Marxism Modernity And Postcolonial Studies:

Marxism, Modernity and Postcolonial Studies Crystal Bartolovich, Neil Lazarus, 2002-07-11 At a time when even much of the political left seems to believe that transnational capitalism is here to stay Marxism Modernity and Postcolonial Studies refuses to accept the inevitability of the so called New World Order By giving substantial attention to topics such as globalisation racism and modernity it provides a specifically Marxist intervention into postcolonial and cultural studies An international team of contributors locate a common ground of issues engaging Marxist and postcolonial critics alike Arguing that Marxism is not the inflexible monolithic irrelevance some critics assume it to be this collection aims to open avenues of debate especially on the crucial concept of modernity which have been closed off by the widespread neglect of Marxist analysis in postcolonial studies Politically focused at times polemical and always provocative this book is a major contribution to contemporary debates on literary theory cultural studies and the definition of postcolonial studies Modernist

Literature and Postcolonial Studies Rajeew S. Patke, 2013-05-20 Provides a fresh account of modernist writing in a perspective based on the reading strategies developed by postcolonial studies Neither modernity nor colonialism and likewise neither postmodernity nor postcoloniality can be properly understood without recognition of their intertwined development This book interprets modernity as an asymmetrically global phenomenon complexly connected to the course of Western imperialism and demonstrates how the impact of Western modernism produced new developments in writing from all the former colonies of Europe and the US These developments constitute the afterlife of Western modernism The various ways in which the aesthetic ideologies and writing strategies of Western modernism have been adapted transposed and modified by some of the most innovative writers of the twentieth century is demonstrated in the book through a set of case studies each of which juxtaposes a canonical modernist text with a postcolonial text that shows how modernist modes metamorphosed in interaction with the turbulent and volatile realities of colonies and new nations struggling to arrive at a modernity of their own in contexts marked by colonial histories Thus Kafka's allegories are juxtaposed with the use of allegory in writers like Salman Rushdie and J M Coetzee the gendered modernity of Virginia Woolf is juxtaposed with the disturbing and powerful fictions of writers such as Jean Rhys and Katherine Mansfield the intellectualized and urbanized spirituality of T S Eliot's The Waste Land is re-read in the revisionist contexts created by the brilliant and troubled urban spirituality of writers such as Arun Kolatkar from India and a text such as The Woman Who Had Two Navels from the Philippines Globalization and Postcolonialism Sankaran Krishna, 2009 Globalization has become a widely used buzzword yet popular discussions often miss its deeper realities This book offers the first clear explanation of the impact of colonialist legacies in a globalized world in an era defined by the War on Terror Sankaran Krishna explores the history of the relationship between Western dominance and the forms of resistance that have emerged to challenge it Moving beyond the simple formulation of They hate us because we are rich we are free and they are crazy he asks What have we done that might generate such animosity What face has the United States presented to the developing world over time Krishna argues that we live on an interrelated globe that history matters a great deal in constructing contemporary realities and that others create stories or narratives about the world based on their experiences just as we do based on ours He contends that the interactions between the West and the non West have not been politically innocent economically egalitarian or culturally benign in their consequences Presenting a lucid exploration of the intertwined histories of both globalization and postcolonialism this book uses compelling real world examples to make sense of this crucial relationship

Marxism, Postcolonial Theory, and the Future of Critique

Sharae Deckard, Rashmi Varma, 2018-09-13 Using the aesthetic and political concerns of Parry's oeuvre as a touchstone this book explores new directions for postcolonial studies Marxist literary criticism and world literature in the contemporary moment seeking to re-imagine the field and alongside it new possibilities for left critique It is the first volume of essays focusing on the field-defining intellectual legacy of the literary scholar Benita Parry As a leading critic of the post-structuralist turn within postcolonial studies Parry has not only brought Marxism and postcolonial theory into a productive albeit tense dialogue but has reinvigorated the field by bringing critical questions of resistance and struggle to bear on aesthetic forms The book's aim is two-fold first to evaluate Parry's formative influence within postcolonial studies and its interface with Marxist literary criticism and second to explore new terrains of scholarship opened up by Parry's work It provides a critical overview of Parry's key interventions such as her contributions to colonial discourse theory her debate with Spivak on subaltern consciousness and representation her critique of post-apartheid reconciliation and neoliberalism in South Africa her materialist critique of writers such as Kipling Conrad and Salih her work on liberation theory resistance and radical agency as well as more recent work on the aesthetics of peripheral modernity The volume contains cutting-edge work on peripheral aesthetics the world literary system critiques of global capitalism and capitalist modernity and the resurgence of Marxism communism and liberation theory by a range of established and new scholars who represent a dissident and new school of thought within postcolonial studies more generally It concludes with the first ever detailed interview with Benita Parry about her activism political commitments and her life and work as a scholar

