Home Danielle Steel, 2002 A Book For Kids C.J. Dennis, 2020-07-17 Reproduction of the original A Book For Kids by C.J. Dennis Women Fight, Women Write Mildred Mortimer, 2018-11-29 Today the fight to write the struggle to become the legitimate chronicler of one's own story is being waged and won by women across mediums and borders But such battles of authorship extend well beyond a single cultural moment In her gripping study of unsung female narratives of the Algerian War Mildred Mortimer excavates and explores the role of women's individual and collective memory in recording events of the violent anticolonial conflict Presenting close readings of published works spanning five decades from Assia Djebar's 1962 Children of the New World to Zohra Drif's 2014 Inside the Battle of Algiers Memoir of a Woman Freedom Fighter Women Fight Women Write traces stylistic and material transformations in Algerian women's writings as it reveals evolving attitudes toward memory trauma historical objectivity and women's political empowerment Refuting the stale binary of men in battle

women at home these testimonial texts let women lay claim to the Algerian War story as participants and also as chroniclers through fiction historical studies and memoir Algeria's patriarchal norms long kept women from speaking publicly about private matters silencing their experiences of the war Still the conflict has ceaselessly sparked creative work The country's dark decade of violent struggle between the Algerian army and Islamist fundamentalists in the 1990s brought the liberation struggle back into focus inspiring and emboldening many more women to defiantly write Women Fight Women Write advances the broken silence illuminating its vital historical revisions and literary innovations

Destination Elsewhere Ruth Balint, 2021-11-15 In this unique history from below Destination Elsewhere chronicles encounters between displaced persons in Europe and the Allied agencies who were tasked with caring for them after the Second World War The struggle to define who was a displaced person and who was not was a subject of intense debate and deliberation among humanitarians international law experts immigration planners and governments What has not adequately been recognized is that displaced persons also actively participated in this emerging refugee conversation Displaced persons endured war displacement and resettlement but these experiences were not defined by passivity and speechlessness Instead they spoke back creating a dialogue that in turn helped shape the modern idea of the refugee As Ruth Balint shows what made a good or convincing story at the time tells us much about the circulation of ideas about the war the Holocaust and the Jews Those stories depict the emerging moral and legal distinction between economic migrants and political refugees They tell us about the experiences of women and children in the face of new psychological and political interventions into the family Stories from displaced persons also tell us something about the enduring myth of the new world for people who longed to leave the old Balint focuses on those persons whose storytelling skills became a major strategy for survival and escape out of the displaced persons camps and out of the Europe Their stories are brought to life in Destination Elsewhere alongside a new history of immigration statelessness and the institution of the postwar family
