The Broken World of Sacrifice J. C. Heesterman, 1993-07 In this book J C Heesterman attempts to understand the origins and nature of Vedic sacrifice the complex compound of ritual practices that stood at the center of ancient Indian religion Paying close attention to anomalous elements within both the Vedic ritual texts the brahmanas and the ritual manuals the srutasutras Heesterman reconstructs the ideal sacrifice as consisting of four moments killing destruction feasting and contest He shows that Vedic sacrifice all but exclusively stressed the offering in the fire the element of destruction at the expense of the other elements Notably the contest was radically eliminated At the same time sacrifice was withdrawn from society to become the sole concern of the individual sacrificer The ritual turns in on the individual as self sacrificer who realizes through the internalized knowledge of the ritual the immortal Self At this point the sacrificial cult of the fire recedes behind doctrine of the atman's transcendence and unity with the cosmic principle the brahman Based on his intensive analysis Heesterman argues that Vedic sacrifice was primarily concerned with the broken world of the warrior and sacrificer This world already broken in itself by the violence of the sacrificial contest was definitively broken up and replaced with the ritualism of the single unopposed sacrificer However the basic problem of sacrifice the riddle of life and death keeps breaking too surface in the form of incongruities contradictions tensions and oppositions that have perplexed both the ancient ritual theorists and the modern scholar

The third part explores the social and psychological dimensions of death, grief and mourning, the implications of death in hospital and the professional and bureaucratic issues which affect Hindu deaths in Britain.