Lim,2008-06-30 Overcoming Passion examines the passion for race in contemporary Malaysia Broadly the essays look at the disjunction between the falsity of race as a scientific category and the entrenched belief that race determines one s rightful identity They probe the ways in which individual minds and institutions of power fail or refuse to recognise and act in accordance with the knowledge that race exists only insofar as its existence is sustained by the believer s belief in it The contributors draw from a burgeoning but under examined archive of Malaysia related social texts ranging from media and technological discourse popular culture and literary production to historical writings produced originally in English Malay and Mandarin Chinese The New India K. Chowdhury,2011-01-31 This book looks critically at various constructions of the Indian citizen from 1991 to 2007 the period when economic liberalization became established government policy Examining differing images of citizenship and its rules and rituals Chowdhury sheds light on the complex interactions between culture and political economy in the New India Leading Works in Law and Social Justice Faith Gordon,Daniel Newman,2021-03-23 This book assesses the role of social justice in legal scholarship and its potential future development by focusing upon the leading works of the discipline The rise of socio legal studies over recent decades has led to a more interdisciplinary approach to the study of law which prioritises placing law into its wider social context Recognising the role that culture economics and politics play in the development of law is important in order to fully understand the position and impact of law in society Innovative and written in an engaging way this collection includes leading and emerging scholars from across the world Each contributor has been invited to select and analyse a leading work a publication which has for them shed light on the way that law and social justice are interlinked and has influenced their own understanding scholarship advocacy and in some instances activism The book also includes a specially written foreword and afterword which critically reflect upon the contributions of the leading works to consider the role that social justice has played in law and legal education and the likely future path for social justice in legal scholarship This book will be an essential resource for all those working in the areas of social justice socio legal studies and legal philosophy It will be of wider interest to the social sciences more generally

Global Inequalities Beyond Occidentalism Manuela Boatcă, 2016-04-22 Based on theoretical developments in research on world systems analysis transnational migration postcolonial and decolonial perspectives whilst considering continuities of inequality patterns in the context of colonial and postcolonial realities Global Inequalities Beyond Occidentalism proposes an original framework for the study of the long term reproduction of inequalities under global capitalism With attention to the critical assessment of both Marxist and Weberian perspectives this book examines the wider implications of transferring classical approaches to inequality to a twenty first century context calling for a reconceptualisation of inequality that is both theoretically informed and methodologically consistent and able to cater for the implications of shifts from national and Western structures to global structures Engaging with approaches to the study of class gender racial and ethnic inequalities at the global level this innovative work adopts a relational perspective in the study of social inequalities that is able to reveal how historical interdependencies between world regions have translated as processes of inequality production and reproduction As such it will be of interest to scholars of sociology political and social theory and anthropology concerned with questions of globalisation and inequality

Deconstruction and the Postcolonial Michael Syrotinski, 2007-09-01 As postcolonial studies shifts to a more comparative approach one of the most intriguing developments has been within the Francophone world A number of genealogical lines of influence are now being drawn connecting the work of the three figures most associated with the emergence of postcolonial theory Homi Bhabha Edward Said and Gayatri Spivak to an earlier generation of French predominantly poststructuralist theorists Within this emerging narrative of intellectual influences the importance of the thought of Jacques Derrida and the status of deconstruction generally has been acknowledged but has not until now been adequately accounted for In Deconstruction and the Postcolonial Michael Syrotinski teases out the underlying conceptual tensions and theoretical stakes of what he terms a deconstructive postcolonialism and argues that postcolonial studies stands to gain ground in terms of its political forcefulness and philosophical rigour by turning back to and not away from deconstruction

The Capitalist University Henry Heller, 2016-10-20 Can the ivory tower rise above capitalism Or are the humanities and social sciences merely handmaids to the American imperial order The Capitalist University surveys the history of higher education in the United States over the last century revealing how campuses and classrooms have become battlegrounds in the struggle between liberatory knowledge and commodified learning Henry Heller takes readers from the ideological apparatus of the early Cold War through the revolts of the 1960s and on to the contemporary malaise of postmodernism neoliberalism and the so called knowledge economy of academic capitalism He reveals how American educational institutions have been forced to decide between teaching students to question the dominant order and helping to perpetuate it The Capitalist University presents a comprehensive overview of a topic which affects millions of students in America and increasingly across the globe Marx, Marxism and the Question of Eurocentrism Kolja Lindner, 2022-04-13 This book mediates between postcolonial positions that criticize Marxist approaches and Marx's writings for their Eurocentrism and defenders of Marx who claim that this accusation is a myth In different contributions to this volume Kolja Lindner pleads for a differentiated assessment of the whole of Marx's work including less known manuscripts and a theoretical reconstruction of various elements that have come into the focus of postcolonial critique ethnocentrism Orientalism false universalism and the oblivion of modernity's global entanglement Against this background two opportunities simultaneously arise Marx's Eurocentrism can be deconstructed and his growing awareness of global developments and cosmopolitan struggles established Contemporary Literary and Cultural Theory Michael Groden, Martin Kreiswirth, Imre Szeman, 2012-10-05 Contemporary Literary and Cultural Theory The Johns Hopkins Guide is a clear accessible and detailed overview of the most important thinkers and topics in the field Written by specialists from across disciplines its entries cover contemporary theory from Adorno to i ek providing an informative and reliable introduction to a vast challenging area of inquiry Materials include newly commissioned articles along with essays drawn from The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory and Criticism known as the definitive resource for students and scholars of literary theory and for philosophical reflection on literature and culture
