Screen Comedy and Online

Audiences Inger-Lise Kalviknes Bore, 2017-06-14 The question of why we laugh or don't laugh has intrigued scholars since antiquity. This book contributes to that debate by exploring how we evaluate screen comedy. What kinds of criteria do we use to judge films and TV shows that are meant to be funny? And what might that have to do with our social and cultural backgrounds or with wider cultural ideas about film/TV comedy quality and entertainment? The book examines these questions through a study of audience responses posted to online facilities such as Twitter, Facebook, review sites, blogs, and message boards. Bore's analysis of these responses considers a broad range of issues including how audiences perceive the idea of national comedy, what they think of female comedians, how they evaluate romcoms, sitcoms, and web comedy, what they think is acceptable to joke about, what comedy fans get excited about, how fans interact with star comedians, and what comedy viewers really despise. The book demonstrates some of the ways in which we can adapt theories of humour and comedy to examine the practices of contemporary screen audiences while offering new insights into how they negotiate the opportunities and constrictions of different online facilities to share their views and experiences.

The Idaho Four James Patterson, Vicky Ward, 2025-07-14 Instant 1 New York Times bestseller. A vivid portrait, a sensitive tribute, a paean to youth community and the tenacity of local law enforcement. New York Times: A mesmerizing read and a great detective story yet sadly all true. With their book The Idaho Four, James Patterson and Vicky Ward have written perhaps the definitive account of the murders, a disturbing, necessary portrait of a killer and his victims. Guardian: New revelations. James Patterson and Vicky Ward reveal new details and attempt to lift the veil of secrecy that has shrouded the Idaho college murders case for more than two years. Good Morning America: This is much more than a true crime book. It's a vivid exploration of the range of human response when faceless terror strikes. It's a portrait of America in this polarized moment. Town & Country: A lot of brand new reporting. Clears up a number of mysteries. Morning Joe: The murders of four innocent college students attending the University of Idaho left us all with so many questions. Now, after more than 300 interviews, James Patterson and prize-winning journalist Vicky Ward finally have the answers. We know what it was like to live in Moscow, Idaho, on November 13, 2022, the day of the cold-blooded killings. We know what the local police and FBI did right, and what they did wrong. We've learned so much about the four heartbroken families: the Mogens, the Goncalveses, the Kernodles, and the Chapins. And we have the backstory for Bryan Kohberger, brilliant grad student loner, apparent incel. Now you are the jury. The evidence is in. You've watched the Prime documentary One Night in Idaho; now read the clearest profile yet of the twisted quadruple killer and his motives. Kink Sara K. Howe, Susan E. Cook, 2019-09-06 Representing Kink raises awareness about non normative texts and non normative erotic practices and desires It defines kink broadly encompassing a range of inappropriate texts and understanding it in frequent reference to non normative erotic fantasies and experiences Kink is treated as both a set of practices as well as a category of texts at the nexus of subject and form In addition to canonical texts that take up erotic and marginalized themes the collection also studies forms that are themselves fringe and feature kink taboo literature self published erotica SM narratives fan fiction role playing games and other disavowed texts The purpose of this study is to focus attention on the margins of an already marginalized subject in order to highlight the extent to which non normative textuality and eroticism both shape and are shaped by culture and context It sheds light on a category of subjects that is at once mainstream in the form of texts such as Fifty Shades of Grey and yet nevertheless repeatedly disparaged and undertheorized This book advocates for conversations about kinky texts that transcend dichotomous frameworks of good and bad and normal and deviant thinking instead in new theoretically rigorous and flexible directions The Internet Is for Cats Jessica

Maddox, 2022-10-14 LOL cats Grumpy Cat Dog rating Twitter Pet Instagram accounts It s generally understood the internet is for pictures of cute cats and dogs and otters and pandas But what motivates people to make and share these images and how do they relate to other online social practices The Internet is for Cats examines how animal images are employed to create a lighter more playful mood uniting users within online spaces that can otherwise easily become fractious and toxic Placing today s pet videos photos and memes within a longer history of mediated animal images communication scholar Jessica Maddox also considers the factors that make them unique She explores the roles that animals play within online economies of cuteness and attention as well as the ways that animal memes and videos respond to common experiences of life under neoliberalism Conducting a rich digital ethnography Maddox combines observations and textual analysis with extensive interviews of the people who create post and share animal media including TikTok influencers seeking to make their pets famous activists tweeting about wildlife conservation and Redditors upvoting every cute cat photo The Internet is for Cats will leave you with a new appreciation for the human social practices behind the animal images you encounter online

Deep Learning Cookbook Douwe Osinga, 2018-06-05 Deep learning doesn't have to be intimidating. Until recently, this machine learning method required years of study, but with frameworks such as Keras and TensorFlow, software engineers without a background in machine learning can quickly enter the field. With the recipes in this cookbook, you'll learn how to solve deep learning problems for classifying and generating text, images, and music. Each chapter consists of several recipes needed to complete a single project, such as training a music recommending system. Author Douwe Osinga also provides a chapter with half a dozen techniques to help you if you're stuck. Examples are written in Python, with code available on GitHub as a set of Python notebooks. You'll learn how to create applications that will serve real users. Use word embeddings to calculate text similarity. Build a movie recommender system based on Wikipedia links. Learn how AIs see the world by visualizing their internal state. Build a model to suggest emojis for pieces of text. Reuse pretrained networks to build an inverse image search service. Compare how GANs, autoencoders, and LSTMs generate icons. Detect music styles and index song collections.
