Marx And Other Four Letter Words:

Marx and Other Four-Letter Words Georgina Blakeley, Valerie Bryson, 2005-04-20 Karl Marx's classic definitions of class and society under capitalism are still widely used today. Ideas such as class, revolution, production and oppression are employed across a broad range of academic subjects reaching beyond politics, economics and sociology. Yet these concepts within a specifically Marxist framework are not always easy to understand. This book is an ideal student introduction that explains in clear and concise chapters the precise meaning and implications of each of Marx's key concepts. Furthermore, the contributors show how these ideas continue to be relevant and how they relate to modern society. The contributors include leading academics in the field of political science. Outlining clearly what each concept means, they move on to situate it within cutting edge contemporary political theory. Concepts include historical materialism, capitalism, class, the state, imperialism, the division of labour, oppression, production and reproduction, revolution, working class, internationalism, equality and democracy.

Marx and Other Four-Letter Words Georgina Blakeley, Valerie Bryson, 2005-04-20 A new look at the essence of Marxist theory questioning the interpretations made by Engels and Lenin.

The Legacy of Marxism Matthew Johnson, 2012-06-28 Marx's influence is evident in a range of often incompatible and contradictory political movements and intellectual approaches. With a number of those movements now discredited by the experience of really existing socialism and the academic left gravitating towards approaches which eschew authoritarian, essentialist and ethnocentric elements of orthodox Marxism, the relevance of Marx has been called into question. Featuring chapters by Norman Geras, Joseph Femia, Alan Johnson, Paul Bowman, Ronaldo Munck, Lawrence Wilde, Mark Cowling, Chengyi Peng, Terrell Carver, Oliver Harrison and Stuart Sim, this book is an attempt to examine means by which the left can make real substantive and positive contributions to contemporary debate. The collection examines such topics as the meaning of Marxism and pluralism within the left, Marxism's scientific credentials, the revolution, democracy and cultural studies, the politics of development, the relationship between Marxism and global capitalism, the global justice debate and Marx's rejection of moral discourse, the analysis of crime and criminal justice, Chinese society and constitutional diversity and the relationship between Marxism and post-Marxism.

The impact of feminism on political concepts and debates Georgina Blakeley, Valerie Bryson, 2024-06-04 Many feminists have engaged with the man-made concepts and approaches of traditional political analysis to produce an increasingly sophisticated and wide-ranging body of thought. The starting point of this book is the belief that such work is not simply something for the girls; rather, it has profound and complex implications without which our understanding of political processes and ideas would be impoverished. This book provides an accessible overview and assessment of the impact of recent feminism by bringing together leading feminist and pro-feminist political theorists and analysts to focus on key concepts such as rationality, citizenship, democracy and democratisation, development and empowerment. Each chapter takes a mainstream concept and examines both the critical debates around it and feminist reactions/critiques. It then analyses the significance and implications of feminism for the concept considers whether it can simply be extended to include women or whether it should be radically transformed or even abandoned and assesses whether feminist input has become part of the mainstream debate or remains marginalised Marxism and Criminological Theory Mark Cowling, 2008-11-03 This volume looks at Marxist thought in criminology the work of Willem Bonger Georg Rusche and Otto Kirchheimer and assesses the role of Marxist analysis in areas such as Critical Criminology and Left Realism Arguing that Marxism is relevant in the post Soviet era it offers a toolkit of Marxist theories and how to use them Using Political Ideas Barbara Goodwin, 2016-12-19 Using Political Ideas is a unique blend of political philosophy political theory and history of political thought It combines a critique of the major ideologies of recent and contemporary society with an analysis of the ideas that form the very stuff of political debate By exposing the interplay between ideas and ideologies it shows why political opponents often speak at cross purposes and why rational agreement is so hard to achieve in politics The sixth edition of this well respected and widely known text will be welcomed by those interested in questions such as Is equality more important than personal freedom Does the majority have the right to dictate to the minority in multicultural society Is nationalism a progressive force in the world Politics does not stand still there are always new controversies and ideological conflicts and the climate of discussion changes The 6th edition of this best selling book is fully updated and includes a new chapter on authoritarian ideologies to reflect the growing extreme right wing politics in parts of Europe This edition also provides a variety of new learning features a comprehensive glossary detailed lists of further reading and a list of questions for discussion Capitalism, Technology, Labor Greg Albo, Leo Panitch, Alan Zuege, 2020-08-04 The Socialist Register has been at the forefront of intellectual enquiry and strategic debate on the left for five decades This expertly curated collection analyzes technological innovation against the backdrop of the recurrent crises and forms of class struggle distinctive to capitalism As we enter what some term the fourth industrial revolution and both mainstream commentators and the left grapple with the implications of rapid technological development this volume is a timely and crucial resource for those looking to build a political strategy attentive to sweeping changes in how we produce goods and live our lives Racism After Apartheid Vishwas Satgar, 2019-03-01 Racism after Apartheid volume four of the Democratic Marxism series brings together leading scholars and activists from around the world studying and challenging racism In eleven thematically rich and conceptually informed chapters the contributors interrogate the complex nexus of questions surrounding race and relations of oppression as they are played out in the global South and global North Their work challenges Marxism and anti racism to take these lived realities seriously and consistently struggle to build human solidarities Transforming Classes Leo Panitch, Greg Albo, 2014-12-22 For more than half a century the Socialist Register has brought together some of the sharpest thinkers from around the globe to address the pressing issues of our time Founded by Ralph Miliband and John Saville in London in 1964 SR continues their commitment to independent and thought provoking analysis free of dogma or sectarian positions

