Knapp, Stella

Demesticha, 2016-08-25 Mediterranean Connections focuses on the origin and development of maritime transport containers from the Early Bronze through early Iron Age periods ca 3200 700 BC Analysis of this category of objects broadens our understanding of ancient Mediterranean interregional connections including the role that shipwrecks seafaring and coastal communities played in interaction and exchange These containers have often been the subject of specific and detailed pottery studies but have seldom been examined in the context of connectivity and trade in the Aegean and eastern Mediterranean This broad study considers the likely origins of these types of vessels traces their development and spread throughout the Aegean and eastern Mediterranean as archetypal organic bulk cargo containers discusses the wider impact on Mediterranean connections transport and trade over a period of 2 500 years covering the Bronze and early Iron Ages Classical and Near Eastern archaeologists and historians as well as maritime archaeologists will find this extensively researched volume an important addition to their library Roads in the Deserts of Roman Egypt Maciej

Paprocki, 2019-07-19 Egypt under the Romans 30 BCE 3rd century CE was a period when local deserts experienced an unprecedented flurry of activity In the Eastern Desert a marked increase in desert traffic came from imperial prospecting quarrying activities and caravans transporting wares to and from the Red Sea ports In the Western Desert resilient camels slowly became primary beasts of burden in desert travel enabling caravaneers to lengthen daily marching distances across previously inhospitable dunes Desert road archaeology has used satellite imaging landscape studies and network analysis to plot desert trail networks with greater accuracy however it is often difficult to date roadside installations and thus assess how these networks evolved in scope and density in reaction to climatic social and technological change Roads in the Deserts of Roman Egypt examines evidence for desert roads in Roman Egypt and assesses Roman influence on the road density in two select desert areas the central and southern section of the Eastern Desert and the central Marmarican Plateau and discusses geographical and social factors influencing road use in the period demonstrating that Roman overseers of these lands adapted remarkably well to local desert conditions improving roads and developing the trail network Crucially the author reconceptualises desert trails as linear corridor structures that follow expedient routes in the desert landscape passing through at least two functional nodes attracting human traffic be those water sources farmlands mines quarries trade hubs military installations or actual settlements The route of least resistance across the desert varied from period to period according to the available road infrastructure and beasts of burden employed Roman administration in Egypt not only increased the density of local desert node networks but also facilitated internodal connections with camel caravans and transformed the Sahara by establishing new or embellishing existing nodes effectively funnelling desert traffic into discernible corridors Significantly not all desert areas of Egypt are equally suited for anthropogenic development but almost all have been optimised in one way or another with road installations built for added comfort and safety of travellers Accordingly the study of how Romans successfully adapted to desert travel is of wider significance to the study of deserts and ongoing expansion due to global warming

MAP Camp Project "Fuka-Matrouh", Egypt , Biblical Peoples and Ethnicity Ann E. Killebrew, 2012-09-01 Ancient Israel did not emerge within a vacuum but rather came to exist alongside various peoples including Canaanites Egyptians and Philistines Indeed Israel's very proximity to these groups has made it difficult until now to distinguish the archaeological traces of early Israel and other contemporary groups Through an analysis of the results from recent excavations in light of relevant historical and later biblical texts this book proposes that it is possible to identify these peoples and trace culturally or ethnically defined boundaries in the archaeological record Features of late second millennium B C E culture are critically examined in their historical and biblical contexts in order to define the complex social boundaries of the early Iron Age and reconstruct the diverse material world of these four peoples Of particular value to scholars archaeologists and historians this volume will also be a standard reference and resource for students and other readers interested in the emergence of early Israel

