American Promise Garth E. Pauley, 2006-12-01 Though Lyndon Johnson developed a reputation as a rough hewn arm twisting deal maker with a drawl at a crucial moment in history he delivered an address to Congress that moved Martin Luther King Jr to tears and earned praise from the media as the best presidential speech in American history Even today his voting rights address of 1965 ranks high not only in political significance but also as an example of leadership through oratory Garth E Pauley carefully analyzes both the content and the context of this historic speech He begins with an analysis of the less than linear path of voting rights in the United States and highlights the failures and limited successes of previous legislation Many commentators have seen Johnson's voting rights speech as a response to the escalating protests in Selma and Pauley explores that connection Did Johnson wait too long to address the issue Would he have championed voting rights without the protests Pauley traces the development of the speech and the policy with these questions in mind He situates the speech not only within its immediate context but also within Johnson's ideology and value system tracing the influences on Johnson's racial attitudes and describing the complex of policies he developed to address issues of inequality Having set the stage for the address Pauley then carefully analyzes the text itself He charts the authorship of the speech through several drafts by aides traces the purposefulness of the allusions and recounts the extemporizing Johnson introduced when he actually delivered the address He notes the idealistic even mythic dimensions of the speech which contrast with its plainspoken style Finally Pauley gauges the effectiveness of the speech He reports the response to the address in the media

among civil rights leaders and in the general population Pauley concludes with some reservations about the effectiveness not only of this address but also of the Johnson program for racial justice Nonetheless he believes that Lyndon Johnson's We Shall Overcome speech remains a remarkable achievement combining principle with rhetorical leadership

The Works of Dionysius the Areopagite Dionysius the Areopagite, Aeterna Press, The Treatise on Divine Names was written by Dionysius at the request of Timothy and at the instigation of Hierotheus to express in a form more easily understood the more abstract Treatise of Hierotheus who was his chief instructor after St Paul Its purpose is to explain the epithets in Holy Scripture applied alike to the whole Godhead Father Son and Holy Ghost It does not pretend to describe the unrevealed God Who is beyond expression and conception and can only be known through that union with God by which we know even as we are known Holy Scripture is the sole authority beyond which we must neither think nor speak of Almighty God The Treatise being written by one of the most learned Greeks the phraseology is naturally that of Plato and Aristotle but Plato and Aristotle are not authorities here Aeterna Press

Dept. of Letters,1926 Contains contributions on various subjects notably India Buddhism ancient chronology etc Journal of the Department of Letters ,1926 The Complete Works of Charles Sumner Charles Sumner,2020-09-28 The speeches of Charles Sumner have many titles to endure in the memory of mankind They contain the reasons on which the American people acted in taking the successive steps in the revolution which overthrew slavery and made of a race of slaves freemen citizens voters They have a high place in literature They are not only full of historical learning set forth in an attractive way but each of the more important of them was itself an historical event They afford a picture of a noble public character They are an example of the application of the loftiest morality to the conduct of the State They are an arsenal of weapons ready for the friends of Freedom in all the great battles when she may be in peril hereafter They will not be forgotten unless the world shall attain to such height of virtue that no stimulant to virtue shall be needed or to a depth of baseness from which no stimulant can arouse it Mr Sumner held the office of Justice of the Peace and that of Commissioner of the Circuit Court to which he was appointed by his friend and teacher Judge Story He was a member of the convention held in 1853 to revise the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts With these exceptions his only official service was as Senator in Congress from Massachusetts from the 4th of March 1851 when he was just past forty years of age until his death March 9 1874 If his career could have been predicted in his earliest childhood he could have had no better training for his great duties than that he in fact received He was one of the best scholars in the public Latin School in Boston He received the Franklin medal from the hands of Daniel Webster who told him that the state had a pledge of him His school life was followed by four years in Harvard College and a course at the Harvard Law School where he was the favorite pupil of Judge Story He was an eager student of the Greek and Roman classics But his special delight was in history and international law After his admission to the bar he was reporter of the decisions of his beloved master and edited twenty volumes of the equity reports of Vesey Jr which he enriched with copious and learned notes A little later when he was twenty six years old he spent a month in Washington tarrying a short time in New York on his way In that brief period he made life long friendships with some famous men including Chancellor Kent Judge Marshall and Francis Lieber He had a rare gift for making friendships with men especially with great men and with women With him in those days an acquaintance with any person worth knowing soon ripened into an indissoluble friendship A few years later he spent a little more than two years in Europe coming home when he was just past twenty nine years old That time was spent in attending courts lectures of eminent professors and in society No house which he desired to enter seems to have been closed to him Statesmen judges scholars beautiful women leaders of fashionable society welcomed to the closest intimacy this young American of humble birth with no passport other than his own character and attainment It is hardly too much to say that the youth of twenty nine had a larger and more brilliant circle of friendship than any other man on either continent The list of his friends and correspondents would fill many pages He says in a letter to Judge Story what would seem like boasting in other men but with him was modest and far within the truth I have a thousand things to say to you about the law circuit life and the English judges I have seen more of all than probably ever fell to the lot of a foreigner I have had the friendship and confidence of judges and of the leaders of the bar Not a day passes without my being five or six hours in company with men of this stamp My tour is no vulgar holiday affair merely to spend money and to get the fashions It is to see men institutions and laws and if it would not seem vain in me I would venture to say that I have not discredited my country I have called the attention of the judges and the profession to the state of the law in our country and have shown them by my conversation I will say this that I understand their jurisprudence