Transforming Classes is a compendium of socialist thought today and a clarifying account of class struggle in the early twenty first century from China to the United States 100 Years of Permanent Revolution Bill Dunn,Hugo Radice,2006-05-20 One hundred years on from their first appearance in Leon Trotsky s Results and Prospects this is a critical re evaluation of two key Marxist theories uneven and combined development and permanent revolution It brings together a formidable array of Marxist intellectuals from across the world including Daniel Bensaid Michael L wy Hillel Ticktin and Patrick Bond Marx saw societies progressing through distinct historical stages feudal bourgeois and communist Trotsky advanced this model by considering how countries at different stages of development influence each other Developed countries colonise less developed countries and exploit their people and resources Elsewhere even as many were kept in poverty the influence of foreign capital and state led industrialisation produced novel economic forms and prospects for political alliances and change The contributors show how 100 years on from its original publication Trotsky s theories are hugely useful for understanding today s globalised economy dominated by US imperialism Sexuality, Gender and Power Anna G. Jónasdóttir,Valerie Bryson,Kathleen B. Jones,2011 Including studies of the sexual self and sexual subjectivities socio political processes of normativization and social structures of sexuality and gender in national and transnational contexts this book offers a view of sexuality as a broad and complex dimension of historically changing social cultural and human material reality EBL Power and Everyday Practices, Second Edition Deborah Brock,Aryn Martin,Rebecca Raby,Mark P. Thomas,2019-08-19 Rather than view social inequality as a problem for marginalized populations Power and Everyday Practices turns the spotlight on the ways power and privilege are produced and reproduced in our everyday worlds Critical Social Theory and the End of Work Edward Granter,2016-04-22 Critical Social Theory and the End of Work examines the development and sociological significance of the idea that work is being eliminated through the use of advanced production technology Granter s engagement with the work of key American and European figures such as Marx Marcuse Gorz Habermas and Negri focuses his arguments for the abolition of labour as a response to the current socio historical changes affecting our work ethic and consumer ideology By combining history of ideas with social theory this book considers how the end of work thesis has developed and has been critically implemented in the analysis of modern society This book will appeal to scholars of sociology history of ideas social and cultural theory as well as those working in the fields of critical management and sociology of work Emancipatory Feminism in the Time of Covid-19 Hawzhin Azeez,Asanda Benya,Christine Bischoff,Jane Cherry,Jacklyn Cock,Jane Mbithi-Dikgol,Samantha Hargreaves,Courtney Morgan,Inge Konik,Sonia Phalatse,Busi Sibeko,Dineo Skosana,2023-07 The Covid pandemic threw into stark relief the multi dimensional threats created by neoliberal capitalism Government measures to alleviate the crisis were largely inadequate leaving women in particular working class women to carry the increased burden of care work while at the same time placing themselves in direct risk as frontline workers to carry the increased burden of care work while at the same time placing themselves in direct risk as frontline workers

Emancipatory Feminism in the time of Covid 19 The seventh volume in the Democratic Marxism series explores how many subaltern women working class peasant and indigenous Challenge hegemonic neoliberal feminism through their resistance to ordinary capitalist practices and ecological extractivism Contributors cover womens responses in a wide range of contexts from women leading the defence of Rojava the Kurdish region of Syria to approaches to anti capitalist ecology and building food secure pathways in communities across Africa to championing climate justice in mining affected communities and transforming gender divisions in mining labour practices in South Africa To contesting macro economic policies affecting the working conditions of nurses Their practices demonstrate a feminist understanding of the current systemic crises of capitalism and patriarchal oppression What is offered in this collection is a subaltern women s grassroots resistance focused on advancing and enabling solidarity based political projects deepening democracy building capacities and alliances to advance new feminist alternatives