No One Sleeps in Alexandria Ibrāhīm 'Abd al-Majīd, 2006 This sweeping novel depicts the intertwined lives of an assortment of Egyptians Muslims and Copts northerners and southerners men and women as they begin to settle in Egypt's great second city and explores how the Second World War starting in supposedly faraway Europe comes crashing down on them affecting their lives in fateful ways Central to the novel is the story of a striking friendship between Sheikh Magd al Din a devout Muslim with peasant roots in northern Egypt and Dimyan a Copt with roots in southern Egypt in their journey of survival and self discovery Woven around this narrative are the stories of other characters in the city in the villages or in the faraway desert closer to the fields of combat And then there is the story of Alexandria itself as written by history as experienced by its denizens and as touched by the war Throughout the author captures the cadences of everyday life in the Alexandria of the early 1940s and boldly explores the often delicate question of religious differences in depth and on more than one level No One Sleeps in Alexandria adds an authentically Egyptian vision of Alexandria to the many literary but mainly Western Alexandrias we know already it may be the same space in which Cavafy Forster and Durrell move but it is certainly not the same world     Secret Chamber Revisited Robert Bauval,2014-10-09 A firsthand behind the scene account of the controversies surrounding modern explorations at Giza Investigates the recent scandals at Giza and claims of secret excavations and tunneling inside the Great Pyramid Reveals the historical evidence in support of secret chambers in the Great Pyramid and beneath the Great Sphinx Exposes the secret agendas behind the latest explorations on the Giza plateau Since 1993 Robert Bauval has been embroiled in the many controversies involving the search for the lost treasures of the pyramid builders and the quest for the legendary Hall of Records of Atlantis The strange but true story that he unfolds implicates American business moguls the prestigious National Geographic Society several Ivy League universities the Edgar Cayce Foundation the Freemasons Christian fundamentalists Zionists and the Egyptian government In this fully updated edition of Secret Chamber including new color photographs Robert Bauval pursues his in depth investigation of clandestine events at Giza and the role played by the controversial ex Minister of Antiquities Dr Zahi Hawass What lies behind the mysterious doors at the end of the star shafts in the Great Pyramid What do the mysterious inscriptions found behind the Gantenbrink door mean What is the real purpose of the Relief Chambers and the red ochre graffiti in them Who is behind the secretly tunneling and excavating in these chambers and why Is there really a hidden Hall of Records from Atlantis beneath the Great Sphinx Is the Great Pyramid just a tomb or does it serve a higher purpose involving a lost science of immortality Why do the ancient texts ascribe the Pyramid's design to the supreme god of wisdom Thoth the writer of the fabled Books of Hermes Will the Great Pyramid prove to be the missing link to our true origins or a metaphysical machine to access the world beyond Providing a firsthand account of the strange events that have taken place at the Giza plateau in the last three decades Bauval reveals the hidden agendas behind these events and raises important questions about the meaning of Egypt's ancient structures and the very origins of civilization     Dynamics of Production in the Ancient Near East Juan Carlos Moreno Garcia,2016-10-11 The transition between the 2nd and the 1st millennium BC was an era of deep economic changes in the ancient Near East An increasing

monetization of transactions a broader use of silver the management of the resources of temples through entrepreneurs the development of new trade circuits and an expanding private small scale economy transformed the role previously played by institutions such as temples and royal palaces The 17 essays collected here analyze the economic transformations which affected the old dominant powers of the Late Bronze Age their adaptation to a new economic environment the emergence of new economic actors and the impact of these changes on very different social sectors and geographic areas from small communities in the oases of the Egyptian Western Desert to densely populated urban areas in Mesopotamia Egypt was not an exception Traditionally considered as a conservative and highly hierarchical and bureaucratic society Egypt shared nevertheless many of these characteristics and tried to adapt its economic organization to the challenges of a new era In the end the emergence of imperial super powers Assyria Babylonia Persia and to a lesser extent Kushite and Saite Egypt can be interpreted as the answer of former palatial organizations to the economic and geopolitical conditions of the early Iron Age A new order where competition for the control of flows of wealth and of strategic trading areas appears crucial Costumes of Egypt Shahira Mehrez, 2000-12-31 Costumes of Egypt The Lost Legacies sums up decades of Shahira Mehrez's research it is a four volume work recording and tracing the origin of hitherto undocumented ways of dressing and jewelry of Egyptian women most of which have today become obsolete The costumes surveyed in this first volume establish the fact that irrespective of distant geographic locations beyond religious and ethnic diversity and throughout thousands of years of history and successive civilizations Nubians Nile Valley peasants Bedouins and oasis dwellers both Christian and Muslim were heirs to the same legacy Old and new emblems were melted into one tradition defining a multifaceted but harmonious Egyptian identity This tradition provides undeniable and tangible proof of the unity of the country and bears witness to the fact that throughout history these various communities were the different parts of a multicultural and pluralistic nation

Suit, 2020-05-14 In Qur'anic Matters Natalia Suit explores the materiality of books focusing on the mushaf With its paper binding ink and script the mushaf is not simply a carrier of the Qur'anic text but by the virtue of its material body it also has the ability to engender reformulations of religious knowledge and practice Reading the Qur'an on a screen of a phone for example does not require the same forms of ritual ablutions as reading a printed text The rules of purity limiting the access to the Qur'anic text for menstruating woman change when the Qur'anic text is mediated by digital bytes instead of paper Qur'anic Matters spans the time between two important technological shifts the introduction of printed Qur'anic books in Egypt in the early nineteenth century and the digitization of the Qur'an almost two centuries later Throughout Natalia Suit weaves together the theological legal economic and social presences of the Qur'anic books into a single account She argues that the message and the materiality of the object are not separate from each other nor are they separate from the human bodies with which they come in contact
