New Delhi to articulate security mechanisms in Central Asia and become rising normative powers This innovative study does not aim to catalog foreign policies but to uncover the dominant perceptions cognitive structures and practices that guide these actors regional agency as exemplified through the context of Central Asia It will be an essential resource for anyone studying international relations international relations theory and foreign policy analysis Islam Outside the Arab World Ingvar Svanberg, David Westerlund, 2012-12-06 Today about 85 per cent of the world population of Muslims live in areas outside the Arab world and due to population growth missionary endeavours and migration the number of Muslims in these areas is rising rapidly This volume presents the spread and character of Islam in many non Arab countries focusing particularly on the contemporary situation The book deals with the great variety and complexity that characterize Islam outside the Arab world with Sufism the predominant form of Islam in most non Arab Muslim countries and with the growing significance of Islamism which challenges secularism and Sufi forms of Islam Central Asia Suryakant Nijananand Bal, 2004 A Very Timely Exhaustive And Masterly Analysis Of The Contemporary Situation In The Central Asian Republics In The Context Of India S Security Author Combines His Experience And Expertise As A Senior Officer Of Indian Air Force With The Scholarly Investigation And Rigour In Presenting This Incisive Analysis Of The Possibilities And The Potential That This Region Holds For India Security Russia and the Russians Geoffrey A. The Caspian Region, Volume 1 Moshe Gammer, 2004-06-25 Following the dissolution of the Soviet Union in the 1990s new states most of them muslim emerged in central Asia and the Caucasus These new states proved to be both oil rich and central in the strip of conflict and instability that stretches from central Europe to the Far East This volume draws attention to previously neglected issues which could result in conflict the water problem and negotiation in central Asia the issues of Southern Azerbaijan Ajaria and Javakheti the many problems of multi ethnic Daghestan two attempts at unity in the Northern Caucasus The book also re examines some of the established truths regarding the states around the Caspian Sea and re evaluates the validity of the term Caspian region and the question of who should be included in this new region the general belief that the Caspian region will be a geopolitical centre of the 21st century the axiom that the dissolution of the USSR has reopened the Great Game Moreover The Caspian Region thoughtfully re examines the questions of democracy of fundamentalist Islam and of the complex ambivalent relationship between Islam and nationalism in the region The Transformation of Central Asia Pauline Jones Luong, 2018-08-06 With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 former Communist Party leaders in Central Asia were faced with the daunting task of building states where they previously had not existed Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their task was complicated by the institutional and ideological legacy of the Soviet system as well as by a more actively engaged international community These nascent states inherited a set of institutions that included bloated bureaucracies centralized economic planning and patronage networks Some of these institutions survived others have mutated and new institutions have been created Experts on Central Asia here examine the emerging relationship between state actors and social forces in the region Through the prism of local institutions the authors reassess both our understanding of Central Asia and of the state building process more broadly They scrutinize a wide array of institutional actors ranging from regional governments and neighborhood committees to transnational and non governmental organizations With original empirical research and theoretical insight the volume s contributors illuminate an obscure but resource rich and strategically significant region

Landau,Barbara Kellner-Heinkele,2011-12-18 Nationalist leaders in the former Soviet states strive for national identity in both the political and cultural domains Their language policies contend with Russian speaking intelligentsias numerous ethnic minorities and sizeable Russian communities backed by the Russian Federation all presenting major challenges to facing the legacy of Soviet rule Drawing on many years of research interviews with educators and officials and visits to the region Barbara Kellner Heinkele and Jacob M Landau explore the politics of language and its intersection with identity in Azerbaijan Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan With special attention to language education in schools and universities within each state and debates over bilingualism versus multilingualism their insights offer researchers of politics linguistics and Central Asian studies a comprehensive account of a highly politicised debate

Film and Identity in Kazakhstan Rico Isaacs,2018-02-07 Cinema and nationalism are two fundamentally modern phenomena but how have films shaped our understanding of the creation the imagining of Central Asian nations Here Rico Isaacs uses cinema as an analytical lens to explore how the Kazakh national identity has been constructed and contested Drawing on an analysis of Kazakh films from the last century and featuring new interviews with directors and critics involved in the Central Asian film industry his book traces the construction of nationalism within Kazakh cinema from the country s inception as a Soviet Republic to a modern independent nation Isaacs identifies four narratives since the collapse of the Soviet Union a warrior like ethnic narrative rooted in the 18th Century struggles against the Mongolian Oirat tribes a civic inspired narrative cemented in the Stalinist deportations of the 1930s and 40s a religious narrative founded within the mystic and philosophical religion of Tengrism and the cult of the Sky God and a socio economic narrative which roots Kazakh nationhood and identity in contemporary social divisions the lived day to day experiences of ordinary citizens and the struggles they face with authority These last two tropes demonstrate how cinema has emerged as a site of dissent against the country's authoritarian regime under President Nazarbayev Film and Identity in Kazakhstan advances our understanding of Kazakhstan and nationalism by demonstrating the multiple and inessential character of each and illustrates the important role of cinema in contesting political power in the post Soviet space

POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC RELATIONS BETWEEN IRAN AND CENTRAL ASIAN STATES , 1991-2010 Dr. Rashmi Tiwari,2024-09-25 During the post cold war era a power vacuum has been created in Central Asia The great powers like United States Russia China and European Union want to exert their own influence in the region to meet their geo strategic interests The other countries like Iran Turkey Pakistan India and Saudi Arabia also want to strengthen their historical cultural linguistic economic and political relations with the Central Asian States The oil and natural gas rich Central Asian States are a great source of attraction for the developed world in general and United States and Russia in particular Iran sharing a long border with Turkmenistan sea route with Kazakhstan and linguistic ties with Tajikistan has a comparative advantage in bringing the Central Asian States in its own fold The Central Asian Republics emerged as independent sovereign countries in December 1991 as a result of Soviet Union disintegration Central Asia has inappropriately been called Inmost Asia or Innermost Asia but in fact Central Asia is not Inmost Asia or Innermost Asia it is just Central Asia It lies at the heart of Eurasian continent completely land locked and geographically surrounded by Iran and Afghanistan in the south Russia in the north China in the east and the Eastern Europe in the west The Caucasus stands on the other side of the Caspian Sea which is situated in the western part of Central Asia comprising the three countries of Azerbaijan Armenia and Georgia Central Asian Republics CARs have had geographical historical social and cultural linkages with Iran In fact these republics were part of imperial Iranian state Due to its geostrategic location of Central Asia and its adjoining region in pre industrial times Iran was a land bridge between inner South and East Asia on the one hand and Europe on the other hand In the wake of the industrial revolution Iran was drawn into the European imperialists power game in Central Asia 1 Iran is the eighteenth largest country in the world with an area of 1 648 000 km square Its borders are with Azerbaijan to the North West the Caspian Sea to the North Turkmenistan to the North East Pakistan to the East Turkey and Iraq to the West and finally the waters of the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman to the South