Gender and the politics of time Valerie Bryson, 2007-11-21 Women s increased role in the labour market has combined with concerns about the damaging effects of long working hours to push time related issues up the policy agenda in many Western nations This wide ranging and accessible book assesses policy alternatives in the light of feminist theory and factual evidence The book introduces mainstream ideas on the nature and political significance of time and re frames them from a feminist perspective to provide a critical overview of policies in Western welfare states Themes covered include gender differences in time use and the impact of time poverty on women s citizenship the need to value time spent giving and receiving care the social meanings of time and whether we can talk about women s time and men s time and the role of the past in framing policy options today The book is essential reading for all those interested in gender inequality time use or work rest of life balance It will be an invaluable resource for students and academics throughout the social sciences

Missing Links in Labour Geography Ann Cecilie Bergene, Sylvi B. Endresen, 2016-12-05 Addressing a number of missing links in the analysis of labour and its geographies this volume examines how theoretical perspectives on both labour in general and the organizations of the labour movement in particular can be refined and redefined Issues of agency power and collective mobilizations are examined and illustrated via a wide range of case studies from the global north and global south in order to develop a better and fuller appreciation of labour market processes in developed and developing countries

Deliberative Democracy Stephen Elstub, 2014-01-29 Deliberative democracy is the darling of democratic theory and political theory more generally and generates international interest In this book a number of leading democratic theorists address the key issues that surround the theory and practice of deliberative democracy They outline the problems faced by deliberative democracy in the context of the available empirical evidence survey potential solutions and put forward new and innovative ideas to resolve these issues

Dust and Dignity Erynn Masi de Casanova, 2019-09-15 What makes domestic work a bad job even after efforts to formalize and improve working conditions Erynn Masi de Casanova s case study based partly on collaborative research conducted with Ecuador's pioneer domestic workers organization examines three reasons for persistent exploitation. First, the tasks of social reproduction are devalued. Second, informal work arrangements escape regulation. And third, unequal class relations are built into this type of employment. Accessible to advocates and policymakers as well as academics, this book provides both theoretical discussions about domestic work and concrete ideas for improving women's lives. Drawing on workers' stories of lucha (struggle) and sacrificio (sacrifice), Dust and Dignity offers a new take on an old occupation. From the intimate experience of being a body out of place in an employer's home to the common work histories of Ecuadorian women in different cities to the possibilities for radical collective action at the national level, Casanova shows how and why women do this stigmatized and precarious work and how they resist exploitation in the search for dignified employment. From these searing stories of workers' lives, Dust and Dignity identifies patterns in domestic workers' experiences that will be helpful in understanding the situation of workers elsewhere and offers possible solutions for promoting and ensuring workers' rights that have relevance far beyond Ecuador.

Injustice, Memory and Faith in Human Rights Kalliopi Chainoglou, Barry Collins, Michael Phillips, John Strawson, 2017-07-20. This multi-disciplinary collection interrogates the role of human rights in addressing past injustices. The volume draws on legal scholars, political scientists, anthropologists, and political philosophers grappling with the weight of the memory of historical injustices arising from conflicts in Europe, the Middle East, and Australasia. It examines the role of human rights as legal doctrine, rhetoric, and policy as developed by states, international organizations, regional groups, and non-governmental bodies. The authors question whether faith in human rights is justified as balm to heal past injustice or whether such faith nourishes both victimhood and self-justification. These issues are explored through three discrete sections: moments of memory and injustice; addressing injustice and questions of faith. In each of these sections, authors address the manner in which memory of past conflicts and injustice haunts our contemporary understanding of human rights. The volume questions whether the expectation that human rights law can deal with past injustice has undermined the development of an emancipatory politics of human rights for our current world.

Okinawa Under Occupation Miyume Tanji, Daniel Broudy, 2017-10-27. This book examines classical and modern interpretations of education in the context of contemporary Okinawa as a site of neoliberal military-industrial development. Considering how media educate consumers to accept the plans and policies of the powerful, it questions current concepts of development and the ideology that informs national security policies. The book closely examines the signs, symbols, and rhetorical manipulations of language used in media to rationalize and justify a kind of development which is the destruction of the environment in Henoko. Through careful analysis of public relations literature and public discourse, it challenges the presupposition that Okinawa is the Keystone of the Pacific and necessarily the only location in Japan to host U.S. military presence. Forced to co-operate in America's military hegemony and global war-fighting action, Okinawa is at the very center of the growing tension between Beijing and Washington and its clients in Tokyo and Seoul. The book represents a case study of the discourse used in society to wield control over this larger project which is a more developed and militarized Okinawa. Considering how history is given shape through external power structures and discourse practices that seek control over both historical and contemporary narratives it reveals how public attitudes and perceptions are shaped through educational policies and media.
